

Inclusive Community Resources

Last updated 16 Oct 2009

The bulk of this material is focused upon people with disabilities finding a place in the wider community. I have seen some of these items and been in contact with some of these people. Others are no more than titles that have caught my eye, so I cannot recommend them to you! Details may be incomplete, while overseas phone numbers or prices may be out of date. The comments are usually what others have written about the item. After the bibliography comes a contact list and then a list of videos. Where there are several items by the same author, they are listed chronologically by publication date. If you send me enough additions or corrections, I shall produce a further update!

Peter Bates, National Development Team for Inclusion peter.bates@ndti.org.uk

Publications

???? - Unknown author

(?) (2002) Into Higher Education is priced at £12.50 for professionals and £2.50 for disabled students and can be ordered from Skill, Tel: 0207 450 0620, Email: skill@skill.org.uk.

(?) (2002?) The Road Ahead, a resource on strategies for improving the transition of people with disabilities to adult life. $32.95 <http://www.trninc.com/roadahead.htm>

(?) (2002) Whose Life Is It Anyway?, a new instructional CD on person-centred planning, covers circles of support, the PATH process and MAPS with video, text, audio and self-study activities. $49.99 <http://www.trninc.com/whoselifesit.htm>

(?) (2002?) Planning on....a guide for facilitators: A manual offering detailed, step by step suggestions and strategies for people facilitating person-centered planning. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £12.

(?) (2002?) Collage: Sketches of a Support Circle: A collection of interviews with members of one circle including why they become involved, why they stay and what they give to and receive from the group. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £10

(?) (2002?) Friends indeed!: A handbook on planning specifically about friendships. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £12.

(?) (2002?) SAMPLINGS: Seven Stories of Personal Planning: Stories exemplifying issues involved in facilitating and implementing personal planning. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £12

(?) (2002?) Organizational Issues and Personal Planning: A two-tape package outlining issues and solutions for organizations to support person-centered planning through policy and procedures. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £10.

(?) (2002?) Practical Ways to Use Stories for Individual Support & Organizational Change: An audiotape offering ways for using stories to create positive change in supporting people. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £9.

(?) (2002?) Shifting the Balance: Steps and Strategies to Increase Community Support: An audiotape providing many strategies to shift more focus from caregiving to connecting. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. £9.

(?) (2002?) Starting and Sustaining Circles of Support: An audiotape or CD about how to create a support circle and maintain it over time. Available from Susannah Joyce, Director, Realizations. Audiotape £8, CD £10.

(?) Accommodations in Higher Education under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), A No-Nonsense Guide for Clinicians, Educators, Administrators and Lawyers. $20.66 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Aging, Rights, and Quality of Life, Prospects for Older People with Developmental Disabilities $44.10 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Choosing Outcomes and Accommodations for Children (COACH), A Guide to Educational Planning for Students with Disabilities $34.16 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Communication Supports Checklist, For Programs Serving Individuals with Severe Disabilities $32.36 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Community Recreation & People with Disabilities, Strategies for Inclusion $35.10 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Crossing the River, Creating a Conceptual Revolution in Community and Disability. In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042, cost $22.46

(?) Everyday Social Interaction, A Program for People with Disabilities $37.76 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) From Barriers to Bridges, A Community Action Guide for Congregations and People with Disabilities. In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042. $9.

(?) Inclusive Child Care for Infants and Toddlers, Meeting Individual and Special Needs $31.46 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042

(?) Life Beyond the Classroom, Transition Strategies for Young People with Disabilities $53.96 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Loving Justice, The ADA and the Religious Community $7.00 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Preschool Inclusion $40.50 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) Sibshops, Workshops for Siblings of Children with Special Needs $28.80 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) That All May Worship, An Interfaith Welcome To People With Disabilities $9.00 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

(?) The Transition Handbook, Strategies High School Teachers Use that Work! $31.46 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042

(?) Transcending Illusions, A Psycho-Spiritual Journey of the Soul of Parents of Health-Challenged Children $9.86 In June 2001, this could be ordered from Disability Resource (<http://www.disabilityresource.com/>). Phone: 1-800-695-4042.

AAAA

Aanes D, Haagenson L (1978) Normalisation: Attention to a Conceptual Disaster. Mental Retardation: 16(1), 55-6 This paper discusses the difference between Normalization as an end, and Normalization as a means to an end. It points out that non-normalizing means may be of greater utility in achieving a goal of normalization. It includes a small scale survey which indicates that practitioners are uncertain about the separate issues of normalization as a goal and normalization as a process.

Acock, A.C. and Hurlbert, J. S. (1990) "Social Network analysis: A structural perspective for family studies" Journal of Social and Personal Relationships Vol 7, p245-264.

Action for Advocacy (2006) Quality standards for advocacy schemes: based on the advocacy charter London: Action for Advocacy.

Adams, Rebecca G & Blieszner, Rosemary (1993) Resources for friendship intervention Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare. Vol 20, pp 159 – 175.

ADVANTAGE – A newsletter about ageing and developmental disabilities, Rehabilitation Research and Training Center on Aging and Mental Retardation, Institute on Disability and Human Development, College of Associated Health Professions, University of Illinois at Chicago, 1640 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, IL 60608-6904.

Ager A (1993) The Life Experiences Checklist: 1. Applications in staff training and programme Mental Handicap: 21(1), 7-9 Abstract: "Highlights applications of the Life Experiences Checklist (LEC) in the areas of staff training and program planning. In the former area, the use of the LEC as a means of reinforcing normalization-related concepts and encouraging attitudinal change is described. In the latter area particular attention is given to the way the LEC can assist in setting individual goals in neglected domains such as relationships. Using the LEC in this manner ensures that vital aspects of an individual's experience are addressed conjointly with more familiar issues such as the acquisition of skills."

Ager, A. (1990) The Life Experiences Checklist Windsor: NFER Nelson.

Ager, A. (1993) The Life Experiences Checklist 2: applications in evaluation and quality assurance Mental Handicap 21, pp46-48.

Ainscow, M. et al (1999) The Role of LEAs in developing inclusive policies and practices British Journal of Special Education, Vol.26, No.3, pp136-140 article

Alaszewski A, Ong BN (1990) Normalisation in Practice: Residential Care for Children with Profound Mental Handicap London: Routledge A description by various authors of the Croxteth Park Project in 1983. It is very good on practical issues of deinstitutionalization using normalization principles. A copy of the introduction is available in photocopy.

Alban-Metcalf B & Alban-Metcalf J. Bev & I wrote a chapter which includes a history of leadership in the Penguin book Psychology at Work, edited by Peter Warr, though I think you are referring to a paper that we are working on – draft copy attached. Also, there is a chapter in the report of the research we did for the SDO – Project 22/2002 available on their website. We are also in the process of writing a booklet on Engaging Leadership to be published by CIPD, probably in April 2008.

Albin, J.M. & Rhodes, L. (1993) Changeover to Community Employment: The Problem of Realigning Organisational Culture, Resources & Community Roles Univ. of Oregon article Information on the experience of organisations related to Changeover to S.E. orgs

Albin-Dean, J.E., & Mank,D. (1996) Continuous Improvement and Quality of Life: Lessons from new approaches to quality management Shalock, R.L. (ed) (1996) Quality of Life: Volume II Its Applications to Persons with Disabilities book Applying the principles and methods of new approaches to organisational management to quality of life

Albrecht G, Otto HU, Karstedt-Henke K, Bollert K (1991) Social prevention and the social sciences: Theoretical controversies, research problems, and evaluation strategies. Prevention and intervention in childhood and adolescence, 11. Berlin: Walter de Gruyter Includes chapter by Gildermeister

Allen, D. & Lowe, K. (1995) Providing intensive support to people with learning disabilities and challenging behaviour: a preliminary analysis of outcomes and costs Journal of Intellectual Disability Research Vol 39, Pt 1.

Allen, D. (1990) "Evaluation of a community based day service for people with profound mental handicaps and additional special needs" Mental Handicap Research 3,2, 179-195.

Allott, P, Loganathan L & Fulford KWM (Bill) (2002) Discovering hope for recovery Canadian Journal of Community Mental Health 21,2 13-33.

Alloway, R., & Bebbington, P. (1987) The buffer theory of social support - A review of the literature Psychological Medicine 17, 91-108.

Amado, A. N. (ed) (1993) Friendships and Community Connections between People with and without Developmental Disabilities Baltimore, Paul H Brookes.

Amado, Angela Novak and Lyon, Patrick (1992) "Listen, lady, this is my life": A book of stories about personal futures planning in Minnesota St Paul, Minnesota: Governor's Council of Developmental Disabilities.

Amado,A.N., Conklin, F., & Wells, J. (1990) Friends: A manual for connecting persons with disabilities and community members St Paul, Minnesota: Human Services Research and Development Center. Download from <http://www.mnddc.org/extra/publications.htm>

AMOSSHE (2001) Responding to student mental health issues: 'Duty of care' responsibilities for student services in higher education Winchester: Association of managers of student services in higher education.

Amundsen R, Dyer L, Henderson W, Rathbone-McCuan E (1991) Vacation Therapy: A Community Normalization Experience for Persons with long-term mental illness Psychological Rehabilitation Journal: 14(3), 81-91 Abstract: "Describes a social work program in which institutionalized patients plan and participate in vacations. The experience of becoming travellers provides patients with an alternative to their status inherent in being members of a stigmatized group. Case management provides concepts that frame the therapeutic use of vacations, including an expanded concept of environment, the promotion of feelings of competence, the use of self-determination, the use of the therapeutic community, and the importance of recreational activities. After the trips, patients may be more willing to explore resources in their own community as an outgrowth of the normalization process."

Anderson W, Gould T & Paul J (1986) We don't have any here: planning for ministries with people with disabilities in our communities Discipleship Resources. Available from AAMR.

Anderson, Jill (2005) mhnews: Mental Health in Higher Education Project. For newsletter, contact jill.anderson@nottingham.ac.uk

Anderson, P (1999) Human rights and democracy in schools: do they mean more than 'picking up litter and not killing whales'? International Journal of Children's Rights, Vol.7, pp185-205 article

Anderson, P (1999) Human rights and democracy in schools: do they mean more than 'picking up litter and not killing whales'? Int. Journal of Children's Rights, Vol7, p185-2

Angers M (1992) "Created" Communities and "Natural" Community. Special Issue: The Clubhouse Model Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal: 16(2), 117-123. Abstract: Discusses the similarities and differences between the Wolfensberger (W. Wolfensberger and L. Glenn, 1975) principle of normalization and the clubhouse model of psychiatric rehabilitation in providing rehabilitative services to their respective communities. While clubhouse programs feature the aggregation of individuals with similar disabilities in a special community, Wolfensberger favors the idea of rehabilitation in and by the natural community. It is argued that the differences between the 2 approaches include a concept of the restorative potential of so-called normal society compared with certain related communities, the clubhouse community in particular. These differences suggest different concepts of what constitutes a therapeutic relationship between the individual and society. It is concluded that since the natural community is often hostile to people with mental illness, the creation of a special nurturing society is necessary."

Angers, M.E. (1992) Created communities and the "natural" community Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 16, 2, 117-123.

Ansello, Edward F., Coogle, Constance L., and Wood, Joan B. (1997) Partners: Building inter-system cooperation in aging with developmental disabilities Richmond, Virginia: Virginia Center on Aging, Virginia Commonwealth University.

Anstorp, T. and Benum, K. (1985) "Social Network stimulation as a preventive method among middle-aged women in a neighbourhood of Oslo" International Journal of Family Psychiatry.

Anthony, W.A. and Blanch, A.K. (1987) Supported employment for persons who are psychiatrically disabled: An historical and conceptual perspective Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 11, (2) 5-23.

Anthony, W.A. and Unger, K.V. (1991) Supported education: An additional program resource for young adults with long term mental illness. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Antonak RF, Mulick JA (1987) The community imperative revisited. Transitions in mental retardation, Vol. 3. Norwood, NJ, USA: Ablex Publishing Corporation. Includes paper by Blatt

Argyle, Elaine, Fletcher-Brown, Ruth et al (2003) Can the arts be a preventative tool? Journal of Mental Health Promotion 2(1) 7-15, March 2003.

Arnstein, S. (1969) A Ladder of Citizen Participation" Journal of American Institute of Planners, July pp216-224.

Aronson E (1999) The social animal 8th Ed. New York: Worth Publishers.

Ashaye O, Fernando L, Kohen D, Mathew G, Orrell M. A five-year follow-up study of older long-stay clients with intellectual disability using the Disability Assessment Schedule. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1998 Apr;42 (Pt 2):131-6.

Ashman AF, Suttie JN. The social and community involvement of older Australians with intellectual disabilities. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1996 Apr;40 (Pt 2):120-9.

Association for Advocacy for Change through Training (?DATE) Changing Lives, Changing Communities Carlton South, Victoria, Australia: AACT. This booklet is an excellent introduction to normalization and SRV. It is written in a non-academic style and is easy to understand. It includes many simple examples of good practice.

Jane Aston, Jane; Rebecca Willison, Rebecca; Davis, Sara & Barkworth, Robert (2005) Employers and the New Deal for Disabled People - Qualitative research, Wave 2. Research Report No. 231. February 2005 114 pages. ISBN 1 84123 776 0. To view this document go to: <http://www.dwp.gov.uk/asd/asd5/rports2005-2006/rrep231.pdf> The New Deal for Disabled People (NDDP) is the major labour market programme for disabled people who want to find work. It began as a small pilot programme in 1998, was extended nationally in July 2001 and now forms a key part of the government's Welfare to Work strategy. The programme operates through a network of Job Brokers who aim to help disabled people and people with health conditions who wish to work to move from economic inactivity and into sustained employment. This report sets out the findings from the second wave of qualitative research with employers. It draws on interviews with 50 employers, all of whom were known to have taken part in NDDP, and had been nominated by Job Brokers as examples of good practice. It attempted to cover a range of geographical locations, employers in terms of size, sector etc. and types of Job Broker. At the time the research was carried out, NDDP had been operating nationally for two years. The interviews provided an opportunity to look closely at how the programme had developed over time, and was now being delivered, from an employer perspective. In particular, the research sought to explore the extent to which NDDP was influencing employers, the difference it was making to their recruitment practices, and to their workforce, and to look in detail at the types of relationships that existed between employers and Job Brokers. It also looked at how these relationships were felt to be of benefit to both employers and to the clients recruited through the programme.

Atherton, Tony (2003) Making sports facilities accessible to all Sport England has published guidance that aims to make sports facilities fully accessible to disabled people. 'Access for Disabled People' gives advice on how to design new sports buildings and alter or adapt existing buildings to ensure good access. It includes everything from entrances to lifts, emergency escape, changing areas, toilet provision, social areas and spectator/viewing provision. The guidance can be applied to all sports facilities and is aimed at designers, clients, building control officers, local authority access officers, access consultants and voluntary groups. To order a copy of 'Access for Disabled People' telephone 0870 5210 255 or download it from the Sport England website on: <http://www.sportengland.org/resources/pdfs/guidance-notes/Disabled.pdf> I have just scanned the pdf version on the website (I wrote to the DRC), but there appears to be NO MENTION of mental illness. I did a word search for the following: mental, psychiat, depress, mind, psych, stress, depress and anxi. Nothing. Is my computer faulty? Or have I missed the bit that says 'Sport England will shortly publish a separate book on making sports facilities accessible to people with mental health issues'.? I have recently been working with the Social Exclusion Unit and the National Institute for Mental Health in England on this subject (amongst others) and would be interested in your thoughts. Tony Atherton is on 0113 205 3317. He explained that, as an architect, his publication is focusing upon physical access only.

Atkinson, D. (1987) "How easy is it to form friendships after leaving long stay hospitals?" Social Work Today June 15.

Atkinson, D. and Ward L. (1986) A part of the community: social integration and neighbourhood networks Campaign for People with Mental Handicap.

Atkinson, Dorothy (1999) Advocacy: A Review Joseph Rowntree Foundation. ISBN 1 84196 00 39. £12.95.

Atkinson, D & Williams, F. (eds) (1990) Know Me As I Am Hodder & Stoughton book narrative, poems drawings by people with disabilities

Australian Government Publishing Service (1993) Human Rights and Mental Illness: Report of the national inquiry into human rights of people with mental illness AGPS.

Aveno A. Community involvement of persons with severe retardation living in community residences. Except Child. 1989 Jan;55(4):309-14.

Aylward, Nicola (2003) "Looking forward to Thursdays"; Effective learning for young adults with mental health difficulties Leicester: The National Youth Agency. They also have a website www.lookingforward.org.uk

Bach, Michael and Rock, Melanie (1997) Seeking Consent to Participate in Research from People whose Ability to Make an Informed Decision Could be Questioned: The Supported Decision-Making Model Toronto: Roehrer Institute. This paper contrasts the model that draws on an understanding of the self that views competence as the prerequisite for exercising self-determination with the supported decision-making model. The latter builds on a recognition that self-determination is necessarily exercised in relationships with others. 17 pages.

Backstrom and Dixon "A naturalistic experiment on reoffending". A change in the law in Germany led to 33 discharges from high security hospital – mostly people with learning disability who had committed homicide. They compared the reoffending rate with 31 planned discharges and found little difference.

Baines, Margaret; Brayshay, Mary; Norman, David; Roy, Durbali; Wallis, Mark; Walsh, Philip with Wintersgill, Cathy & Lindsay, Sue (2003 or earlier) Making your days better: A training pack to help people with learning difficulties make positive changes in their lives Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. Written by 6 users empowers people with LD to get involved in changing their lives for the better through daytime activities and employment. 60 pages, ringbound, £55.

Baker FM, Baker RJ, McDaniel RS (1975) Denormalizing Practices in Rehabilitation Facilities Rehabilitation Literature: 36(4), 112-5 & 119. This is a description of varieties of stigmatisation and other devaluing procedures found in mental institutions.

Baker, F.M., Baker, R.J. and McDaniel, R.S. (1975) Denormalising practices in rehabilitation facilities Rehabilitation Literature 36(4) 112-5 and 119. This is a description of varieties of stigmatisation and other devaluing procedures found in mental institutions. Paul Jenkins has this article.

Balcazar F, MacKay-Murphy M, Keys C, Henry D, Bryant F. Assessing perceived agency adherence to the values of community inclusion: implications for staff satisfaction. Am J Ment Retard. 1998 Mar; 102(5):451-63.

Baldwin S (1985) A Sheep in wolf's clothing: Impact of normalisation teaching on human services and service providers International Journal of Rehabilitation Research: 8(2), 131-142 Abstract: "A historical review of the development of the normalisation concept is undertaken, with an appraisal of the various historical contributions. The underlying assumptions, research foundations and methods of information transmission are examined with respect to implications for the concept. A critically evaluative stance is recommended in order to assess the utility and validity of normalisation beyond a position of moral principle and sloganeering. Some possible consequences of normalisation advocates who maintain an inflexible position in this debate are identified, together with some recommendations for an alternative perspective." It makes strong criticism of the teaching of SRV using Heron to critique the process.

Baldwin S (1985) Models of Service Delivery: An assessment of some applications and implications for people who are mentally retarded Mental Retardation: 23(1), 6-12. Abstract: "Reviews 5 models of service delivery for the mentally retarded: A child development model, a medical model, a socio-ecological model, a behavioural model, and a psycho-educational model. Each model is found to share some common elements and features, although they are ultimately rooted in dissimilar conceptual and ideological frameworks. The development model assumes that social, physical, and emotional development follows a series of stages; however it is not clear as to whether the normal developmental sequence provides the ideal learning structure for the mentally retarded. The medical model embodies a conceptual framework of physical illness, and the model places a high priority on bio-medical components of service delivery. The socio-ecological model provides the context for assessment of variables relevant to the client, and it is represented somewhat by the principle of normalisation. The dominance and success of the behavioural model is due to its partial synthesis of previous models."

Baldwin S (1989) Applied Behaviour Analysis and Normalization: Reason, rhetoric and rationality Behavioural Psychotherapy: 17(4), 314-5. Abstract: "Argues that as a world-wide pan-cultural theoretical and practical development, applied behavioural analysis (ABA) remains the single most important influence on the understanding of human behaviour. Whereas ABA can be traced back more than 60 yrs to early formulations of learning theory, the emergence of normalization is a phenomenon attributable to a single source since 1972. The prospect of rapprochement of ABA with normalization, while an inventive idea, might be viewed as an inappropriate reversal of perspectives: such an initiative might be more appropriately phrased as rapprochement of normalization with ABA. True rapprochement attempts should be welcomed as initiatives to promote understanding between different theoretical positions and in the interests of parsimony. Persuasion attempts to change behaviour based on moral imperatives should be inspected closely."

Baldwin S (1989) Applied Behaviour Analysis and Normalization: New Carts for Old Horses? A Commentary Behavioural Psychotherapy: 17(4) 305-8

Baldwin S, Hattersley J (1991) Mental Handicap: Social Science Perspectives London: Tavistock/Routledge. Available at Tor and South West, Truro. Includes papers by Bayley and by Hattersley.

Baldwin, Steve (1993) The myth of community care: an alternative neighbourhood model of care London: Chapman and Hall. Recommended by Steve Onyett.

Baldwin S, Stowers C (1987) Normalisation and Elderly Persons: In Whose Best Interests? American Archives of Rehabilitation Therapy: Spring, 34-42. This paper considers SRV and especially the seven recurrent themes as applied to older people. Some of the criticisms offered are valuable although others show some lack of appreciation of SRV's indications of the outcomes of service provision.

Ballinger, C. (1993) Do smaller homes result in increased integration? Mental Handicap Research 6 pp 303-311.

Bambra C, Whitehead M & Hamilton V (2005) Does 'welfare to work' work? A systematic review of the effectiveness of the UK's welfare-to-work programmes for people with a disability or chronic illness Social Science and Medicine 60, 1905-1918.

Bambrick M, Roberts GE (1991) The Sterilization of People with a Mental Handicap: The View of Parents Journal of Mental Deficiency Research: 35(4), 353-63. Abstract: " The issue of sterilization in people with mental handicap has re-emerged in recent years. Historical aspects are briefly reviewed, and attention is drawn to the different context in which this issue has been revived. A postal survey of parental views was undertaken. Fifty-three per cent of the respondents indicated that they would consider sterilization for their child with mental handicap, and a large majority of the parents felt that they alone, or in conjunction with a doctor, should be able to give consent on behalf of the person with mental handicap. Consideration needs to be given to parental anxieties with regard to sexual and reproductive health issues which are surfacing with the current emphasis on community care and the philosophy of normalization."

Banfalvy, Csaba (1996) "The paradox of the quality of life of adults with learning difficulties" Disability and Society Vol 11, No 4 pp 569-577.

Bank-Mikkelsen NE (1976) Denmark. In Kugel and Shearer; reprinted in Flynn and Nitsch. This paper gives a concise history of the introduction of normalization principles to services for people with learning disabilities in Denmark. It is useful reading in that it gives an historical perspective and also allows parallels to be drawn with the better documented American experience.

Banks, Becky (1999) What are we learning about Natural Supports article Natural support methods improve success for people with disabilities

Bano A, Crosskill D, Patel R, Rashman L, Shah R (1993) Dark Shadows on a White Wall: A Black Perspective on Wolfensberger's Theory of Normalisation. In Bano, Crosskill, Patel Rasman and Shah 1993A. A critique of normalisation as it applies to people from ethnic minorities. It criticises the assumption that skin colour or racial appearance should necessarily be seen as stigma. It also points out the problems of the innate conservatism of normalisation as it applies to racist and sexist assumptions in 'normal' society.

Bano A, Crosskill D, Patel R, Rashman L, Shah R (1993) Improving Practice with People with Learning Disabilities London: Central Council for Education and Training in Social Work. Includes paper by Bano et al.

Barber, D. & Hupp, S. (1993) A comparison of friendship patterns of individuals with developmental disabilities Evaluation and Training in Mental Retardation 28, pp 13-22.

Barker, P. (2001) The Tidal Model: Developing an empowering person-centred approach to recovery within psychiatric and mental health nursing Journal of Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing 8, 233-240.

Barnado's (1996) Transition to Adulthood Barnado's report Comprehensive research into the process of transition to adulthood.

Barnes, C. (1991) Disabled People in Britain and Discrimination B.C.O.D.P. book - 2,3,9cof history, legislation, education

Barnes, C. (1992) Qualitative Research: valuable or irrelevant Disability, Handicap & Society Vol.7, No.2, pp115-123 Article on the evaluation of qualitative research methods in relation to the emancipatory research model.

Barnes, C. (1996) Disability and the Myth of the Independent Researcher Disability & Society Vol.11, No.1, pp107-110.

Barr, Alan., Drysdale, Jacky., and Henderson, Paul (1998) Towards Caring Communities - Community Development and Community Care Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. This training pack acknowledges that community care is delivered and received by people within neighbourhoods, and by groups of people who have similar experiences. The pack provides a method for these groups to get together and become engaged in the planning, delivery and provision of services.

Barrera, M Jr., Sandler, I.N. & Ramsay, T.B. (1981) Preliminary development of a scale of social support: Studies on college students. American Journal of Community Psychology 9, 435-447..

Barrera, M. Jr (1986) Distinctions between social support concepts, measures and models. American Journal of Community Psychology 14, 413-445.

Barry, Monica; Hallett, Christine (eds) (1998) Social exclusion and social work: issues of theory, policy and practice Lyme Regis: Russell House.

Bartnik EA, Lewis GM, O'Connor PA (eds) (1987) Technology, Resources and Consumer Outcomes: Proceedings of the 23rd National Conference of the Australian Society for the Study of Intellectual Disability Perth, Western Australia: P.E. Publications. Includes the papers by Butterfield and Gow, Roche, and Ryan.

Barton R (1959) Institutional Neurosis Bristol: Wright

Barton RL (1989) Disability and Dependency London: Falmer Press. Includes Wolfensberger 1989d

Barton, L. (ed) (1988) The Politics of Special Educational Needs Falmer Press book Critique of SPS & recommendations for development

Bass, M. & Drewett, R. (1997) Real Work: supported employment for people with learning difficulties Sheffield: Joint Unit for Social Services Research (with Community Care) ISBN 0 907484 32 8 JUSSR Report Research on the experience of people with learning disabilities entering employment

Bates, P (1992) Just Another Seat On The Committee? in NHSTD in Collaboration with Survivors Spear Out, MINDLINK and the National Advocacy Network, Training and User Involvement in Mental Health Services National Health Service Training Directorate, Bristol.

Bates, P (1994) The Keys To Power Europsy Newsletter April 1994.

Bates, P and Pidgeon, J (1990) Intervention: Protection Or Control Community Care 11/1/90

Bates, P. & Wilson, J. (2001) Voting and people with learning difficulties Living Well Vol 1, Issue 2, p21 – 24.

Bates, P. (1990) Like A Pebble Dropped Into A Pool Social Work Today 8/11/90.

Bates, P. (1995) What Makes Empowerment So Difficult? Kent Journal of Practice Research 1; 1; 35 - 42.

Bates, P. (1996) Banking On It MINDOUT Nov 1996.

Bates, P. (1996) Lessons For Life Health Service Journal 3/10/96

Bates, P. (1996) Stuff As Dreams Are Made On Health Service Journal 4/4/96.

Bates, P. (1997) Fingers in the Till A Life in the Day Vol 1, Issue 3, pages 21-22.

Bates, P. (1997) Staff Selection A Life in the Day Vol 1, Issue 1, pages 21-23.

Bates, P. (1997) The Front Door Key A Life in the Day Vol 1, Issue 2, pages 20-21.

Bates, P. (1998) Having your Say A Life in the Day Vol 2, Issue 2 pages 21-23.

- Bates, P. (1998) There may be Trouble Ahead A Life in the Day Vol 2, Issue 1 pages 27-29.
- Bates, P. (1999) From writing therapy to writer Writing in Education Issue 18, page 5.
- Bates, P. (1999) Right, Said Fred A Life in the Day Vol 3, Issue 2 pages 18-19.
- Bates, P. (2000) Book review of From psychiatric patient to citizen Openmind Issue 101 p 27.
- Bates, P. (2000) Introducing Circles of Friends A Life in the Day Vol 4, No 4 pages 20-22..
- Bates, P. (2000) On the Edge Soundtrack Issue 20, (October, 2000), page 11.
- Bates, P. (2000) The Bigger Picture Growthpoint
- Bates, P. (2000) Writing therapy to writer A Life in the Day Vol 4, Issue 2 pages 29-32.
- Bates, P. (2001) Able Volunteers Soundtrack Issue 21, page 10.
- Bates, P. (2001) Museums and mental health services in Dodd, Jocelyn & Sandell, Richard (2001) Including Museums: perspectives on museums, galleries and social inclusion Leicester: Research Centre for Museums and Galleries.
- Bates, P. (2002) A Real Asset: A Manual on Supported Volunteering Manchester: National Development Team.
- Bates, P. (2002) The Able Volunteers Programme A Life in the Day Vol 6, No 1 pp 6-10.
- Bates, P. (ed) (2002) Working for Inclusion: Making social inclusion a reality for people with severe mental health problems London: The Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health
- Bates, P. and Butler, S. Community Connections and Creative Mental Health Practices in Butler, S. and Lybery, M. (2004) Social Work Ideals and Practice Realities. Palgrave MacMillan.
- Bates, P. and Repper, J. (2001) Social inclusion – a framework for evaluation A life in the day Vol 5, No 2 pp 18-23.
- Bates, P. and Walsh, M (1989) Empty Premises: Empty Promises. University of Nottingham: Benefits Research Unit.
- Bates, P., Peck, E. and Smith, H. (1997) Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Mental Health Review Vol 2, Issue 2 pages 8-15. June 1997
- Bates, P. Making Community Connections Unpublished MA Dissertation University of Kent at Canterbury 1997
- Bates, P. (2002) Working for Inclusion: Making social inclusion a reality for people with severe mental health problems Housing Care and Support Vol 5, Issue 3, August 2002. Pages 18-22.
- Bauer, A. & Shea, T. (1999) How To Teach All Learners. Educators will find an introduction to inclusive environments and services as well as a discussion of current school and classroom management issues.
- Bauer, A.M. and Brown, G.M. (2001) Adolescents and Inclusion: Transforming Secondary Schools 320 pages, $29.95 The teachers and staff of Purcell Marian share in this book their proven strategies for supporting students with mild to severe disabilities in an inclusive high school.
- Bayley M (1991) Normalisation or 'Social Role Valorisation': an adequate philosophy? In Baldwin and Hattersley. This paper calls into question the idea of striving for valued social roles and suggests that attempts to value the person as an autonomous individual with their own self value.
- It discusses the L'Arche communities in France. It also defends village communities for Learning Disabled persons in Britain.
- Bayley Michael (1997) What Price Friendship? Hexagon Publishing, ISBN 1 871172 07 1
- Bayliss, F. (chair) (1991) Making Training Accessible: Meeting Special Training Needs, Report of the Special Training Needs Task N.C.V.O. Report
- BBBB
- Beail, N. and Brandon, T. (1991) Paid to be 'friends'. Community Living July.
- Beard, M.L. (1992) Social Networks Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 16, 2, 111-116.
- Beauchemin G (????) The Celebration of Joy in Faith. Source Not Known. An illustration of the devalued person as an holy innocent.
- Becker, D. and Drake, R. (1994) Individual placement and support: A community mental health center approach to vocational rehabilitation Community Mental Health Journal 17, 2, April, 193-206.
- Becker, T., Thornicroft, G., Leese, M., McCrone, P., Johnson, S., Albert, M, and Turner, D. (1997) Social networks and service use among representative cases of psychosis in South London British Journal of Psychiatry Vol 171 pp 15-19. "These results raise the intriguing possibility that the augmentation of social networks may reduce the use of in-patient services by patients with psychotic disorders."
- Bee, E. and Martin I (1997) 'The educational dimensions of mental health work' Adults Learning January : 128-31.
- Beels, C.C. (1978) "Social networks, the family and the schizophrenic patient" Schizophrenia Bulletin 4,4,512-21.
- Beeman, P. Ducharme, G. and Mount, B. (1989) One Candle Power: Building Bridges into Community Life for People with Disabilities Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.
- Bees, S. (1991) Some aspects of the friendship networks of people with learning difficulties Clinical Psychology Forum 31, pp 12-14.
- Bell, J. (1999) Doing Your Own Research Project O.U.P.
- Bercovici SM (1983) Barriers to Normalization Baltimore: University Park Press
- Bercovici, S.M. (1983) Barriers to normalisation : the restrictive management of retarded persons Baltimore: University Park Press. Includes a chapter called "Obstacles to normalisation in community settings."
- Besio, S.W. & Mahler, J. (1993) "Consumer staff in supported housing services" Hospital and Community Psychiatry 44(5) 490-491.
- Besio, Susan Wilson (1988) Community Support and Community Integration: New Directions for Outcome Research CCC
- Bewley, C. (1997) Money matters London: Values into Action.
- Beyer, S & Hill-Tout, J (1996) Approaches to Vocational Assessment for People with Learning Disabilities report research project to describe & compare approaches to vocational assessment
- Beyer, S & Kilsby, M (1996) Inside a Good Job article Se and career development for people with learning disabilities

- Beyer, S & Kilsby, M (1996) The Future of Employment for People with Learning Disabilities article Review of SE in the UK
- Beyer, S & Kilsby, M (1997) Supported Employment in Britain London: DfEE. article Growth of SE in Britain
- Beyer, S & Scally, M (1992) Integrating Staff and Service Development: Lessons in W.Glam. report Pilot approach looking at Training as a crucial tool in service development
- Beyer, S (1997) Categories of Skills article skill needs of people working in SE
- Beyer, S (1997) Sources of Funding article SE funding
- Beyer, S (1999) Planning the Future in Cardiff Soundtrack, summer 1999 N.D.T. article
- Beyer, S, Goodere, L & Kilsby, M (1996) Costs & Benefits of Supported Employment Agencies: Findings from a national survey. Employment Service Research Series R37. London: Stationery Office. Research Survey of all SE agencies in GB describing their cost & benefit compared to SEP
- Beyer, S, Goodere, L & Kilsby, M (1996) The Two Versions of Supported Employment: Division or Diversity research Survey of all SE agencies in GB describing their cost & benefit compared to SEP
- Beyer, S, Kilsby, M & Willson, C (1995) Interaction & Engagement of Workers in SE: A British Comparison Between Workers with & without LD article Study comparing patterns of interaction & engagement
- Beyer, S. & Kilsby, M. (1998) Financial costs and benefits of two supported employment agencies in Wales Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities Vol 11, No 4, pp 303-319.
- Beyer, S. "Real jobs and supported employment" in Philpott and Ward.
- Beyer, S.; Kilsby, M. and Lowe, K. (1994) What do ATCs offer in Wales? A survey of Welsh day services. Mental Handicap Research 7, 16-40.
- Beyer, S.; Kilsby, M & Leach, S (2004) Supported employment survival pack: A job developer's handbook Scope.
- Biddle, S, Fox K R and Boucher S H (2000) Physical Activity and Psychological Wellbeing. London: Routledge.
- Biddle, Stuart and Mutrie, Nanette (2001) Psychology of physical activity: determinants, well-being and interventions London: Routledge
- Bigby C, Fyffe C & Ozanne E (eds) (2007) Planning and Support for People with Intellectual Disabilities: Issues for Case Managers and Other Professionals London: Jessica Kingsley
- Biklen, D., Corrigan, C., and Quick, D. (1989) "Beyond Obligation: Students' relations with each other in integrated classes" in Lipsky, D.K. & Gartner, A. (eds) Beyond separate education: Quality Education for All Baltimore: Paul H Brookes Publishing Co.
- Bilby, R (1998) A Response to the Criticisms of Transitional Employment Article A defence of enclaves, clubhouse models etc
- Binley Directory of NHS Management Beechwood House Publishing. Tel 01375 644 344.
- Bishop, J. and Hoggett, E.P. (1986) Organising around enthusiasms: mutual aid in leisure London: Commedia Publishing Group.
- Blake R (1985-6) Normalization and Boarding Homes: An analysis of paradoxes Social Work in Health Care: 11(2), 75-86. Abstract: "Studied 10 boarding homes and 100 residents, using a multiphasic environmental assessment procedure, to measure social and environmental characteristics of sheltered care facilities. Findings suggest that instead of being empowered as consumers, residents are treated as commodities; instead of gaining additional freedoms, deinstitutionalized persons have been abandoned. Problematic issues concerning the provision of treatment and rehabilitation services to boarding homes residents are discussed. It is argued that boarding homes that have emerged as places where deinstitutionalized psychiatric patients and others reside represent one type of congregate living arrangement that is expected to facilitate social policy goals of enabling chronically mentally ill people to live in the most appropriate, least restrictive environment possible."
- Blatt B (1987) The Community Imperative and Human Values. In Antonak and Mulick. From the preface: "Explication of six arguments against the deinstitutionalization of people who are mentally retarded, followed by a review of the definition of normalization and a brief history of the concept. Professor Blatt appears to attack science by challenging the utility of research for studying the communitization paradox, his view is that the application of science to the question of communitization is misguided, the issue is not one of science but of values, the issue is freedom, and our failure to let people who are mentally retarded by free."
- Block, M.E. (1998). Don't forget the social part of inclusion. Strategies, 12(2), 30-34.
- Block, M.E., & Obrusnikova, I. (2007). A research review on inclusion of students with disabilities in general physical education. Adapted Physical Activity Quarterly, 24, 103-124.
- Blunden R (1985) Mental Handicap: The Feasibility of Normalisation, An introduction In Karas. This paper discusses the changes in Learning Disability service delivery from the mid-seventies to the mid-eighties. It points out where service system change has followed normalisation principles.
- Blunden, R (1989) Quality of Life in Persons with Disabilities book Issues in service development
- Blunden, Roger (1988) Ties and Connections: an ordinary community life for people with learning difficulties London: King's Fund Centre
- Bogdan R. (1992) "A "simple" farmer accused of murder: Community acceptance and the meaning of deviance" Disability, Handicap and Society 7 (4) 303-320.
- Bogdan, R. & Taylor, S.J. (1987) "Toward a sociology of acceptance: The other side of the study of deviance" Social Policy 18(2) 34-39.
- Bogdan, Robert and Taylor, Steven J. (1989) "Relationships with Severely Disabled People: The Social Construction of Humanness" in Social Problems 36(2), 135-148. It represents the perspectives of nondisabled people who do not stigmatise, stereotype and reject those with obvious disabilities. $2.05 from the Center on Human Policy.
- Bond. G. (1992) Vocational rehabilitation in Lieberman, R.P. (ed) (1992) Handbook of psychiatric rehabilitation New York: Macmillan. pp244-275.
- Bond, G.R.; Drake, R.E.; Mueser, K.T. & Becker, D.R. (1997) An update on supported employment for people with severe mental illness. Psychiatric Services 48, 335-346.

Bookis, J. (1983) Beyond the School Gate: A Study of Young Disabled People aged 13-19 RADAR

Booth, T & Potts, P. (eds) (1987) Integrating Special Education Blackwell

Booth, T. and Booth, W. (1994) Parenting under pressure: Mothers and Fathers with Learning Difficulties Buckingham: Open University Press.

Booth, T.; Ainscow, M.; Black-Hawkins, K.; Vaughan, M. and Shaw, L. (2000) Index for Inclusion: developing learning and participation in schools Bristol: Centre for Studies in Inclusive Education.

Borsay, A. (1986) Personal Trouble or Public Issue?: Towards a Model of Policy for pwd Disability, Handicap & Society Vol.1, No.1, pp179-195 article

Bostock, Jan & Diamond Bob (?) 'The value of community psychology: Critical reflections from the NHS. (was this published?)

Boucherat A (1987) Normalisation in Mental Handicap - acceptance without questions? Bulletin of the Royal College of Psychiatrists: 11, 423-5

Boulton, A and Hatton, S. (1991) 'On the road to participation: educational opportunities for people with mental health problems or mental illness' Somerset County Council/Worker's Educational Association (Western District).

Bowd AD (1989) Client Satisfaction and Normalization of Residential Services for Persons with Developmental Handicaps Canadian Journal of Community Mental Health: 8(1), 63-73. Abstract: "Reports perceptions of residential services in larger group homes and smaller, integrated housing for 24 developmentally handicapped adults and 29 members of their families. Criteria employed in judging quality of life and community integration differed in some cases from those used by professionals. Data indicate the enhancement of individual dignity and increased community involvement were more successfully realized in smaller, integrated settings."

Bowd, A.D. (1989) Client satisfaction and normalisation of residential services for persons with developmental handicaps Canadian Journal of Community Mental Health 8(1) 63 - 73. In reviewing the perceptions of quality of life in larger and smaller group homes it is shown that the enhancement of individual dignity and increased community involvement were more successfully realised in smaller, integrated settings.

Bowd, W. and Hartnett, F. (1975) Normalisation and its implications for recreation services Journal of Leisurability 2(1) 22-7. A definition of normalisation is offered, and an example is given of the 'less than fully human' approach to devalued people. Further examples are given of a medical model approach and a 'do-gooder' approach. An appeal is made to abolish segregated services for recreation. Many of the articles published by Leisurability can be found on <http://www.lin.ca/>

Boyles, Linda (2003 or earlier) Open Arts: A training resource pack to facilitate arts and mental health group work Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. 300 pages, ringbound resource. £65.

Brabban A & Brooker C (2006) Ten Essential Shared Capabilities: An Evaluation of the Pilot Training Materials NIMHE. Available at <http://www.lincoln.ac.uk/ccawi/publications/Full%20ESC%20Evaluation%20Report.pdf>

Brackenridge R, McKenzie K (2005) The Friendships of people with a learning disability Learning Disability Practice. Vol 8, no 5. June.

Bradford Social Services, Bradford Community Health NHS Trust and Bradford Interfaith Education Centre (?) Spiritual Well-Being: Policy and Practice Available from John Seabridge at The Grove Resource Centre on Bradford (01274) 689310. This book (83 pages) has three sections: (a) Five Religions in the Bradford District: an Overview; (b) Guidance for staff working with adults with learning disabilities; (c) Guidance for staff working with adults with Mental Health Problems. They also mention the Bradford Interfaith Centre 01274 731674.

Bradley VJ (1994) Evolution of a New Service Paradigm In Bradley, Ashbaugh and Blaney From the chapter: "One constant in the field of developmental disabilities is change / provide a context that will counter the perception of this change as random and unpredictable or, worse, the reflection of a field veering from one fad to another / the conceptual framework drawn suggests that a thread of continuity runs through the events of the early 1990s in the field and connects the earlier notions of normalization to the contemporary aims of community membership / addresses the theoretical variations that have precipitated change from the 1960s to the 1990s, the long-range challenges that this change entails, how these challenges will redefine organizational values and culture, and the critical implementation issues that lie ahead."

Bradley VJ, Ashbaugh JW, Blaney BC (1994) Creating individual supports for people with developmental disabilities: A mandate for change at many levels. Baltimore MD, USA: Paul H Brookes Publishing Co. Includes chapter by Bradley.

Bradley, V.J., Ashbaugh, J.W. & Blaney C. (eds) (1994) Creating individual supports for people with developmental disabilities: A mandate for change at many levels Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co.

Brailsford, D. (1993) 'Liverpool: a step further in adult education and mental health' Educare June, 46, 14-16.

Braisby D, Echlin R, Hill S, Smith H (eds) (1988) Changing Futures: Housing and support services for people discharged from psychiatric hospitals. London: Kings Fund

Brandon D (1991) B Implications of Normalisation Work for Professional Skills. In Ramon 1991 A Brechin A, Swain J (1988) Professional/client relationships: Creating a "working alliance" with people with learning difficulties. Disability Handicap and Society: 3(3), 213-226. Abstract: "Sets professional/client relationships in their immediate historical context and considers how interpretations of normalization seem to confirm rather than conflict with established professional assumptions in the area of learning difficulties. Approaches are suggested that may help in structuring and supporting a process of change from dependency-inducing relationships to a working alliance."

Brandon D (1991) Increasing Value: The Implications of the Principle of Normalisation for Mental Illness Services Manchester: Salford University College. A broadly supportive criticism of SRV and normalisation in Mental Health. It rehearses the key concepts and gives examples of grossly de-normalising actions in the mental health services, It discusses O'Briens's five accomplishments in mental health terms. It criticises mental health services from an other than normalisation stance. It discusses implications for staff with the introduction of normalisation principles. It concludes with a discussion of some of the controversies that normalisation raises.

Brandon, D. (1986) Pioneering heralds the death of the hostel Social Work Today 17, 47, 9.

Brandon, D. (1994) All done with magnets. Professional Social Work. July 1994, p7.

Bratt, A. & Johnston R. (1988) Changes in lifestyle for young adults with profound handicaps following discharge from hospital care into a 'second generation' housing project Mental Handicap Research 1, pp 49-74.

Brechin A, Walmsley J (eds) (1989) Making Connections: reflecting on the lives and experience of people with learning disabilities London: Hodder and Stoughton. Includes paper by Robinson

- Brechin, A. and Walmsley, J. (eds) (1989) Making Connections London: Hodder & Staughton.
- Breen, C., Haring, T.G., Pitts-Conway, V. & Gaylord-Ross, R. (1985) The training and generalisation of social interaction during breakfast at two job sites in the natural environment. Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps 10, 41-50.
- Breier, A and Strauss, J.S. (1984) "The role of social relationships in the recovery from psychotic disorders" American Journal of Psychiatry 141 pp. 949-55.
- Brennan, W. (1985) Changing Special Education O.U.P. book
- Brewer, P., Gadsden, V. and Scrimshaw, K. (1994) The community group network in mental health: a model for social support and community integration British Journal of Occupational Therapy 57, 12, 467 - 470.
- Bridge, G. (2000) Community Care for Children with Cerebral Palsy: social work perspectives Practice Vol.11, No.4, pp15-26 article Examination of role of social workers and community care legislation
- Bridge, N.J. and Hutchison P. (1988) "Leisure, integration and community. Leisurability 15(1) 3-15.
- Bridges, K. and Brown L. (1989) "Psychiatric patients work alongside artists in prize winning project" British Medical Journal 299 p 532.
- Isabel Briggs Myers (2000) "Introduction to Type: A guide to understanding your results on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator" Oxford: Oxford University Press
- Brisenden, S. (1986) Independent Living & the Medical Model of Disability Disability, Handicap & Society Vol.1, No.2, pp173-179 article
- British Institute of Human Rights (2007) Human Rights in Healthcare - A Framework for Local Action. This framework was developed in conjunction with the British Institute of Human Rights and five NHS Trusts to assist organisations across the NHS use a human rights based approach to help improve the way services are delivered.
- The DH Human Rights in Health Care can be found at: <http://www.choiceforum.org/humanrights.pdf>
- Briton J (1970) Normalisation: What Of and What For. Australian Journal of Mental Retardation: 5, 224-9 Abstract: "Describes what are the 2 "official" versions of normalization- that of B Nirje (1970) and that of W Wolfensberger (1972) and his work with N Kugel (1969). Areas of contrast between these two approaches involve emphasis in programming, evaluation procedures, and research programs. It is suggested that normalization is no simple univocal approach to retardation services and that it fails to provide specific guidance to a post-institutional approach in those areas where guidance is most needed."
- Briton J (1977) Behaviour Modification, Normalisation and Person-orientedness. Australian Journal of Mental Retardation: 4(8), 4-13. Original reference as 1972 checked in Baldwin 1985 and is as listed. Query identical to Briton 1979 referred to elsewhere. On CD-ROM PsychLit shows as above. Abstract: "In Part 1, the author contends that behaviourist models are incompatible with the concept of normalization for mentally retarded persons, both directly and more generally in terms of the orientation of consciousness that normalization fosters. It is suggested that institutions committed to normalization goals should reject behaviourist models, which are object-oriented, in favour of a person-oriented approach. In Part 2, the author suggests ways of structuring residential unit environments that are person oriented and that present as normalized an experience as is possible within the institution. The discussion is illustrated with a description of a 30-person unit for mildly and moderately retarded adolescents that strives for eventual community placement of residents."
- Brooke, V. et al (1997) Supported Employment Handbook: A customer driven approach for persons with significant disabilities Virginia Commonwealth Univ. manual Quality in S.E.
- Brost, M. & Johnson, T. (1982) Getting to know you: one approach to service assessment and planning for individuals with disabilities Madison, WI: Wisconsin Coalition for Advocacy.
- Brown H (1992) What Price Theory If You Cannot Afford the Busfare: normalization and leisure services for people with learning disabilities Health and Social Care: 2, 153-9. "This paper explores whether normalisation theory can provide a useful framework against which to assess relevance of leisure activity as part of day or residential services to people with learning disabilities. Changing attitudes and patterns of leisure are discussed. Four issues in the normalization principle are examined in detail as they concern the tension between fitting in, and making demands on society as alternative strategies for achieving respect and integration: image, age appropriateness, use of special aids and group activities. Costs and benefits of segregated leisure activities are reviewed. Practical and psychological barriers to integration are also discussed."
- Brown H (1994) An Ordinary Sexual Life?: A review of the normalisation principle as it applies to the sexual options of people with learning disabilities. Disability, Handicap and Society: 4(2), 15-119. Abstract: "Explains why the normalization principle has had so little effect on the sexual options of the learning disabled, analyzes discourses about their services and sexuality, suggests that one role of services is the regulation of sexuality and the creation of sexual boundaries, and challenges the assumption that sexuality is "natural" for the learning disabled. The author argues that this view is simplistic and hides the extent to which rules about sexual behavior are applied on the basis of social inequalities. Assumptions and ideologies about sexuality, normality, parenting, and integration are explored, and all 3 concepts are reinstated to a problematical status. The discussion questions whether people with learning disabilities are really free to be sexual and outlines the penalties they face when they break out of the roles that have been prescribed for them. Gender issues for staff are also reviewed."
- Brown H, Alcoe J (1987) LIFESTYLES: An approach to training staff in normalisation principles Social Work Education: 6(3), 21-2
- Brown H, Smith H (1989) Whose "Ordinary Life" is it Anyway? Disability Handicap and Society: 4(2), 105-119. This paper provides a feminist critique of normalization ideology. Normalization is criticised as being apolitical and highly individualistic. An appeal is made for account to be taken of collective and communal interventions.
- Brown H, Smith H (1992a) Normalisation: A Reader for the Nineties. London: Tavistock/Routledge. This collection of papers surveys the field of normalization, providing valuable critiques from different perspectives. Each chapter of the book is summarised elsewhere in this reading list under the individual authors concerned.
- Brown H, Smith H (1992b) Assertion, not assimilation: a feminist perspective on the normalisation principle In Brown and Smith, Normalisation: A Reader for the Nineties This chapter develops the thought of the Brown and Smith 1989 paper. It concentrates in greater detail on the effect that normalization has on women service users.
- Brown L, Thomas MD, Allen DG, Gilchrist LD (1994) Mental Health Reform: Client and Family Member Perspectives Evaluation and Program Planning: 17(1), 81-92. Abstract: "Explored the impact of mental health (MH) reform from the perspective of those most affected by changes in the organization and delivery of services: clients and family members. 84 clients and 48 family-member participants were interviewed about their experiences with the MH system. Specifically addressed are experiences with and perceptions of (1) client living situations, including adequacy and stability, (2) community support services, including case management and crisis services, (3) normalization of daily life, including participation in work or vocational services and social activities, and (4) changes in the MH system. subjects reported little change in either the adequacy or stability of residential situations with reform. In addition, family members' perceptions of burden in caring for a mentally ill relative are discussed."

Brown, D.S. (2000) Learning a Living: A Guide to Planning your Career and Finding a Job for People with Learning Disabilities, Attention Deficit Disorder, and Dyslexia 256 pages. Discusses everything you need to know in order to find a job that uses the strengths and minimizes the effects of LD, ADD and Dyslexia, addressing career issues for high schoolers, college students and adults.

Brown, H. (1992) What price theory if you cannot afford the busfare: normalisation and leisure services for people with learning disabilities Health and Social Care 2, 153-9. Image, age appropriateness, use of special aids and group activities are considered as they apply to the tensions between 'fitting in' and making demands on society in leisure services for people with learning disabilities. Costs and benefits of segregated leisure activities are reviewed. Practical and psychological barriers to integration are discussed.

Brown, Hilary and Benson, Sue (? before March 1999) Quality Lifestyles for Older People with Dementia Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. Staff training workshops and training pack based on the principle of normalisation. Helps staff to explore options for offering services to older people with dementia in ways which enhance their links with local communities and support their independence and individuality.

Brown, R.I. (1988) Transition: a challenge for school, agency and community Australia and New Zealand Journal of Developmental Disabilities 14(3-4) 227-34. Suggests that at the same time that a normalisation philosophy has been advocated for disabled individuals, the lack of concern over technology, curriculum application, social integration procedures and professional staff training has resulted in considerable failure.

Browne, C. & Singh, R. (1990) Leisure links: the way forward for community leisure Mental Handicap 18,1, 35-37.

Brugha, T.S. (1991) Support and Personal Relationships in Bennet DH and Hugh L (eds) Community Psychiatry: The Principles. Edinburgh: Churchill Livingstone.

Bruininks RH (1990) There is more than a zip code to changes in service. American Journal on Mental Retardation: 95(1), 15-15

Bruininks, R.H., Chen, T.H., Lakin, K.C. and McGrew, K.S. (1992) Components of personal competence and community integration for persons with mental retardation in small residential programs. Research in Developmental Disabilities 13, 463 - 479.

Bruyere, S. et al (1999) Quality through equality: total quality management applied to the implementation of Title 1 of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 Journal of Vocational Rehabilitation Vol.9, pp 253-266 article Description of key concepts of TQM applied to the implementation of ADA

Bryant, W (1995) The social contact group: an example of long-term group work in community mental health care British Journal of Occupational Therapy 58, 5, 214-218.

Buckland, I. (1987) Power Through Partnership in Barker I and Peck E Power in Strange Places London: Good Practices in Mental Health.

Buckley, J. & Mank, D. (1994) New Perspectives on Training and Technical Assistance: Moving from assumptions to a focus on quality JASH (Journal of the Assc. For Persons with Severe Handicaps), Vol.19, No.3, pp223-232 article examples of the use of basic quality improvement structures in relation to training and technical assistance as applied primarily to supported employment

Bulmer, M. (1987) The social basis of community care Allen and Unwin. Draws heavily on a variety of research studies conducted in neighbourhoods, within groups of families and in other aspects of community life and is a major contribution to the discussion about community integration.

Bunch, Gary & Valeo, Angela (1997) Inclusion: Recent Research Toronto: Inclusion Press. £11.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

Bunker, J. (2001) Medicine matters after all: measuring the benefits of medical care, a healthy lifestyle and a just social environment. London: The Stationary Office/The Nuffield Trust.

Bunt, Leslie (1994) Music Therapy ISBN 0 415 08703 1. 224 pages, £16.99.

Bunt, Leslie & Hoskyns, Sarah (eds) The Handbook of music therapy ISBN 0 415 15708 0. 296 pages.

Burchard SN, Gordon LR, Pine J (1990) Manager Competence, Program Normalization and Client Satisfaction in Group Homes Education and Training in Mental Retardation: 25(3), 277-285 Abstract: "Examined client satisfaction of 57 retarded adults (aged 20-49 years) living in 12 group homes in relationship to measures of their managers' competence and program normalization. Data were obtained from resident and manager interviews and written assessment of manager competence. Satisfaction with group home placement was related to manager competence and to the degree of community use for group home residents. Regression analysis of these factors showed manager competence in normalization practices to be a major predictor of placement satisfaction. Managers competent in normalization practices also had programs with a high degree of community integration."

Burchard SN, Hasazi JS, Gordon LR, Yoe, JT (1991) An examination of lifestyle and adjustment in three community residential alternatives Research in Developmental Disabilities: 12(2), 127-42. Abstract: "Examined lifestyle normalization, community integration, adjustment, social support, and personal satisfaction for 133 adults with mild and moderate retardation. Subjects lived in small group homes, in supervised apartments, or with their natural families. results of questionnaires and structured interviews with care providers show that the resident settings provided different lifestyles with respect to independence, normalization, and integration. Subjects in apartments achieved the most normative lifestyles, showed greater personal independence and integration, and reported levels of lifestyle satisfaction similar to those subjects living with their families. Social integration was extremely limited for all groups."

Burchard, S.N., Hasazi, J.S., Gordon, L.R. and Yoe, J. (1991) An Examination of Lifestyle and Adjustment in Three Community Residential Alternatives Research in Developmental Disabilities 12, 127-142.

Burke, C (1998) Prospecting for Work Communication, Spring 1998 article

Burke, Christine (2006) Building Community through Circles of Friends: A practical guide to making inclusion a reality for people with learning disabilities. London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. A new publication from the Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities which describes how to support people to become connected in the community and develop friendships. It considers the practical steps to developing a circle of support that will result in long-lasting friendships and on-going connections in a person's local community. The book is illustrated with real life examples and practical suggestions. Topics covered include: Friendship, Connecting with community, Person-centred planning, Circles of support, Facilitation The book is a useful resource for professionals, carers, friends and family members. £15 ISBN: 978-1-903645-89-5. Call our publications orderline on 0207 8031101 or email publications@fpd.org.uk

Burkhard JS, Goldman R (1982) The Right to be Retarded Milieu Therapy: 2(1), 38-44. This paper puts forward a residential care model for people with learning disabilities. It is particularly useful as it demonstrates how a criticism of normalisation can fall flat because the authors do not seem to understand the basic principles.

Burleigh M (1994) Death and Deliverance: 'Euthanasia' in Germany c1900-1945. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. This book is an excellent source on the history of euthanasia in Nazi Germany. It gives source material for the fact that the holocaust started with medical personnel killing the handicapped.

Burns J, Roberts T (1988) A Feminist Perspective on the Normalization Principle. Psychology of Women Newsletter: Autumn 1988, 12-17. This article draws parallels and points out conflict between normalisation principles and feminist thought.

Burt, R.S. (1987) "A note on strangers, friends and happiness" Social Networks 9 pp. 311-31.

Bury, M. (1996) Disability and the Myth of the Independent Researcher: a reply Disability & Society Vol.11, No.1, pp111-113 article

Butterfield EC, Gow L (1987) Civil Rights and Social Science Answers to the Question "How Evil are Normalisation, Deinstitutionalisation and Mainstreaming?" In Bartnik, Lewis and O'Connor. This paper reviews methods of research into deinstitutionalisation and makes recommendations for further research. It is nowhere near as critical of Normalisation etc. as the title suggests, but states clearly that from a civil rights and normalisation ideology point of view, the trends to deinstitutionalisation are a 'good', but from a social science point of view there may be 'evil' in this outcome.

Butterworth, J. et al (1999) More like a dance: Whole life planning for people with disabilities St Augustine Florida, USA: Training Resource Network. ISBN 1883302-32-3.

Caan, W., Morris, L., Brandon, D., Richards, S., Khoo, R. & Santa Marie, C. (2001) Wounded healers speak out: experiences of nurses with depression. Mental Health Practice 4 (5): 20-26. Active leisure pursuits came up in this work on recovery from depression.

Cabinet Office (2008) Criminal Records Bureau checks: Guidance for volunteering

Cabinet Office (2008) Think Research At: www.cabinetoffice.gov.uk/social_exclusion_task_force.aspx A web-based document which gives commissioners and providers of services for vulnerable people guidance on using research evidence during the commissioning process. Think Research gives users a comprehensive guide to all aspects of using research evidence. It covers finding relevant research, evaluating it, how to use the evidence in planning a service, and gathering evidence to monitor a service once it is up and running.

Callaghan, M. & Marc Gold Associates (1993) The seven phase sequence for balancing naturalness and individual employee needs Gaudier, MS: Marc Gold & Associates.

Callahan, M (1999) Personal Budgets: The future of funding? APSE Advance Newsletter 1999, pp1-10 article examination of the individual controlling of resources

Callahan, M (1999) The Promises and Pitfalls of the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) for persons with significant disabilities TASH, 1999, pp1-8 article examines implications of the WIA in the USA

Callahan, M (2000) The State of Supported Employment in the USA (response to a questionnaire) report overall picture of S.E. in the USA

Callahan, M. (1997) Advice and Information: Helping people to become informed and to make effective decisions concerning employment United Cerebral Palsy Assc.: Choice Access Project paper support for people with disabilities to make informed choices

Callahan, M. & Mank, D. (1998) Choice and Control of employment for people with disabilities : A white paper Inst. of Disability, Univ. of New Hampshire paper developing choice and control in employment choices for people with disabilities

Cambridge, P & Carnaby, S (eds) (2005) Person Centred Planning and Care Management with People with Learning Disabilities London: Jessica Kingsley. 224 pages. ISBN 1 84310 131 9. This new book provides a reflective analysis of person centred planning for people with learning disabilities, complementing policy initiatives that focus on individualised planning and service user involvement. Drawing on practical experience and research findings, the contributors explore policy and practice issues, including advocacy and empowerment; risk management and adult protection; inter-agency and inter-professional working; ethnicity and culture and de-institutionalisation. Vivid case studies illustrate best practice in person centred planning, and the authors offer a rich variety of ideas for increasing the participation, self-esteem and quality of life of people with learning disabilities. This practical and accessible text is an invaluable guide for policy makers, carers and social work managers, academics and students.

Campbell, C . (1999) Health and social capital in two less affluent communities in England. In Inequalities in Health - a report on HEA seminars London: Health Education Authority

Campbell, C. with Wood, R. and Kelly M. (1999) Social capital and health London: Health Education Authority. £15. 180 pages. ISBN 0 7521 1659 2. This report includes a review of the literature on social capital and health promotion and presents detailed findings from research on social capital in two communities in an English town. The way in which components of social capital including social trust, networks, reciprocal arrangements between community members, civic engagement and local identity manifest in relation to the UK context are explored.

Campbell, M (1997) Getting People into Jobs: Lessons from Local Initiatives paper presentation on a range of work focusing on local labour market strategy

Canadian Council for Social Development (1986) Deinstitutionalization: Costs and Effects Canada: Canadian Council for Social Development. Includes paper by Flynn.

Carling, P.J. (1988) "Principles for promoting community integration of people with psychiatric disabilities the challenge to academic psychology community in Johnson & Wohlford. 5 pages. $3 from CCC.

Carling, P.J. (1988) "Strategic attempts of a Psychology Department to promote community integration: The University of Vermont Experience. In Johnson & Wohlford. 6 pages. $3. From CCC.

Carling, P.J. (1990) Major mental illness, housing and supports: the promise of community integration. American Psychologist 45, 8, 969 - 975.

Carling, P.J. (1995) Return to Community New York: The Guilford Press

Carling, P.J. and Besio, S.W. (1992) Community integration of people with psychiatric disabilities: A comprehensive approach Burlington VT: CCC.

Carling, P.J., Randolph, F.L., Blanch, A.K. Ridgway, P (1987) Rehabilitation Research Review: Housing and Community Integration for People with Psychiatric Disabilities - A review prepared for the National Rehabilitation Information Centre (NARIC). Washington D.C.: DATA Institute. 20 pages. $8 from CCC. Comprehensive Literature Review on Housing and Support for People with long term mental illness, including relevant learning from other fields, including housing and community development, homelessness, the elderly, developmental disabilities and the community integration literature. Concludes with a description of needed research and includes a comprehensive bibliography.

Carling, Paul J. (1987) The Community Support Movement: Transforming our Future Keynote presentation at the Eighth National CSP Learning Community Conference, Madison, Wisconsin. Burlington, VT:CCC. 10 year history of the movement, challenges and practical suggestions for real community integration. 28 pages. $6.00 from CCC.

Carling, Paul J. (1989) What challenges should a "Cutting Edge" mental health system tackle in the 1990s? and Tying together the themes of Project Quality: Directions for implementation in the 1990s. Keynote presentations to Project Quality conference, Holyoke, MA. Manuscript: Burlington VT: CCC. 26 pages. $6.00 from CCC. 20 year history of inclusive community in mental health and future challenges.

Carling, Paul J. (1992) "Homes or Group Homes?: Future approaches to housing, support and integration for people with psychiatric disabilities". Adults Residential Care Journal 6(2), 87 - 96. $2.50 from CCC. Describes how the supportive housing approach is replacing group homes as the preferred way to develop a home, a social network, and professional support.

Carling, Paul J. (1993) "Language: A Tool for Change" Tempo 3(1), 2. 1 page. $1.00 from CCC. Guidelines for use of respectful language and strategies for language busters.

Carnaby, S. (1999) Individual Programme Planning: Where is the 'Individual'? Tizard Learning Disability Review, Vol.3, No.3, pp4-12 article

Carr, E.G. and Carlson, J.I. (1993) Reduction of severe behaviour problems in the community using a multicomponent treatment approach. Journal of Applied Behaviour Analysis. 26, 2, 157-172. Cautions against the unthinking use of mainstreaming.

Carson S (1992) Normalisation, needs and schools Educational Psychology in Practice: 7(4), 216-22.

Carter E (2007) Including people with disabilities in faith settings. Brookes publishing.

Carter, G. & Jancar J. (1983) Mortality in the mentally handicapped: a 50 year study at the Stoke Park group of hospitals (1930 – 1980). Journal of mental deficiency research 27, 143 – 156.

Case, Caroline & Dalley, Tessa (1992) The Handbook of Art Therapy ISBN 0 415 04381 6. 280 pages. £17.99.

Catlin, D.W. & Maupin (2002) Ethical orientations of state police recruits and one-year experienced officers Journal of Criminal Justice, 30.6, 491-498.

Catty J, Burns T & Comas A (2001) Day centres for severe mental illness The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2001, Issue 2. Art No CD001710. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD001710. "Despite extensive searching, no randomised trials were found of non-medical day centres. At present non-randomised comparative studies give conflicting messages about the roles provided by day centres and the clinical and social needs they are able to meet. If a choice between facilities is available, people with serious mental illnesses and their carers are currently left to make their own judgements based on the evidence of a few non-randomised studies."

CCCC

Center on Human Policy (1989) Community Living for Adults 16 page newsbulletin highlighting promising practices, issues and resources in supporting adults in the community. Available free from the Center on Human Policy.

Center on Human Policy (1991) Policy Bulletin on Social Relationships One of a series of bulletins summarising research findings. This 8 page document looks at relationships between people with and without disabilities. Free from the Center on Human Policy.

Center on Human Policy (1993) Policy Bulletin on Safeguards addresses how safety can be increased by strengthening community and improving the assistance people receive. It also discusses the paradox of regulations. 18 pages free from the Center on Human Policy.

Center for Human Policy, Syracuse University have done an information package on inclusive education. See http://thechp.syr.edu/beyond_compliance.html Provided by Rachael Zubal in Jan 2004.

Chacksfield, John . Alcoholism and leisure behaviour. 1994-1999. Unpublished MPhil research. Principal research question: What is the relationship over time between a range of leisure activities and alcohol dependence? This was a controlled study on people with alcohol dependence in the community by an OT, supervised and analysed by Prof Woody Caan). Its number in the NHS National Research Register is N0287040912.

CHANGE and NIACE (2003) Training for Change. ISBN 1 86201 052 8. £50 for organisations run by and for people with learning disabilities, £150 for others. Available from NIACE. A training pack to support adults with learning disabilities to become trainers. Includes a video and an audio tape. The course can be taught by college and adult education staff. People with learning disabilities who have done the course can co-tutor the course.

Changeover Evaluation Report; Hampshire Hampshire Adult Services 1996 report report on changeover in day services to SE changeover, day services, SE

Chapman, J. (1988) Special education in the least restrictive environment: mainstreaming or maindumping Australia and New Zealand Journal of Developmental Disabilities 14(2) 123-34.

Chappell, A.L. (1992) Towards a sociological critique of the normalisation principle. Disability, Handicap and Society 7, 1, 35-51. The concerns of normalisation reflect those of professionals rather than users; normalisation does not explore the power differential between disabled and non-disabled people; in makes no analysis of the material and ideological factors which construct disability and impoverish and disempower service users.

Chappell, A.L. (2000) Emergence of participatory methodology in learning difficulty research: understanding the context British Journal of Learning Disabilities Vol.28, pp38-43 article discusses reasons for the increasing acceptance of participatory research over the emancipatory model

Chappell, Anne Louise (1994) "A question of friendship: community care and the relationships of people with learning difficulties" Disability and Society Vol 9, No 4, pp419-434. Reviews the literature on friendships in people with learning disabilities. Discusses the problems that normalisation can cause by appearing to devalue friendships between people with disability. It also discusses the obstacles in the way of increased friendships between people with learning disabilities and the general population.

Charisma Consultancy Everybody's Practical Guide to Church Access Gloucester Diocesan Board of Social Responsibility.

Children's Legal Centre (1998) Offering Confidentiality The Children's Legal Centre, University of Essex, Wivenhoe Park, Colchester CO4 3SQ Tel 01206 872 466 Advice Line 01206 873 820. The Centre has published an information sheet (price £4) setting out the legal position on confidentiality, in the hope that an understanding of the law will enable individuals and organisations to reflect on their own practice. I do not know how well this will copy into inclusion work...

Chilvers R, Macdonald GM, Hayes AA. Supported housing for people with severe mental disorders. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2002, Issue 4. Art. No.: CD000453. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD000453. "No studies met the inclusion criteria although 139 citations were acquired from the searches. Dedicated schemes whereby people with severe mental illness are located within one site or building with assistance from professional workers have potential for great benefit as they provide a 'safe haven' for people in need of stability and support. This, however, may be at the risk of increasing dependence on professionals and prolonging exclusion from the community. Whether or not the benefits outweigh the risks can only be a matter of opinion in the absence of reliable evidence. There is an urgent need to investigate the effects of supported housing on people with severe mental illness within a randomised trial."

Cioffari, A., Blanch A.K., Wilson, S.F., Carling, P.J. and Pierce, J. (1988) Building a vision of community support; A collaborative colloquium series. Western Interstate Commission on Higher Education Monograph on State Higher Education Collaboration. Pages 79 - 88. $2 from CCC.

Civil Renewal Unit (2005) Together we can London: Home Office. May have materials on neighbouring. This is the Home Office's national strategy on community engagement. Since May 2006, the unit that wrote this is part of the Department for Communities and Local Government.

Clark, S (2003) You cannot be serious: A guide to involving volunteers with mental health problems London: National Centre for Volunteering Clark, R. and Bond, G. (1996) Costs and benefits of vocational programs for people with serious mental illness. In: Moscarelli, M., Rupp, A. and Sartorius, N. (eds) Schizophrenia New York: Wiley.

Clark, Sharon (1994) Community Connections.. weaving friendships Texas Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities, 4900 North Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78751-2399.

Clarke, Isabel, Consultant Clinical Psychologist, Psychological Therapies Lead, NHS Acute Inpatient Unit in the New Forest. Isabel Clarke is a Consultant Clinical Psychologist, currently employed as Psychological Therapies Lead in a new NHS Acute Inpatient Unit in the New Forest. She has published, organised conferences and given talks in the area of Psychosis and Spirituality. Details of her publications and activities can be found on her web site: www.scispirit.com/Psychosis_Spirituality/

Clarke, M (1977) Basic Communities London: The Camelot Press.

Claxton, Guy (1997) Hare Brain, Tortoise Mind: Why Intelligence Increases When You Think Less This is a best seller. Guy is Visiting Professor of the Learning Sciences, University of Bristol.

Clegg, B. (1999) Instant Time Management Kogan Page

Coare, Pam & Johnston, Rennie (2003) Adult learning, citizenship and community voices: Exploring community-based practice Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 1 86201 160 5. 200 pages, £16.95.

Due out October. Theoretical framework for the relationship between adult learning and citizenship. Examples of asylum seekers, environmental activists, disabled people and excluded young people – how they think about citizenship and its impact on learning. Suggestions.

Code of Ethics and Practice for Counselling Skills British Assc. For Counselling 1989 summary Clarification of issues around ethics and expectations Counselling Cohen, B.F., Anthony, W.A. and Kennard, W.A. (1986) Opening the workplace to the psychiatrically disabled Business and Health March 1986 pp 9-11.

Cohen, L. & Mannion, L. (2000) Research Methods in Education Routledge book covers whole range of methods currently used by educational researchers

Cohen, C.I. and Sokolovsky, J. (1978) "Schizophrenia and social networks: Ex-patients in the inner city" Schizophrenia Bulletin 4,4, pp. 546-60.

Cole, A & Lloyd, A (2005) Shaping the future together: A strategic planning tool for services supporting people with learning disabilities London: Mental Health Foundation. ISBN 1 903645 603. Links PCP with service design. Download from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Coleman, R. (1999) Recovery – an alien concept Gloucester: Handsell Publishing

Collins, Michael F with Tess Gray. (2003) Sport and social exclusion. Routledge, £26.99 (ISBN: 0-415-25959-2) (pbk).

Comedia (1997) Use or ornament: The social impact of participation in the arts Stroud: Comedia

Commins, P. (1993) Combating exclusion in Ireland 1990-1994, A Midway Report. Brussels: European Commission.

Committee of Public Accounts: Remploy & SEP DfEE 1998 report SEP: recommendations for Improvement SPS, SEP, workshops

Community Care for Children with Cerebral Palsy: social work perspectives Practice Vol.11, No.4, pp15-26 article Examination of role of social workers and community care legislation community care

Condeluci, A. (1991) Interdependence: The Route to Community Orlando, FL: Deutsch Press. See especially pages 169-188. Order it from crcpress.com

Condeluci, A. (1996) Beyond Difference

Condeluci, A. (2002) Cultural Shifting TRN, PO Box 439, St. Augustine, FL 32084 USA.

Confederation for British Industry (in association with AXA) (2004) Room for Improvement: Absence and labour turnover. London: CBI.

Conference Planning Committee (1997) Building Bridges for Stronger Communities Info at PCSA

Conneally S., Boyle, G. & Smyth, F. (1992) An evaluation of the use of small group homes for adults with a severe and profound mental handicap Mental Handicap Research 5 pp 146-168.

Connect in the North (2005) The Graphic Kit £9.99 from Inclusion Distribution. A useful guide for graphic facilitators, formatted as an A to Z of images to use during meetings. It is presented in a handy ring binder with space for you to add your own graphics. It comes with simple guidelines and instructions to support even the most anxious graphic facilitator, along with an Assessment sheet for a mentor to assist the Graphic Facilitator in their work.

- Connor, A. 2004. Recovery and community connections. In S. Bradstreet, & W. Brown (Eds.), SRN Discussion Paper Series. Report No.2. Glasgow: Scottish Recovery Network.
- Connor, Anne (2006) Supporting people's mental health and well-being Outside the Box Development Support
- Cooper, D. (1999) The impact of current developments in post-compulsory education on young people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities British Journal of Special Education, Vol.26, No.3, pp123-126 article
- Cooper, H.; Arber, S.; Fee.L.; and Ginn, J. (1999) The influence of social support and social capital on health - a review and analysis of British data London: Health Education Authority.
- Copeland, M. E. (1997) WRAP: Wellness Recovery Action Plan(tm). W. Dummerston, VT: Peach Press.
- Copeland M.E. & Allott, P.K. (ed) (2005) Wellness Recovery Action Plan Sefton: Sefton Recovery Group.
- Corbett, J. & Barton, L. (1992) A Struggle for Choice: Students with Special Needs in Transition to Adulthood Routledge book
- Corby, J. (1999) A New Approach to Scope's Employment Service Provision 1999 report Project development initiative within SPS SPS, development
- Corlett, S (1996) Evidence to the National Committee of Inquiry into Higher Education article Skill's response to the inquiry consultation exercise
- Cormier, L., Grant, C., Hutchison, P., Johnson, N., and Martin L. (1986) "Facilitating friendship and integration for adults" Leisurability 13(1) 22-26.
- Cotterill, Lesley (1994) Title unknown. ISBN 1 85628 841 2. Aldershot: Avebury. Lesley Cotterill is in the Department of Sociology at the University of Manchester.Social networks, time budgets and social integration of people with schizophrenia.
- Coyne, J., Wortman, C. and Lehman, D. "The other side of support: Emotional overinvolvement and miscarried helping. Pp 11-51 In Gottlieb, B. (Ed) Marshalling social support: formats, processes and effects Newbury Park, CA: Sage Publications.
- Coyte ME, Gilbert P & Nicholls V (2007) Spirituality, Values and Mental Health: Jewels for the Journey. London, Jessica Kingsley.
- Crapps, J.M. and Stoneman, Z. (1989) Friendship patterns and community integration of family care residents. Research in Developmental Disabilities 10, 153-169.
- Crone-Grant, D. and Grant, T. (2000) Physical activity and mental health A Life in the Day Vol 4, issue 4 pp 11-14, November 2000.
- Crowther, R.; Marshall, M.; Bond, G. and Huxley, P. (2001) Vocational rehabilitation for people with severe psychiatric disorders The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2001, Issue 2 Art. No: CD003080 DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD003080. On the primary outcome (number in competitive employment) Supported Employment was significantly more effective than Pre-vocational training. Clients in Supported Employment also earned more and worked more hours per month than those in Pre-vocational training. There was no evidence that Pre-vocational training was more effective in helping clients to obtain competitive employment than standard community care.
- CSIE (Centre for Studies on Inclusive Education) (1999) Inclusion 1996-98. A continuing trend: statistics on special school placements and mainstream pupils with statements in England CSIE withdrew this report in October 1999 due to a serious misunderstanding about the nature of data at the point of supply.
- Cullen, C. (1991) Experiment and planning in community care Disability, Handicap and Society 6(2) 115-128. Can communities be designed that value cooperation, affection and independence? The fictional community of Walden II (B.F. Skinner 1948) which has such ideals is described, along with a real community in Mexico. Aspects of the philosophy of radical behaviourism that might be relevant to designing co-operative communities include the valuing of human diversity, and the importance of viewing people as a function of their social relations. This philosophy might provide the basis for sensible planning in the lives of learning disabled people.
- Curtis, L. C., and McCabe, S.S. (1990). "When a little is a lot: Creative approaches to ensuring housing and supports for people with psychiatric disabilities in rural communities." Rural Community Mental Health 18 (1) pages 7 - 8. $2 from CCC. Summaries a Workshop on promoting community integration for persons with psychiatric disabilities through the use of Generic Community Services and social support networks that are common in rural communities.
- Curtis, L., Tanzman, B.T., McCabe, S. and Carling, P. (1991) Boundaries and Ethics in Community Support Orientation Manual for Local Level Supported Housing Staff Burlington, VT: CCC.
- Curtis, L., Tanzman, B.T., McCabe, S. and Carling, P. (1991) Natural Support Networks Orientation Manual for Local Level Supported Housing Staff Burlington, VT: CCC.
- Curtis, M. Smithers, L. and Golding, C. (2000) The ghost in the machine. July. p11-12 Learning Disability Practice July Vol 3, No 2, p11-12. This article discusses a spirituality needs assessment.
- Dadzie, Stella, edited by Turner, Cheryl (1999) Making a difference: A resource pack for people who want to become more active citizens Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 186201 077 3. 209 pages, £60. Clearly signposted, practical activities that stimulate discussion about active citizenship, explore key ideas and develop knowledge and skills associated with individual and community action.
- Dagnan D, Howard B, Drewett RF. (1994) A move from hospital to community-based homes for people with learning disabilities: activities outside the home. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1994 Dec;38 (Pt 6):567-76.
- Dagnan, D. & Drewett, R. (1994) Effect of home size on the activity of people with learning disability who move from hospital to community based homes International Journal of Rehabilitation Research 17, pp 265 – 267.
- Dagnan D & Ruddick L (1997) The social networks of older people with learning disabilities living in staffed community based homes. British Journal of Learning Disabilities 43, pp 43-53.
- Dahlgren G. & Whitehead M, (1991) Policies and Strategies to Promote Social Equity in Health Stockholm, Institute for Future Studies.
- Dagleish, M., Barnes, S., and Matthews, R. (1983) External contacts of residents in hospitals and hostels for mentally handicapped adults. Community Medicine 5, 227-234.
- Danley, K., Sciarappa, K. and McDonald-Wilson, K. (1992) Choose-Get-Keep: A psychiatric rehabilitation approach to supported employment. New Directions for mental health services Spring, 53.

Davidson, Ben (1997) Mental illness does not have to mean unemployment Update Autumn 1997 page 12.

Davidson, Ben and Perkins, Rachel (8 Oct 1997) Mad to work here... Nursing Times Vol 93 No 41 pp 6 - 10.

Davidson, L.; Haglund KE.; Stayner DA.; Rakfeldt J.; Chinman MJ.; Tebas JK (2001) 'It was just realising... that life isn't one big horror': a qualitative study of supported socialisation. Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal 24: 275-92.

Davidson, L.; Stayner DA.; Nickou, C.; Styron TH.; Rowe M.; Chinman MJ. (2001). 'Simply to be let in', inclusion as a basis for recovery Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal 24: 375-88.

Davis, Ann & Hill, Phil (2001) Poverty, Social Exclusion and Mental Health: A Resource Pack London: Mental Health Foundation. £10. 62 pages. ISBN 1 903645 04 2. Tool for users, professionals and commissioners. Information on some of the most useful and accessible material written over the past 23 years on the reinforcing relationship between poverty, exclusion, mental health and well being. Overview of the current state of knowledge in the field and explores ways of developing poverty-aware mental health practice and policy.

Davis Smith, Justin (1998) The 1997 National Survey of Volunteering London: Institute for Volunteering Research.

Day Services Standards <http://www.choiceforum.org/daystds.pdf> These are some standards from Older people's services.

Dayson, D. (1992) "The TAPS Project 15: The social networks of two group settings: a pilot study" Journal of Mental Health 1 pp 99-106.

DDA: A Code of Practice DfEE 1996 Guide Practical guidance to employers and others to eliminate discrimination DDA

DDDD

de Kock, U., Saxby, H., Thomas, M., and Felce, D. (1988) Community and family contact: an evaluation of small community homes for adults with severe and profound handicaps. Mental Handicap Research 1, 2, 127-140.

Dean, Jo and Goodlad, Robin (1999?) Supporting Community Participation: The role and impact of befriending Brighton: Pavilion Publishing, and The Joseph Rowntree Foundation.. Based on research carried out through a postal survey, case studies and relevant literature, this report sets out to examine the role of befriending in community care. The report describes current befriending schemes, explores the nature of befriending relationships, and considers the value placed on befriending by different stakeholders.

Deegan, Patricia (1988) Recovery: The Lived Experience of Rehabilitation Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 11(4), 11-19.

Deegan P (1992) Recovery, rehabilitation and the conspiracy of hope: A keynote address Burlington VT: Center for Community Change Through Housing and Support. Available at www.bu.edu/resilience/examples/deegan-recovery-hope.pdf

Deegan, Patricia (1996) Recovery as a Journey of the Heart Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal, Vol. 19 No 3 p91-97.

Deegan, Patricia E. (1990) Real Lives for Real People: A keynote address Presented at "Real lives for real people: Community Integration through psychosocial rehabilitation", University of Massachusetts, March 22, 1990. 7 pages. $2.50 from CCC.

Delin, Annie (2000) Employing disabled people London: The Arts Council of England. £15. Draws on Arts Council Apprenticeship Scheme and includes 4 case studies, a section for advisors and mentors, examples of recruitment and learning programme documents, and a directory of a wide range of arts, disability, employment and training organisations. Extracts can be viewed on www.artscouncil.org.uk

Department of Health (1997) Omnibus survey of public attitudes to mental illness London: Department of Health.

Department of Health (1999) Welcoming patients with disabilities: disability awareness training: questions and answers Available from the Grass Roots Group PLC, Station Road, Tring HP23 5QZ.Tel 0870 870 5004.

Department of Health (1999) NHS day care facilities: England: financial year 1998-99 ISBN: 184182111X

Department of Health (1999) National Service Framework for Mental Health: Modern Standards and Service Models London: Department of Health

Department of Health (1999) 'Promoting volunteering and relations with the voluntary sector in the NHS and Social Care'. HSC 1999/023: LAC(99)6

Department of Health (2000) The NHS plan: a plan for investment, a plan for reform. London, The Stationery Office. ISBN: 010481829. Published July 2000. 144 pages. £15.00. Series Cm 4818-I

Department of Health (2000) An organisation with a memory: Report of an expert group on learning from adverse events in the NHS chaired by the Chief Medical Officer.

Department of Health (2001) Valuing People: A new strategy for learning disability for the 21st century London: Department of Health Cm5806. Dept of health have got a very accessible pack to support valuing people which can be ordered from doh@prolog.uk.com (ref. 23587).

Department of Health (2001) The Journey to Recovery. The Government's vision of mental health care London: Department of Health.

Department of Health (2004) National Standards, Local Action: Health and Social Care Standards and Planning Framework 2005/05 – 2007/08 Acknowledges mental health benefits of employment.

Department of Health, Care Services Improvement Partnership (2006) Reward and Recognition London, Department of Health.

Department of Health (2006) Vocational services for people with severe mental health problems: Commissioning guidance Download from http://www.dh.gov.uk/PublicationsAndStatistics/Publications/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidance/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidanceArticle/fs/en?CONTENT_ID=4131059&chk=GFhOHk

Department of Health (2006) Direct payments for people with mental health problems: A guide to action Download from http://www.dh.gov.uk/PublicationsAndStatistics/Publications/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidance/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidanceArticle/fs/en?CONTENT_ID=4131060&chk=7yvY37

Department of Health (2006) From segregation to inclusion: Commissioning guidance on day services for people with mental health problems Download from

http://www.dh.gov.uk/PublicationsAndStatistics/Publications/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidance/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidanceArticle/fs/en?CONTENT_ID=4131061&chk=WszvKz

Department of Health (2006) Supporting women into the mainstream: Commissioning women-only community day services Download from

http://www.dh.gov.uk/PublicationsAndStatistics/Publications/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidance/PublicationsPolicyAndGuidanceArticle/fs/en?CONTENT_ID=4131070&chk=9VG1w

Department of Health (2007) Independence, Choice and Risk: A guide to best practice in supported decision making

Department of Health (2009)

<http://www.newhorizons.dh.gov.uk/news/New-Horizons-launched/index.aspx>

Department of Work and Pensions (2001) United Kingdom National Action Plan on Social Exclusion 2001 – 2003 paragraph 63.

http://www.dwp.gov.uk/publications/dss/2001/uknap/uknap2001_03.pdf accessed 31 August 2003.

Department of Work and Pensions (2002) Pathways to work: helping people into employment London: Stationery Office.

DePauw, Karen P. and Gavron, Susan J. (1995) Disability and Sport

Dept of Health (1998) A Practical Guide for Disabled People resource pack Information on rights and services for people with disabilities rights, resources, services

Department of Work and Pensions, Department of Health, Department for Education and Skills and Office of the Deputy Prime Minister (2005) Improving the life chances of disabled people London: Strategy Unit

Design of the New Deal for 18-24 year olds DfEE 10/97 booklet Design principles governing the New Deal for 18-24 year olds New Deal, employment

DfEE (1995) Ending Discrimination against Disabled People Anti-discrimination legislation proposals

DfEE (1999) Employment Zones Seminar Briefing briefing report on issues identified from pilot zones employment zones

DiLeo, D. (1997) Reinventing Supported Employment for the Next Millennium Training Resource Network article S.E. in the next millennium

Disability Awareness Pack Mencap Pathway Service 1998 learning pack Disability Awareness Pack aimed at employers disability awareness

Disability Manifesto: Employment Section DM Working Group 1996 manifesto Manifesto to gain equal opportunities for people with disabilities discrimination, equal opps

Disability Politics and Community Care JKP book shows how involving people with disabilities in the design and production of their own welfare will break down disabling barriers empowerment

Disability Rights Commission (2003) Coming together" – a new discussion document on mental health and disability rights. The DRC's Mental Health Action Group, which advises the Commission, has released a discussion document that outlines 12 key disability rights issues of concern to users and survivors of mental health services. Big priorities include increasing employment opportunities, reducing benefit disincentives, education, shopping discrimination in the health services and access to justice – for instance, ending the bar on jury service for anyone receiving psychiatric services. The report is called "coming together" as it brings together the disability rights and the mental health agendas. The Mental Health Action Group recently presented its report to the Social Exclusion Unit, which is conducting an inquiry into social inclusion for people with mental health problems. To view this document, go to: <http://www.drc-gb.org/whatwedo/MHAG1.asp>

Dodd, Jocelyn & Sandell, Richard (2001) Including Museums: perspectives on museums, galleries and social inclusion Leicester: Research Centre for Museums and Galleries, University of Leicester. £15 from the Department of Museum Studies, University of Leicester. tel 0116 252 3963.

Donnellan, A. (1984). The criterion of the least dangerous assumption. Behavior Disorders, 9, 141-150.

Donkin, M (1994) The Merits of Supported Employment article

Dossa, Parin A. (1992) Ethnography as narrative discourse: community integration of people with developmental disabilities International Journal of Rehabilitation Research Vol 15 No 1 pp 1-14. An analysis based on ethnography as narrative of the old and the new. The old is segregation, leading to confined form of space and time. The new narrative is that of independence achieved through cyclical form of time and space. It is argued that community integration of people with developmental disabilities has taken place in relation to linear form of time and space, perpetuating the old narrative of isolation and segregation. The new narrative of independence requires the accommodation of differences by the non-disabled.

Downing, J.E. (1999) Teaching Communication Skills to Students with Severe Disabilities. Designed specifically for the inclusive classroom, the new strategies for assessing and intervention techniques prove an invaluable resource.

Downing, J. (2002) Including Students with Severe and Multiple Disabilities in Typical classrooms: Practical Strategies for Teachers, Second Edition. 288 pages. This newly updated, best-selling resource provides educators with all the latest knowledge on including students with both sensory impairments and cognitive and physical disabilities in the general classroom. $39.95 Available from TRN.

Downs, M (1989) Working with a psychiatric disability Burlington VT: CCC. 102 pages. $14.00 from CCC. In-depth interviews with 16 users about work.

Dowson, S. (1991) Moving to the Dance or Service culture and community care London: Values into Action.

Dowson, S. (1998) Certainties without centres? A discussion paper on day services for people who have learning difficulties Values into Action.

Dowson, Steve (1989) Moving to the Dance - or - Service Culture and Community Care London: VIA. Mechanical, analytical services can put people into the community, but can't help people become participants and citizens. £8.95 from VIA.

Doyel, Alice Weiss (2000) No More Job Interviews! Self-Employment Strategies for People with Disabilities. Writing from the perspective of a business owner with a disability, Alice Weiss Doyel lays out a bold plan. Aimed at people with disabilities who want to start a business and the employment specialists who support them, No More Job Interviews! explores in detail the essential employment option of self-employment. At the heart of the book are the chapters on business planning. Here, job seekers and employment specialists alike will find concise yet comprehensive business planning advice. And Doyel brings it all into the real world with real-life case studies of individuals with disabilities and their business plans. Their words will inspire others to consider self-employment. No More Job Interviews! debunks the myths that suggest that people with disabilities are not suitable candidates for self-employment. Self-employment has historically been overlooked and misunderstood by professionals who provide employment assistance to people with disabilities. As a result, self-employment has been largely utilized only as an option of last resort. Author Alice Doyel takes this issue head-on. No More Job Interviews! acknowledges the important role that employment and human services professionals often play in the lives of people with disabilities, and prescribes a role for them in supporting self-employment as a viable vocational option. Doyel gives employment professionals a basic business "tool kit" for helping people with disabilities make the dream of business ownership a reality. Contents: 1 Entrepreneurs with Disabilities Can Succeed. 2 Who Can Be an Entrepreneur? 3 Perspectives on Entrepreneurship Training. 4 Challenges for Entrepreneurs with Disabilities. 5 Entrepreneurs with Disabilities Create Their Own Accommodations. 6 Owner-Oriented Business Planning. 7 Debunking Business Planning Misconceptions. 8 Business Planning: Addressing Business Challenges. 9 Designing Programs to Support Entrepreneurs with Disabilities. 10 Collaboration Self-Employment for People with Severe Disabilities: An Interview with David Hammis.

Draft Contract for SEPES 1997 contract SEP contract for Scope SPS, contract

Drake, Robert E., McHugo, Gregory J., Becker, Deborah R., Anthony, William A., Clark, Robin E. (1996) "The New Hampshire Study of Supported Employment for People with Severe Mental Illness" Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology Vol 64, No 2, 391-399

Drewett, R., Dagnan, D. Tonner, J. & Maychell C. (1993) Neighbourhood walks: a semi-quantitative method for assessing the access people with learning difficulty have to resources in their community Mental Handicap Research 6, pp 142-154.

Duncan, Janet and Hulgin, Kathy (1993) Resources on Inclusive Education Was prepared by Duncan and updated by Hulgin. Includes sample case studies, reprints of chapters and articles on inclusive education, a list of important factors in inclusion and a bibliography. 99 pages. $5.20 from the Center on Human Policy.

Duncan, L. et al (1999) Resources and Funding for Transition Indiana Dept. of Ed. report resource identification and procurement strategy for school and adult supports Dunn, Sara (1999) Creating accepting communities: report of the Mind Inquiry into social exclusion London: Mind. ISBN 1 874 690 87 1.

Dybwad, G. (1980) Avoiding misconceptions of mainstreaming, the least restrictive environment and normalisation Exceptional Children 47(2) 85-88.

Dyson, A. et al (1998) Effective Communication Between Schools, LEAs & Health & Social Services in the Field of Special Educational Needs DFEE, ref:RR60 report research into the transition from education to 'adult life'

East Sussex, Brighton and Hove Health Authority (?) Promoting Positive Mental Health Pavilion Publishing. 25 interactive activities ranging from awareness raising to enabling change in practice. covers contentment in life, preparing for and managing change, how to enhance our environment and realising our goals. £29.95.

Eastwood, Nicola (1999) The Sports Funding Guide London: Directory of Social Change. Tel 0207 209 5151.

Eayrs, C.B., and Ellis, N. (1990) Charity advertising - for or against people with mental handicap? British Journal of Social Psychology 29(4) 349-66. This investigates whether it is possible for charity advertising to stimulate donations successfully as well as represent people with disabilities as valued human beings. It considers the effect of posters from a MENCAP campaign on a panel of subjects.

Edgerton, R.B. (1993) The cloak of competence Berkeley, CA, USA: University of California Press.

Eglij, M., Feurer, I., Roper, T. & Thompson, T. (2002) The role of residential homelikeness in promoting community participation by adults with mental retardation Research in Development Disabilities 23, 179-190.

EEEE

Eklund, D. (1996) Management Audit of the Supported Employment programme in King County Council Seattle USA King County Audit Office report report on the performance of the King County supported employment program

Elizabeth M. Boggs Center on Developmental Disabilities (2005, updated biannually) Dimensions of Faith and Congregational Ministries with Persons with Developmental Disabilities and Their Families. Available as 180-page pdf from rwjms.umdj.edu/boggscenter/products/dimensions.htm

Emerson, E.; Robertson, J.; Gregory N.; Kessissoglou, S.; Hatton, C.; Hallam, A.; Knapp, M.; Jarbrink, K. Walsh, P. & Netten A. (2000) The quality and costs of village communities, residential campuses and community-based residential supports in the UK. American journal of mental retardation 105, 81-102.

Employer's Forum on Disability (1997) Good Practice, Great Business Fact Sheets Good business practice and the Disability Discrimination Act.

Employment Service (1995) Supported employment programme – annual statement 1994/95 London: Employment Services, Disability Branch

Entourage Magazine comes out four times a year by the Roeher Institute and the Canadian Association for Community Living. In French the word "entourage" refers to the people around us, our community, friends, family, colleagues; those involved in our life. $18 per annum from the Canadian Association for Community Living.

Ericsson, K., Lerman, B. & Nilsson, I. (1985) Mentally handicapped persons' participation in the community: the role of institutional and integrated services Australia and New Zealand Journal of Developmental Disabilities 11(2) pp 83-90.

Estroff, S. (1989) Self, Identity and subjective experiences of schizophrenia: In search of the subject. Schizophrenia Bulletin 15, 2, 189-196.

Evans, D. et al (1997) Primary Care Research Networks: Report to the NHS Executive South and West R&D Directorate Southampton: Institute for Health Policy Studies. Recommended by Andrea Wild as a good summary of different forms of network.

Evans, G. and Murcott, A. (1990) Community Care: relationships and control Disability, Handicap and Society Vol 5 pp 123-135.

Evans, G., Felce, D., de Paiva, S., and Todd, S. (1992) Observing the delivery of a domiciliary support service Disability, Handicap and Society 7, 1, 19-34.

Evans, G., Todd, S., Blunden R., Porterfield, J. & Ager, A. (1987) Evaluating the impact of a move to ordinary housing British Journal of Mental Subnormality 33(64) pp 10-18.

Evans, J. and Repper, Julie (2000) Employment, social exclusion and mental health Journal of Mental Health and Psychiatric Nursing Everitt, Angela & Hamilton, Ruth (2003) Arts, Health and Community. Durham: CAHHM. It is a study of five community-based arts in health projects in the UK. The field research was carried out between 1999 and 2001. The study was funded through grants from The King's Fund, the Nuffield Trust, and Northern Rock Foundation. The projects requesting the evaluation and included in this study comprise: the Wrekenton Lantern Project in Gateshead; South Tyneside Arts Studio in South Shields; the West End Health Resource Centre in Newcastle upon Tyne; Looking Well in High Bentham, and the Bromley-by-Bow Centre in East London. This 100-page illustrated publication is a revised and edited version of the full report presented by the researchers to the projects and funders in 2002. It provides detail on the five arts and health projects and their programmes of work. It considers the mechanisms that appeared to be crucial in the practice of arts in health in community settings and its effectiveness in generating health benefits to participants and professionals in their communities. It presents a range of outcomes with respect to the links between arts in community-based projects and health. It is available from the Centre for Arts and Humanities in Health and Medicine (CAHHM), 15 Old Elvet, Durham DH1 3HP. E-mail: cahhm.info@durham.ac.uk Price £10, cheques payable to University of Durham.

Fabian, E.S., Luecking, R.G., Tilson, G.P. Jnr (1994) Partnerships at Work book Ch.4- When Will Persons in Supported Employment need less Support

Factor, Alan (1997) Aging with developmental disabilities: An information packet on understanding age-related changes and supporting successful aging Available from ADDVANTAGE. This packet provides a basic understanding of age-related changes and their implications for adults with developmental disabilities and their families. Topics include..... practical approaches for supporting individual choice and community membership.

Faiers, A. (2004) Title unknown but about mental health and social inclusion The Journal of Mental Health Promotion. Available at <http://www.pavpub.com/pavpub/useredit/journals/J840304c.pdf>

Faith and inclusion stories at www.cjsn.org/articles

Falvey, Mary., Forest, Marsha., Pearpoint, Jack and Rosenberg, Richard (1994) All my life's a circle: Using the tools: Circles, MAPS and PATH. Toronto: Inclusion Press. Available from Inclusion Distribution £4.00. All you wanted to know about facilitating creative opportunities for children who have special needs to become fully participant in their local mainstream school in a way that benefits all children.

Farmer, R.; Rhode, J. & Sachs, B. (1991) Dimensions of Mental Handicap London: Charing Cross and Westminster Medical School.

Faulkner, Alison and Layzell, Sarah (2000), Strategies for Living London: The Mental Health Foundation. ISBN 0 901944 72 6. £22.50, 115 pages. Interviews with more than 70 mental health service users.

Faulkner, G. and Biddle, S. (1999) Exercise as an adjunct treatment for schizophrenia: A review of the literature Journal of Mental Health Vol 8, No 5, pp 441-457.

FEFC (1996) Inclusive Learning report Summary of the findings of the Learning Difficulties and/or Disabilities Committee

FEFC (1998) Basic education: Report from the Inspectorate. Curriculum area survey report Coventry: Further Education Funding Council.

Fields, Dail L (2002) Taking the measure of work: a guide to validated scales for organisational research and diagnosis. Sage Publications. Peter Huxley says that this book seems to provide excellent summaries of different approaches to assessing workplace health and culture, including some models based more on complexity than Taylorist approaches.

Feiler, A. & Gibson, H. (1999) Threats to the Inclusive Movement British Journal of Special Education, Vol.26, No.3, pp147-151 article

Felce D, Perry J. (1995) Quality of life: its definition and measurement. Res Dev Disabil. 1995 Jan-Feb;16(1):51-74. Review.

Felce D, Perry J. (1995) The extent of support for ordinary living provided in staffed housing: the relationship between staffing levels, resident characteristics, staff: resident interactions and resident activity patterns. Soc Sci Med. 1995 Mar;40(6):799-810.

Felce D, Perry J. (1995) The extent of support for ordinary living provided in staffed housing: the relationship between staffing levels, resident characteristics, staff: resident interactions and resident activity patterns. Soc Sci Med. 1995 Mar;40(6):799-810.

Felce D. (1997) Defining and applying the concept of quality of life. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1997 Apr;41 (Pt 2):126-35.

Felce, D & Beyer, S (1997) Making Progress Together book Ch4: Innovations in Evaluating Services for People with Intellectual Disabilities

Felce, D & Perry, J (1995) Quality of Life: Its definition and measurement model of quality of life

Felce, D (1996) Ways to Measure Quality of Outcome: An essential ingredient in quality assurance article Quality monitoring needs to be an integral part of service operation

Felce, D. (1988) Evaluating the extent of community integration following the provision of staffed residential alternatives to institutional care. Irish Journal of Psychology 9, 2, 346-360.

Felce, D. (1994) Costs, quality and staffing in services for people with severe learning disabilities Journal of mental health vol 3 pp 495 – 506.

Felce, D. (1994) Facilitated Communication: Results from a Number of Recently Published Evaluations British Journal of Learning Disabilities Vol.22, pp122-126 article Critical analysis of Facilitated Communication as a means of expressing feelings and opinions by people with little or no expressive language

Felce, D. (1996) the quality of support for ordinary living: resident interactions and resident activity. In Mansell, J. & Ericsson, K.(eds) Deinstitutionalisation and community living: intellectual disability services in Britain, Scandinavia and the USA London: Chapman and Hall.

Felce, D., Grant, G., Todd, S., Ramcharan, P., Beyer, S., McGrath, M., Perry, J., Shearn, J., Kilsby, M. & Lowe, K. (1998) Towards a full life Oxford: Butterworth Heinemann

Felce, D.; Lowe, K.; Perry J.; Baxter, H.; Jones, E.; Hallam, A. & Beecham, J. (1998) Service support to people with severe intellectual disabilities and the most severe challenging behaviours in Wales: processes, outcomes and costs. Journal of Intellectual Disability Research 42, 390-408.

Felce, D.; Lowe, K.; Perry, J.; Jones, E.; Baxter, H. and Bowley, C. (1999) The quality of residential and day services for adults with learning disabilities in eight local authorities in England: Objective data gained in support of a Social Services Inspectorate inspection. Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disability 12, 273-293.

Ferguson, P., Hibbard, M. Leinen, J. and Schaff, S. (1990) "Supported community life: Disability policy and the renewal of mediating structures" Journal of Disability Policy Studies 1, 1:10-35.

FFFF

Firth H, Short D. A move from hospital to community: evaluation of community contacts. Child Care Health Dev. 1987 Sep-Oct;13(5):341-54.

Firth, H. (1986) A Move To Community: Social Contacts and Behaviour Northumberland Health Authority.

Firth, H. and Rapley, M. (1987 revised 1989) Making Acquaintance Northumberland Health Authority District Psychology Service.

Firth, H. and Short, D. (1987) A move from hospital to community: evaluation of community contacts. Child: care, health and development 13, 341-354.

Flannery, K.B., Newton, J.S., Horner, R. H., Slovic, R., Blumberg, R., & Ard, W.R. (2000). The impact of person centered planning on the content and organization of individual supports. Career Development in Exceptional Individuals 23(2), 123-137.

Flynn, M. (1989) Independent Living for adults with mental handicap: A place of my own London: Cassell Educational.

Flynn, M. (1989) The social environment. In Brechin and Walmsley (eds)

Flynn, Margaret (1987) "The neighbours aren't nice with me" Community Living Vol 1 No 3.

Forest, Marsha and Snow, Judith The Joshua Committee: An Advocacy Model Toronto, Ontario, Canada: Roehner.

Forrester, Susan (2000) The Arts Funding Guide London: Directory of Social Change. Tel 0207 209 5151.

Forrester-Jones, R. and Grant, G. (1997) Resettlement from large psychiatric hospital to small community residence Aldershot: Avebury.

Forrester-Jones, R. and Grant, G. (1994) Social networks, support and resettlement of people with long-term mental health problems from a North Wales hospital. To be published in Crosby, C. and Barry, M. (eds) Community Mental Health Care: The Re-provision of Mental Health Services in North Wales. Aldershot, Avebury. This copy published March 1994 Bangor, Gwynedd: The Centre for Social Policy Research and Development, University of Wales.

Foster, A (2001) Duty to Care and The Need to Split. J. Social Work Practice, Vol 15, No.1. pp81-90.

Foster, E.J. (1994) Some factors associated with the retention of students with mental health problems in community education. Unpublished M.Ed thesis. Quoted in Wertheimer 1997.

Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities (2004) Why Are We Here? Spirituality and the Lives of People with Learning Disabilities. Updates: Volume 5, Issue 11. London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. Download from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities (2006) Faith in Practice This film highlights how faith communities can support people with learning disabilities. A team of people with learning disabilities were involved in the production of the film, which examines how the Sikh, Muslim, Christian, Jewish and Hindu faiths can support people with learning disabilities. Faith leaders and people with learning disabilities feature in the film. Faith in Practice is available in DVD and video format, from 8 June 2006. Copies are priced £12.50, but are free to people with learning disabilities and family carers.

Frado, L.M. (1993) Learning diversity: accommodations in colleges and universities for students with mental illness Canadian Association for mental health.

FratAngelo, Patricia; Olney, Marjorie and Lehr, Sue (2001?) One Person at a Time: How One Agency Changed from Group to Individual Services for People with Disabilities People with significant developmental disabilities don't have to live in institutions, large congregate facilities, or group homes. They can live in homes of their own choosing, with the people and supports they want and need. One Person at a Time chronicles how Onondaga Community Living left behind group home models to pioneer individualized housing and support, called supported living. It is the story of one agency's quest to serve people based on what each person really wants and needs, rather than fitting people into pre-existing models. Available from TRN, PO Box 439, St. Augustine, FL 32084 USA.

Fryers, T. (1993) Epidemiological thinking in mental retardation: issues in taxonomy and population frequency. In International Review of Research in Mental Retardation Vol 19 (ed N.W. Bray) San DiegoCA: Academic Press.

Fullwood, Deborah (1990) Chances and Choices: Making Integration work Baltimore, Maryland: Brookes Publishing

Further Education Funding Council (1996) Inclusive Learning: Report of the learning difficulties and/or disabilities committee chaired by Professor John Tomlinson. Also subsequent papers.

Further Education Unit (1986) Transition to Adulthood: A Curriculum Framework for Students with Severe Physical Disabilities FEU report report on the project 'Transition to Adulthood'

Gardiner, K. (1997) Bridges from benefit to work York: Joseph Rowntree Foundation

Gaventa, Bill (ed) (2000) Dimensions of faith and congregational ministries with persons with developmental disabilities and their families Available from AAMR.

Gaventa, Bill and Henshaw, Sue (?) On the road again: It's about time Available from AAMR.

Gaventa, Bill and Henshaw, Sue (?) On the road to community inclusion Available from AAMR.

GGGG

Gilbert, Peter. Read article on spirituality and mental health national NIMHE Spirituality and Mental Health Project <http://www.communitycare.co.uk/Articles/2006/01/19/52421/Breathing+space.html>

Gilbert, T. (1993) A Systematic Approach To Care in Bridgen P and Todd M Concepts in Community Care For People With A Learning Difficulty. MacMillan, Basingstoke

Gillies, L.A., Wasylenki, D.A., Lancee, W.J., James, S., Clark, C.C., Lewis, J., and Goering, P. (1993) Differential outcomes in social network therapy. Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 16, 3, 141-146.

Glass, Thomas A.; de Leon, Carlos Mendes; Marottoli, Richard A.; & Brekman, Lisa F. (1999) Population based study of social and productive activities as predictors of survival among elderly Americans. British Medical Journal Vol 319 pp 478-483.

Glenn, S. & Lyons, C. (1996) European Journal of Supported Employment and Vocational Rehabilitation Issue 2.

Goffman, E. (1961) Asylums: essays on the social situation of mental patients and other inmates Harmondsworth: Penguin.

- Goffman, E. (1963) Stigma: Notes on the management of a spoiled identity New York: Simon & Schuster.
- Goklany, IM (2007) The improving state of the world Washington DC: Cato Institute
- Gold C, Haldal TO, Dahle T, Wigram T. Music therapy for schizophrenia or schizophrenia-like illnesses. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2005, Issue 2. Art. No.: CD004025.pub2. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD004025.pub2. "Music therapy as an addition to standard care helps people with schizophrenia to improve their global state and may also improve mental state and functioning if a sufficient number of music therapy sessions are provided. Further research should address the dose-effect relationship and the long-term effects of music therapy."
- Goodlad, Sinclair (1995) Students as Tutors and Mentors London: Kogan Page. In modern usage, student tutoring and mentoring involve students from colleges and universities.... helping pupils in local schools... on a sustained and systematic basis ... under the direction and supervision of teachers. There are 19 chapters that examine tutoring and mentoring across countries, age levels, perspectives and settings (eg prisons, universities, museum interpreters, early childhood, benefits for mentors, developing countries).
- Dan Goodley, Dan & Moore, Michele (2002) Disability Arts Against Exclusion: People with Learning Difficulties and their Performing Arts Kidderminster: British Institute of Learning Disabilities. The authors make a powerful case for the importance of people with learning disabilities taking part in performing arts, with particular emphasis on drama and dance. Examples of good practice, in particular dance and drama companies, are set alongside a review of disability arts in the wider context of debates about inclusion and human rights. A well researched resource for professionals, carers, service providers and parents who want to know how participation in the arts can promote - or hinder - the promotion of personal choice and control for people with learning disabilities. £16.00. ISBN 1 904082 36 X BILD Publications, Plymbridge Distributors, Estover Road, Plymouth, PL6 7PZ, UK. Tel. 01752 202301 Fax 01752 202333
- Gosling, P. (1994) A little bit of freedom: A survey of what people with mental health problems want from education and training Southwark Day Care Forum.
- Gottlieb, B. (Ed) Marshalling social support: formats, processes and effects Newbury Park, CA: Sage Publications
- Gottlieb, B. and Coppard, A.E. (1987) "Using social network therapy to create support systems for the chronically mentally disabled" Canadian Journal of Community Mental Health 6, pp117-31.
- Gottlieb, B.H. (1985) Assessing and strengthening the impact of social support on mental health Social Work July/August. Pp 293-300.
- Gottlieb, B.H. (1985) Social networks and social support: An overview of research, practice and policy implications. Health Education Quarterly 12, 5-22.
- Granovetter, M.S. (1973) "The strength of weak ties" American Journal of Sociology 78: 1360-80.
- Grant, G. (1993) Support networks and transitions over two years among adults with a mental handicap. Mental Handicap Research 6, 1, 36 - 55.
- Grant, G. and Wenger, G.C. (1993) Dynamics of support networks: differences and similarities between vulnerable groups. Irish Journal of Psychology. 14, 1, 79-98
- Grant, G., McGrath, M. and Ramcharan, P. (1995) "Community inclusion of older people with learning disabilities" Care in Place 2,1, 29-34.
- Grant, T (Ed) (2000) Physical Activity and Mental Health - national consensus statement and guidelines for practice. Health Education Authority (available from Health Promotion England 01235 464565)
- Grant, Trudi (ed) (2000) Physical Activity and Mental Health: National consensus statements and guidelines for practice London: Health Education Authority.
- Gray, P & Dessent, T (1993) Getting Our Act Together British Journal of Special Education, Vol.20, No.1, pp9-11 article
- Greatorex, H., Catherine, H., Beeforth, M. and Swirsky, H. (1993) The education programme: Adult education as a model for a rehabilitation day service Conference presentation, South Downs NHS Trust.
- Greenbery, J.S.; Greenley, J.R. and Benedict, P. (1994) Contributions of persons with serious mental illness to their families Hospital and Community Psychiatry Vol 45 No 5, 475 - 480.
- Green-McGowan, K. & Kovaks, M. (1984) Twenty-four hour planning for persons with complex needs The Canadian Journal on Mental Retardation 34, 1, 3-11.
- Gregory, S. (1989) People with disabilities and the religious community Connecticut: Connecticut's University Affiliated Program on Developmental Disabilities
- Grenot-Scheyer, M. et al (eds) (2001) At the End of the Day: Lessons Learned in Inclusive Education. 202 pages. Encompasses eight case studies featuring diverse students from preschool to high school with varying disabilities combining research, strategies and ways to build social relationships among students.
- Gretz, S. "Citizen participation: Connecting people to associational life" in Schwartz, D. 1991.
- Griffin, C.C. and Sweeney, J. (??) Approaching Zero Exclusion: The role of positive behavioural supports in community employment
- Griffin, R.D. (1991) The Disabilities Act CQ Researcher, Vol.1, No.32, pp993-1016 article
- Griffith, James L. (2001) Encountering the sacred in psychotherapy: How to talk to people about their spiritual lives Guilford Press. ISBN 1 57230 701 3. 311 pages. £26.95. A framework is presented to help therapists listen and respond when spiritual or religious themes are invoked; ask appropriate questions about beliefs, practices, and communities; and work collaboratively to identify personally meaningful resources for change. Emphasises the need to honour the language, ideas, and traditions that each individual brings to the therapeutic setting.
- Griffiths, M. (1989) Working Together?: Enabled to Work: Support into Employment for Young People with Disabilities F.E.U. Report
- Grove, Bob (1998) The Government's new employment agenda: implications for mental health service managers Managing Community Care Vol 6, No 5 pp 193-199. Oct 1998.
- Grove, Bob; Secker, Jenny and Seebohm, Patience (eds) (2005) New Thinking about Mental Health & Employment. Abingdon: Radcliffe Publishing Ltd.
- Guralnick, M.J. (ed) (2001) Early Childhood Inclusion: Focus on Change. 569 pages. Based on research and experience, the authors examine benefits and drawbacks of inclusion, leading influences, and issues that face children in different environments with different developmental challenges. Retail price $65.00.

Hagan, T. & Smail, D. (1997) Power-Mapping – 1 Background and basic methodology Journal of Community and Applied Social Psychology Vol 7 257-267.

Hagner, D. & DiLeo, D. (1993) Working Together: Workplace Culture, Supported Employment, and Persons with Disabilities. In a highly readable format, the authors present practical approaches from career planning and job development to developing mentor relationships and co-worker supports on the job.

Hagner, D. (1999) The Scope and Power of Workplace Culture Supported Employment Infolines Dec'99/Jan'00 pp4-5 TRN article discussion about the evidence of a healthy workplace is its ability to assimilate people with disabilities

Hagner, David (1989) The Social Integration of Supported Employees: A Qualitative Study Examines the social interactions that occur within supported employment settings, between workers with disabilities and nondisabled co-workers, and the job supports at work settings, including the relationships between formal and informal job supports. 114 pages. $6.05 from the Center on Human Policy.

Hagner, David and Murphy, S. (1989) "Closing the gap on sheltered work: Case studies of organisational change" Journal of Rehabilitation 55, 68-74.

Hagner, David, Rogan, P. and Murphy S. (1992) "Facilitating natural supports in the workplace: strategies for support consultants" Journal of Rehabilitation 58(1) 29-34.

Hall, Mair and Lambert, Philip (?) Faith communities and inclusion of people with developmental disabilities Available from AAMR.

Hallam, R. (1995) Mental health work rehabilitation services in the United States: Innovation and good practice Work - A Journal of Prevention, Assessment and Rehabilitation 5, 41-50.

Halliday, M.A.K. (1968) Language and Experience Educational Review Vol.20, No.2, pp95-105 article language development

Halliday, M.A.K. (1971) Language in a Social Perspective Educational Review Vol.23, No.3, pp165-187 article What is the nature of language

Halliday, M.A.K. (1977) Explorations in the Functions of Language Arnold book Exploring the functional approach to the study of language

Halpern, David (?) 'Mental Illness and the built environment: more than bricks and mortar?' London: Taylor Francis. Vanessa Pinfold recommends this book as good at public health, epidemiology and high levels of mental illness in poor communities.

Hamilton, M. (1989) Learning for Life: The Experience of Young Adults with Moderate Learning Difficulties Rathbone Society Report

Hammel, Joy & Nochajski, Susan (eds) (2001) Aging and Developmental Disability: Current Research, Programming, and Practice Implications. The Haworth Press. Joy Hammel, PhD, OTR/L, FAOTA Assistant Professor, Occupational Therapy Department, University of Illinois, Chicago; and Susan M. Nochajski, PhD, OTR Assistant Professor, Occupational Therapy Department, State University of New York, Buffalo. Contents: Introduction: Aging and Developmental Disability: Current Research, Programming, and Practice Implications. The Impact of Age-Related Changes on the Functioning of Older Adults with Developmental Disabilities. Overview of Health Issues of Older Women with Intellectual Disabilities. Assistive Technology and

Environmental Intervention (AT-EI) Impact on the Activity and Life Roles of Aging Adults with Developmental Disabilities: Findings and Implications for Practice. Supporting Adults with Intellectual Disabilities and Their Families in Planning and Advocacy: A Literature Review. Challenges to Aging in Place: The Elder Adult with MR/DD. Aging and Developmental Disability Information Resources. Index. Reference Notes Included. The Haworth Press, Inc. <http://www.haworthpressinc.com/>

Hammer, M. (1986) "The role of social networks in schizophrenia" pp 115-28 Burrows, G. D., Norman, T.R. and Rubinstein, G. (eds) Handbook of studies on schizophrenia Part 2: Management and research Oxford, Elsevier Hanko, G. (1995) Special needs in ordinary classrooms - From staff development to staff support 3rd edition. David Fulton Publishers.

Harding, E; Taylor, A; Brown, S; Hardisty, J; Rinaldi, M & Perkins R (2004) User Employment Programme Progress Report April 2004 South West London & St George's Mental Health NHS Trust.

Harding, R (1999) Finding Work article Info. for people with Asberger Syndrome on looking for work Haring, G. (1991) Social relationships. In Meyer, Peck and Brown (1991) op cit.

Harkins D. Hope, opportunity, and possibility: supporting people with developmental disabilities at the end of the 20th century. Ment Retard. 1998 Apr;36(2):163-4.

Harries, P.A. & Caan, A.W. (1994) What do psychiatric inpatients and ward staff think about Occupational Therapy? British Journal of Occupational Therapy; 57: 219-223. Small scale study that showed people with mental health problems had poorly developed hobbies and leisure skills which improved with OT at the Bethlem Royal hospital.

Harrington, C. (2001) Barrier-Free Travel: A Nuts and Bolts Guide for Wheelers and Slow Walkers 230 pages. A useful resource containing detailed information about the logistics of planning accessible travel by plane, train, bus and ship. $19.79 from TRN.

Harris, Tirril; Brown, George W.; and Robinson, Ruth (1999) Befriending as an intervention for chronic depression among women in an inner city. 1: randomised controlled trial British Journal of Psychiatry (1999) 174, 219-224.

Harris, Tirril; Brown, George W.; and Robinson, Ruth (1999) Befriending as an intervention for chronic depression among women in an inner city. 2: Role of fresh-start experiences and baseline psychosocial factors in remission from depression British Journal of Psychiatry (1999) 174, 225-232.

Hasler, K (1997) Empowerment Project Group Pack report Strategies for developing a policy of inclusion.

Hatfield, B., Huxley, P. and Mohamad, F.H. (1992) Accommodation and employment: A survey into the circumstances and expressed needs of users of mental health services in a northern town. British Journal of Social Work 22, 60-73.

Hatton, C. & Emerson, E. (1996) Residential provision for people with learning difficulties: a research review Manchester: Hester Adrian Research Centre.

Hatton, C. and Emerson, E. (1994) Moving Out. Health Service Journal 19 May, 23-24.

Hatton, Chris; Turner, Susannah; Shah, Robina; Rahim, Nabela, Stansfield, Julie (2004) What About Faith?: A good practice guide for services on meeting the religious needs of people with learning disabilities. London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. £45.

Hatton, Chris; Turner, Susannah; Shah, Robina; Rahim, Nabela, Stansfield, Julie (2004) Religious expression, a fundamental human right: The report of an action research project on meeting the religious needs of people with learning disabilities London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. £10 or download from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Hayden, M. and Abery, B. (eds) (1994) Challenges for a service system in transition: Ensuring quality community experiences for persons with developmental disabilities Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co.

Hayden, M.F., Lakin, K.C., Hill, B.K., Bruininks, R.H. & Copher, J.I. (1992) Social and leisure integration of people with mental retardation in foster homes and small group homes. Education and training in mental retardation 27, 187-199.

Hayhoe, H (1999) What Happens when students with severe learning difficulties interact in an inclusive college? Article student integration project report Heal, Laird, W., Haney, Janell I. And Amado, Angela R. Novak (1988) Integration of Developmentally Disabled Individuals into the Community Baltimore, Paul H. Brookes. This book has a bibliography of 660 references.

Health Education Authority (1997) Mental health promotion: A quality framework London: HEA. £9.50. ISBN 0 7521 1042 X. This practical guide will help health promotion specialists to develop activities and strategies based on evidence of effectiveness, good practice and measurable results. It is a must for all those working to improve the mental well-being of individuals, families, organisations and communities.

Health Education Authority (1998) Community action for mental health London HEA. Includes examples of arts on prescription and exercise on prescription in mental health.

Health Education Authority (1998) Healthy living with schizophrenia London: HEA. £5. ISBN 0 7521 1412 3. A practical guide to enable people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia to acquire and maintain good health. It covers all aspects of living with schizophrenia from symptoms and self help to medication and the Mental Health Act.

Health Education Authority (1999) Effectiveness of mental health promotion interventions: A review London: HEA. ISBN 0 7521 0889 1. £15. A summary can be seen at www.hea.org.uk under research.

Health Education Authority (1999) Effectiveness of physical activity promotion schemes in primary care: A review London: HEA. £15. ISBN 0 7521 1283X

Health Education Authority (1999) Physical activity 'in our lives': qualitative research among disabled people London: HEA. This report looks at the attitudes, beliefs, motivations and barriers among disabled people in relation to physical activity. 96 A4 pages. £15.

Health Education Authority (1999) The influence of social support and social capital on health: A review analysis of British data London: HEA. £15. 128 pages. ISBN 0 7521 1433 6. The aim of this research study was to analyse the relationship between social support, health-related behaviour and health. It investigated how diet, exercise, smoking and alcohol consumption are influenced by such factors as stress, and access to emotional and practical support. The research was informed by a literature review that was carried out prior to the study which looked at the impact that social capital - the characteristics of the social environment - has on individual and collective well-being.

Health Education Authority (1999) Promoting Mental Health: The Role of Faith Communities – Jewish and Christian Perspectives London: HEA. ISBN 0 7521 1767 X.

Heasman, David (2004) "The Active Advice Pilot Project: Leisure Enhancement and Social Inclusion for People with Severe Mental Health Problems" The British Journal of Occupational Therapy, Volume 67, Number 11, November 2004, pp. 511-514(4).

Heitzmann, C.A. & Kaplan R.N. (1988) Assessment of methods for measuring social support. Health Psychology 7, 75-109.

Heller, T.; Factor, A.; Sterns, H.; & Sutton E. (1996) Impact of person centred later life planning training program for older adults with mental retardation Journal of Rehabilitation 62, 77-83.

Henderson C, Laugharne R. Patient held clinical information for people with psychotic illnesses. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 1999, Issue 3. Art. No.: CD001711. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD001711. "Not one study met the inclusion criteria for the review. One study (Stafford 1997) was found on the use of client held records for people with long term mental illness but the participants had not been randomised. Two important randomised studies (Lester 1999, Papageorgiou 1999) are ongoing. There is a gap in the evidence regarding patient-held, personalised, accessible clinical information for people with psychotic illnesses. It cannot be assumed that patient-held information is beneficial or cost-effective without evidence from well planned, conducted and reported randomised trials."

Hendrix, E. (1981) The fallacies in the concept of normalisation. Mental Retardation 19, 6. Pp 295-6. The application of concepts of normalisation, least restrictive environments and mainstreaming may have overlooked the special needs of the mentally retarded in the effort to help them attain what is considered by others as 'normal'. A community residence is not less restrictive than an institution if it is not close to shopping areas and mass transit. It is also maintained that much can be gained by association with others who share a common exceptionality.

Henriksen K & Dayton E (2006) Organisational silence and hidden threats to patient safety Health Service Research 41:4, Part II, August 2006, pp 1539- 1554.

Henry, D., Keys, C., Balcazar, F. & Jopp, D. (1996) Attitudes of community-living staff members toward persons with mental retardation, mental illness, and dual diagnosis Mental Retardation 34(6) 367-379.

Henry, D., Keys, C., Jopp, D. & Balcazar, F. (1996) The Community Living Attitudes Scale, Mental Retardation Form: Development and Psychometric properties Mental Retardation 34, 149-158.

Herr, S.S. & Weber, G. (1999) Aging, Rights, and Quality of Life: Prospects for Older People with Developmental Disabilities Unique in its focus on the rights and needs of older adults with developmental disabilities, this book presents research on advances made in human rights and quality assurance in service delivery.

Heslop, Pauline Quality Measures for Befriending Services Shared Care Network ISBN1-874291-22-5.

Hess, J.A. (1993) Assimilating newcomers into an organisation: A Cultural perspective Journal of Applied Communication Research Vol 21, number 2, pages 189-287.

Hester Adrian Research Centre, University of Manchester (1999) The quality and costs of residential supports for people with learning disabilities, summary and implications

Hewett, Dave (?) Intensive Interaction Has an excellent chapter on Age Appropriateness.

Hewson, S. & Walker, J. (1992) The use of evaluation in the development of a staffed residential service for adults with mental handicap Mental Handicap Research 5 pp188-203.

HHHH

Higgins, J.W. (1999) Citizenship and Empowerment Community Development Journal Vol.34, No.4, pp288-307 article essay on citizenship, social rights and individual empowerment

Hills, John; Le Grand, Julian & Piachaud, David (eds) (2002) Understanding Social Exclusion Oxford University Press. Based on research carried out by the Centre for Analysis of Social Exclusion (CASE) at the London School of Economics. Draws on economics, sociology, demography, and area studies. Covers poverty, changes across generations, long term effects of the growth of lone parenthood, community organisation, family structure, govt policies on education and social security.

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Hand Made Love: A Guide to Teaching about Male Masturbation to Men With Disabilities Through Understanding and Video Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Behaviour Self! Using behavioural concepts to understand and work with people with developmental disabilities Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Changing Inappropriate Sexual Behaviour Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) First Comes Love: Sexuality and Down Syndrome Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Breathless Orgasm: A lovemap biography of asphyxiophilia Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) I Openers: Parents ask questions about sexuality and children with developmental disabilities Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Just Say Know: Understanding and reducing the risk of sexual victimization of people with developmental disabilities Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave (?) Under Cover Dick: A Guide to teaching condom use to men with disabilities Diverse City Press, Eastman, Canada. Dave's Email: 76043.2757@Compuserve.com

Hingsburger, Dave & Harber, Mary (?) The Ethics of Touch Eastman, Canada: Diverse City Press

Hirst, A (2001) Links Between Volunteering and Employability, DofES Research Report No. 309.

HMSO (2002) Mental health of carers: the report of a survey carried out by Social Survey Division of the Office for National Statistics on behalf on the Department of Health ISBN: 0116215542. £37.50

HMSO (2002) Ethnic differences in the context and experience of psychiatric illness: a qualitative study ISBN: 0113225865. £17.50

Hobson, Charles J, Kamen, Joseph, Szostek, Jana, Nethercut, Carol M, Tiedmann, James W, Wojnarowicz, Susan (1998) Stressful life events: A revision and update of the Social Readjustment Rating Scale. International Journal of Stress Management January 1998, vol./is.

5/1(1-23), 1072-5245;1573-3424. Abstract: The widely used and cited Social Readjustment Rating Scale developed by T. H. Holmes and R. H. Rahe (1967) was comprehensively revised and updated. The new instrument, containing 51 major life events, was administered to a national sample of 5,000. Respondents were asked to rate the stressfulness of each life event on a 1-100 scale. Completed surveys were returned by 3,122 individuals (62.4%). Responses were analyzed using repeated measures MANOVA and profile analysis. Major results included: (a) statistically and practically significant differences in mean ratings for the 51 life events; (b) five overlapping themes in the top 20 rated life events--death and dying, healthcare, crime and the criminal justice system, financial/economic issues, and family-related issues; and (c) an amazing level of agreement concerning perceived life event stressfulness, regardless of gender, age, or income level.

Hoff, David; Gandolfo, Cecilia; Gold, Marty and Jordan, Melanie (2001?) Demystifying Job Development: Field-Based Approaches to Job Development for People with Disabilities. Available from TRN. Why are so many people with disabilities still unemployed? Why do so many job developers still feel hesitant to go out and meet with employers? According to Demystifying Job Development, one reason is reliance on unannounced "cold calls," the toughest way to find a good job for someone with a disability. Instead, this book teaches how to network and build the relationships that lead to jobs and career satisfaction for people with disabilities. Using a fresh approach, the authors of Demystifying Job Development, all with hands-on experience finding jobs, offer practical advice, exercises, and tips on what really gets people jobs, how to network, get past the front door, and secure a position. Demystifying Job Development teaches specific job development skills and strategies, increases self confidence in doing job development, and helps anyone who does job development do it better. And it never loses sight of a values-based approach that puts the job seeker with a disability first in the job development process. For job developers, VR counselors, supported employment managers, job seekers with disabilities, and anyone in the network that helps people find jobs, Demystifying Job Development is a tool for the future. Contents: 1. A Person-Centered Approach to Job Development. 2. What Gets People Jobs? 3 When There Is No Connection. 4. Getting Past The Front Door. 5. Effective Marketing Strategies. 6. Marketing Materials and Tools. 7. Securing the Deal. 8. Identifying Employment Opportunities and Job Creation. 9. Customer Service and On-Going Relationships. 10. Time Management and Professional Development.

Hoke, Karen J.D. (1994) Ways of Welcome Info at PCSA

Holburn, S. et al (2000) Quantifying the process and outcomes of person-centred planning American Journal on Mental Retardation Vol 105, number 5 pp 402-416. 17 people met and used a consensus method to create 25 questions that tested whether the principles of pcp were adhered to. A literature review and an advisory group of parents and professionals helped the team to devise 40 questions that explored quality of life. Finally, 12 questions were added that Personal Futures Planning authors had identified as helpful in achieving success in the process of pcp. This totals 77 indicators of pcp. A group of 7 experienced people sorted these 77 into process or outcome indicators or both. 6 of the 77 questions were placed inconsistently and so were thrown away. This left 20 process indicators and 51 outcome indicators. Holburn and 6 experienced raters then used a statistical consensus approach to group them into 6 process and 9 outcome categories. 18 staff then carried out a test re-test exercise. 37 teams working in a total of 4 residential facilities (with an average of 6.6 staff per team who completed questionnaires) then scored the planning process for their clients. Scores for each resident were compared to test if the indicators achieved inter-rater reliability. The instruments were found to be reliable and to show an association between the process and outcome measures.

Holburn, Steve & Vietze, Peter (eds) (2002) Person Centred Planning: Research, Practice and Future Directions Paul H Brookes.

Holloway, F. (1988) Day care and community support. in Lavender A. and Holloway F. (eds) Community Care in Practice Chichester: Wiley.

Holloway, M (2007) Negotiating Death in Contemporary Health and Social Care Bristol: Policy Press

Holloway M (2006) Death the Great Leveller? Towards a transcultural spirituality of dying and bereavement, Journal of Clinical Nursing, Special Issue Spirituality, 15:7, pp 833-839.

Holmes-Eber, P. and Riger, S. (1990) "Hospitalisation and the composition of mental patients' social networks" Schizophrenia Bulletin Vol 16, No 1, pp157-64.

Holt G, Gratsa A, Bouras N, Joyce T, Spiller MJ & Hardy S (?) Guide to Mental Health for Families and Carers of People with Intellectual Disabilities. London: Jessica Kingsley

Home Office (1999) Giving Time, Getting Involved: A strategy report by the working group on the active community. London: Home Office Communication Directorate.

Honey, S & Williams, S (1998) Supply and Demand for Supported Employment report SPS, present opportunities and future demand research

Hooper, R. (1996) 'Adult education for mental health: A study in innovation and partnership' Adults Learning 8,3.

Horizon (1999) Working with employers: A report for the Employment Support Unit European Social Fund (GB) Office of National Statistics (1998) Labour Force Survey 1997/98 London: Office of National Statistics.

Horton, Betty, McBride, Marijo and Shoultz, Bonnie (eds) (1996) Feature Issue on Supporting Diversity Explores ways in which services are and could be supporting diverse people. Free from the Center on Human Policy or the Institute on Community Integration.

Hothi M et al (2008) Neighbourliness + Employment = Wellbeing: is there a formula for happy communities? The Young Foundation. Available at: <http://www.youngfoundation.org/node/783>

House, J.S., Umberson, D. and Landis, K.R. (1988) Structures and Processes of Social Support Annual Review of Sociology 14, 293-318

Howat, J, Bates, P, Pidgeon, J, and Shepperson, G (1988) The Development Of Residential Accommodation In The Community in Lavender, A and Holloway, F (eds) Community Care in Practice Chichester: John Wiley and Sons.

Howie the Harp (1993) "Taking Issue: Independent Living with Support Services: A Call for a New Approach" Hospital and Community Psychiatry 44(5), 413. $2.00 from CCC.

Hudson-Allez, G. and Barrett, J. (1996) Attitudes to people with intellectual disabilities moving into ordinary houses: what the neighbours say. Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities Vol 9 pp1-16.

Hughes A. and Walden S. (1999) Befriending: a note of caution. British Journal of Learning Disabilities 27,3:88-92. The paper describes a pilot befriending scheme aimed at increasing the social networks of 4 people with LD living in 24 hour supported accommodation in the community. 10 'befriender' volunteers were recruited, given a 2-day training course, but 8 were re-deployed outside the scheme after early tensions arose between house staff and the volunteers. After 4 months only one was left, and he visited infrequently. The visits had increased the users involvement in outside activities and enhanced their social skills. But the size of the users other social networks had decreased for 3 out of the 4 residents. For 3, while their networks had numerically remained the same size, the volunteers had replaced family members or friends who had stopped their regular visits.

Hughes, A., McAuslane, L. & Schur, H. (1996) Comparing Quality of Life for People with Learning Disabilities and People who are Unemployed or Retired British Journal of Learning Disabilities, Vol.24, pp99-103 article

Hughes, Andrea and Coombs, (2001) The "Easy guide to the Human Rights Act 1998: implications for people with learning disabilities BILD. ISBN 1-902519-75-2 or order from BILD on 01562 850251.

Hughes, M. and Gove, W.R. (1981) Living alone, social integration and mental health. American Journal of Sociology 87, 1, 48 - 74.

Huitt, K. & Elston, R. (1991) Attitudes towards persons with disabilities expressed by professional counsellors Journal of Applied Rehabilitation Counselling, vol.22, No.2, p p42-43 article

Hulgin, Kathleen and Searl, Julia A (1996) Job Path: Shifting the Focus Beyond Just Work An organisation in New York City began to develop alternative day services for people with severe disabilities. 22 pages. $2.70 from the Center on Human Policy.

Humphrey, J.C. (2000) Researching Disability Politics, Or, Some Problems with the Social Model in Practice Disability & Society Vol.15, No.1, pp63-85 article critical analysis of the emancipatory research paradigm

Hutchinson, D.S. and Skriner, G.S. (1994) Exercise and Self Esteem: The Implications for Persons with Severe Mental Illness. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Hutchinson, M. (1999) Working Partners: A guide to the employment of people with mental health difficulties Mental Health Media booklet & Video Hutchison, M. and Nettle, M. (2001) Deciding about disclosure A Life in the Day Vol 5 issue 3.

Hyde, J. (1999) Social capital and public service: knowledge-based management and sustainability. In Inequalities in Health - a report on HEA seminars London: Health Education Authority

IDEA Connecting with Communities best practice guide. You may need to register with the Improvement and Development Agency webpage but this is easy to do and recommended <http://www.idea.gov.uk/knowledge>
<http://eshw02.idea-knowledge.gov.uk/cwc/pages.nsf/httpPublicPages/Home?openDocument&login>

Ideas in Action Ltd (1997) The Graceland Project: Small Creative Solutions Report Feasibility study for a commercial vocational project

IIII

Inclusion Times. A newsletter dedicated to "inclusion means more than mainstreaming" Contact Inclusion Times.

Intagliata J, Rinck C, Calkins C. Staff response to maladaptive behavior in public and community residential facilities. Ment Retard. 1986 Apr;24(2):93-8.

Introduction to Person Centred Planning TRN Info sheet 1999 article Person Centred Planning briefing person centred planning

Introduction to Supported Employment TRN Info. Sheet 1999 leaflet Introduction to Supported Employment supported employment

Isenwater, W. Thornhill, H. Lanham, W. (In press, summer 2002) The College Link Program: Evaluation of a supported education initiative in Great Britain. Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal

Jackson, Catherine (9 September 1997) Pathway to employment Mental Health Care Vol 1, No 1. See also articles by Davidson, Perkins, and Sandford.

Jackson, T, Beyer, S & Everatt, G (1998) Reforming SPS to Promote Career Development & Access for People with Greater Support Needs report

Jacobson, J.W., Burchard, S.N. and Carling, P. (eds) (1992) Community Living for People with Developmental and Psychiatric Disabilities. Baltimore, MD: John Hopkins University Press.

Jacobson, J.W., Mulick, J.A., & Shwartz, A.A. (1995). A history of facilitated communication. American Psychologist, 50, 750-765.

Jahoda, M, Lazarsfeld P & Zeisel H (1993, reprinted in English 1972) Marienthal: the sociography of an unemployed community. London: Tavistock

Jahoda, M. Cattermole, M. and Markova, I. (1990) Moving out: an opportunity for friendship and broadening social horizons? Journal of Mental Deficiency Research Vol 34 pp 127-139.

James, Kathryn (2001) Prescribing Learning: A guide to good practice in learning and health Leicester: NIACE, ISBN 1 86201 135 4. 96 pages. £8.95.

James, Kathryn I'd turn up even if I won the lottery.

<http://www.niace.org.uk/mentalhealth/docs/I'd%20turn%20up%20even%20if%20I%20won%20the%20lottery.pdf>

Jameson C. Promoting long-term relationships between individuals with mental retardation and people in their community: an agency self-evaluation. Ment Retard. 1998 Apr;36(2):116-27.

Janicki & Keefe (1992) Integration experiences casebook: Program ideas in aging and developmental disabilities. Pub. by New York State Office of Mental Retardation and Deve. Disab. address NYS OMRDD CIPADD, 44 Holland Ave., Albany NY 12229-0001

Janicki, M.P. and Ansello, E.F. (eds) (2000) Community Supports for Aging Adults with Lifelong Disabilities. 616 pages. Provides insight on how to guide individuals and their families in areas such as; retirement planning, financial planning, supporting health and wellness, adapting home environments and much more.

Jenkinson, J.C. (1993) Who Shall Decide? The Relevance of Theory and Research to Decision-making by People with an Intellectual Disability Disability, Handicap & Society Vol.8, No.4, pp361-375 article argues that decision making by people with an intellectual disability should be studied within the broader context of psychological theory of decisionmaking and human behaviour

Jennings, Sue; Cattanach, Ann; Mitchell, Steve; Chesner, Anna & Meldrum, Bernard (1993) The Handbook of dramatherapy. ISBN 0 415 09056 3. 240 pages, £16.95.

Jennings, T (1996) Market Research for Supported Employment article Personal selling in supported employment

Jewson, N. & Mason, D. (1986) The Theory & Practice of Equal Opportunities Policies: Liberal & Radical Approaches Sociological Review, Vol.34, No.2, pp307-334 article

JJJJ

Johnson, Barry (1992) Polarity Management: Identifying and Managing Unsolvable Problems. Amherst, Massachusetts: HRD Press, Inc

Johnson, P. and Wohlford, P. (eds) (1988) Service needs of the seriously mentally ill: Report of a National Conference on Clinical Training Police in Psychology. Washington D.C.: American Psychological Association. Principles that Psychologist Training Programmes can adopt in order to become more meaningfully involved in community integration.

Johnson, Roxanna M. (1994) The picture symbols combination book Mayer Johnson Co. PO Box 1579, Solana Beach, CA 92075-7579, USA. ISBN 1 884135 12 9.

Johnson, S, Moreton, T & Murphy, L (1992) Progression, Regression, Turnover, Quality & Support in Sheltered Employment report SEP position & recommendations for best practice and future development

Johnson, T. (1985) Belonging to the community Madison, WI: Options in Community Living and Wisconsin Council on Developmental Disabilities.

Johnston, M (1997) Integrating Models of Disability: A reply to Shakespeare & Watson article

Johnstone, D. (1995) Further Opportunities: Learning Difficulties & Disabilities in Further Education Cassell

Johnstone, D. (1998) An Introduction to Disability Studies David Fulton book

Johnstone P & Zolese G (1999) Length of hospitalisation for people with severe mental illness. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 1999, Issue 2, Art No: CD000384. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD000384. "Length of stays for people with serious mental illness have reduced drastically over the last 30 years. Some argue that this reduction has led to revolving door admissions and worsening mental health outcomes despite apparent cost savings, whilst others suggest longer stays may be more harmful in the long term by institutionalising people to hospital care. Five randomised controlled trials were included. For those receiving short stays, data suggested that this group experienced no more re-admissions, no more losses to follow up and were more successfully discharged on time compared to long stay or standard care. The data also suggested some evidence that planned short stay patients were no more likely to leave hospital prematurely and had a greater chance of being employed. Data on mental, social and family outcomes could not be summated and there was little or no data on user satisfaction, deaths, violence, criminal behaviour and costs. This review suggests that a planned short stay policy does not encourage a 'revolving door' pattern of admission and disjointed care for people with serious mental illness.

Jones E, Perry J, Lowe K, Felce D, Toogood S, Dunstan F, Allen D, Pagler J. Opportunity and the promotion of activity among adults with severe intellectual disability living in community residences: the impact of training staff in active support. Journal of Intellectual Disability Research. 1999 Jun; 43 (Pt 3):164-78. Kept in Greenfield Medical Library, Nottingham.

Jones, C (1995) Conversion of Day Centres: An Introduction to the concept article conversion of day centres

Jones, C. & Wright, K. (1996) Public expenditure on services for people with intellectual disabilities Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities Vol 9, No 4.

Jones, H. (1999) The Right to be seen and heard: Bringing disabled children into focus childRIGHT, Vol. 161, November 1999, pp8-10 Children's Legal Centre article

Jones, Robin and Factor, Alan Opening all doors under the ADA: Making your programs accessible to older adults with cognitive disabilities. Available from ADVANTAGE. This information packet provides senior centers, senior housing sites, adult day care programs and other programs serving older people with insights on how to assess their capacity for accommodating individuals with mental retardation, psychiatric illness and Alzheimer's disease. The material addresses the commonalities and differences in accommodations for older people with these disabilities, provides guidelines and case studies illustrating practical examples of accommodation, and includes resources for adapting programmes.

Jones, Stephanie & Shearn, Julia (2003 or earlier) Making it work: Exploring the experiences and strategies for success of supported employment Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. Focus on people with learning disabilities who identify what works well in support, employers, coaches and colleagues. 50 pages. £12.95. ISBN 1 84196 053 5.

Jordan, L. and Goodey, C. (1996) Human rights and school change - the Newham story Bristol: The Centre for Studies in Inclusive Education.

Joseph Rowntree Trust (1998) Continuing Education & Equal Opps. for adults with Learning Disabilities report Project identifying orgs. specifically addressing needs of marginalised people

Joyce, T., Mansell, J. & Gray, H. (1989) Evaluating service quality: a comparison of diaries with direct observation Mental Handicap Research 2, pp 38-46.

Jupp, Ken Everyone Belongs London: Souvenir Press.

Jupp, Ken Living a Full Life - With Learning Disabilities This book follows people with learning disabilities through every stage of their lives. It shows how people can avoid becoming sucked into the special segregated system and describes some practical alternatives that can lead to a full life. Published by Souvenir Press. Available from Inclusion Distribution £11.99.

JUSSR Report Research on the experience of people with learning disabilities entering employment S.E

Kagan, Carolyn (2008) (Manchester Met U) Making a difference Review on participation and well-being, Produced for RENEW northwest.

Kaminski, Peter; Harty, Charles (1999) From stigma to strategy Nursing Standard Vol 13 No 38 pp 36-40. 9 June 1999. Outlines the Mental Health Awareness Project innovative approach to address the stigma associated with mental illness.

Kasser, Susan L. (1995) Inclusive Games

Kawachi, I (1997) Social capital, income inequality and mortality American Journal of Public Health 1997, 87, 1491-8.

Kawachi, Ichiro and Kennedy, Bruce P. (1997) Health and social cohesion: why care about income inequality? British Medical Journal Vol 314 pp1037 - 1040. 5 April 1997. "Reducing income inequality offers the prospect of greater social cohesiveness and better population health. Density of associational life was correlated with income inequality.... and overall mortality"

Kay B. Community integration of people with learning disabilities must continue. Br J Nurs. 1995 May 12-24;4(9):502-3.

Keane, Dee; Merton, Bryan; Napper, Rosemary & Jackson, Carol (2002) Getting connected guide: Curriculum framework for social inclusion Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 1 86201 164 8, 220 pages, £90. Helps support disengaged young adults reconnect with learning and foster personal development. Sections on implementation, mentoring, learning and emotional intelligence.

Kelly D & Wardrop L (2009) I get by, with a little help... Learning Disability Today June 2009 pp17-18.

Kempton, W. (1978) The rights of the mentally ill and the mentally retarded: Are sexual rights included? Devereux Forum 13(1) 45-9. Some people are being returned to the community without being adequately prepared. The need for socio-sexual training is evident. Likewise, there is a need to train professionals to provide such services as well as develop policies. Sexual rights of people with learning disabilities are listed, including training in socio-sexual behaviour, knowledge about sexuality, right to birth control services, right to marry, and right to have a voice in whether or not they have children.

Kennedy, C.H. & Fisher, D. (2001) Inclusive Middle Schools Tools for middle school educators and administrators that give them practical information to bring successful inclusion practices to their schools through proven strategies and examples. 156 pages.

Kennedy, C.H., Horner, R.H., & Newton, J.S. (1989) Social contacts of adults with severe disabilities living in the community: A descriptive analysis of relationship patterns. Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps Vol 14, p 190-196.

Kennedy, C.H., Horner, R.H., & Newton, J.S. (1990) The social networks and activity patterns of adults with severe mental retardation: A correlational analysis. Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps Vol 15, p86-90.

Kennedy, Jo; Sanderson, Helen & Wilson, Helen (2002) Friendship and Community: Practical strategies for making connections in communities ISBN 1-898385-03-3. £18 from Inclusion Distribution.

Kennedy, M.J (1988) From Sheltered Workshops to Supported Employment article SE v Sheltered Workshops

Kielhofner, G (2002) Model of Human Occupation, Theory and Application. Ed Lippincot, Williams and Wilkins.

Kieman, W.E. and Stark, J.A. (eds) (1986) Pathways to Employment for Adults with Developmental Disabilities Baltimore: Paul H Brookes Publishing Company.

Killworth, P.D., Bernard, H.R. and McCarthy, C. (1984) "Measuring patterns of acquaintanceship" Current Anthropology 25, pp. 381-97.

Kilsby, M & Beyer, S (1993) Supported Employment: the fragile truth article The threats to SE

Kilsby, M & Beyer, S. (1997) Comparing support Llais 44.

Kilsby, M, Beyer, S & Evans, C (1995) Supported Employment-a full or part time service? article The growth of SE

Kilsby, M. & Beyer, S. (1996) Engagement and interaction: a comparison between supported employment and ATCs Journal of Community and Applied Social Psychology Vol 6.

Kilsby, M. and Beyer, S. (1993) The growth and status of supported employment in Wales Cardiff, Welsh Centre for Learning Disabilities, Applied Research Unit.

King's Fund (1984) An ordinary working life London: King's Fund.

Kinsley, S., McAusland, T. and Towell, D. (1985) Managing Psychiatric Services in Transition: designing the arrangements for moving people from large hospitals into local services. King's Fund Centre, London. Quoted by Shepherd, G. Evaluation and Service Planning in Lavender, A. and Holloway, F. (eds) op.cit p97.

Kishi, G.S. and Meyer, L.H. (1994) What children report and remember: A six year follow-up of the effects of social contact between peers with and without severe mental retardation. Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps No 19 pp 277-289.

Kitchin, R. (2000) The Researched Opinions on Research: disabled people and disability research Disability & Society Vol. 15, No. 1, pp25-47 article research into opinions of disabled people on value of research and changes needed

KKKK

Klein, T., Gilman, E., and Zigler, E. (1993) Special Olympics: an evaluation by professionals and parents Mental Retardation 31(1) 15-23.

Knasel, E (1997) What is Wrong with Functional Analysis article functional analysis and development of occupational standards

Knight CB, Karan OC, Timmerman M, Griffith SC, Dufresne D. Training community developmental disabilities associates: a collaborative model. Appl Res Ment Retard. 1986;7(2):229-39.

Knox M, Parmenter TR. Social networks and support mechanisms for people with mild intellectual disability in competitive employment. Int J Rehabil Res. 1993;16(1):1-12.

Knox, M. et al (2000) Working with Experts: collaborative research with people with an intellectual disability Disability & Society Vol. 15, No. 1, pp49-61 article paper focuses on the collaborative or partnership approach adopted in a research study

Koegel, Lynn et al (1996) Community, School, family and Social Inclusion through Positive Behavioural Support Baltimore: Paul Brookes. Includes a chapter by Todd Risley on his 'Get a life' approach (pages 425-437).

Koenig, H.G., McCullough, M.E., Larson, D.B. (2001) Handbook of Religion and Health. Oxford University Press, Oxford.

Krauss M.W., Seltzer MM, Goodman SJ. Social support networks of adults with mental retardation who live at home. Am J Ment Retard. 1992 Jan;96(4):432-41.

Krauss, M.W. & Erikson M. (1988) Informal support networks among aging persons with mental retardation: a pilot study Mental Retardation 26(4) 197-201.

Krauss, M.W. and erickson, M. (1988) Informal support networks amongst aging persons with mental retardation: A pilot study. Mental Retardation 26, 197-201.

Kregel, J. Wehman, P., Seyfarth, J. & Marshall K. (1986) Community integration of young adults with mental retardation: Transition from school to adulthood Education and Training of the Mentally Retarded 21, 35-42.

Kroll, K. & Levy Klein, E. (2001) Enabling Romance: A Guide to Love, Sex, and Relationships for People with Disabilities (and the People who Care About Them). 220 pages. Written by a husband and wife team, one of whom has a disability, this book intelligently and honestly debunks the myths surrounding intimacy and disability.

Kruzich, J.M. (1985) Community integration of the mentally ill in residential facilities American Journal of Community Psychology 13 (5) 553-564.

Lacey, P. (2001) Support Partnerships: Collaboration in Action. London: David Fulton

Lacey, P. & Ouvry, C. (eds.) (1998) People with Profound and Multiple Learning Disabilities: A Collaborative Approach to Complex Needs. London: David Fulton

LaFrancis, M. (1990) Welcoming newcomers to community groups Holyoke, MA: Education for Community Initiatives.

Lakin, K.C. and Bruininks, R.H. (eds) (1985) Strategies for achieving community integration of developmentally disabled citizens Baltimore: Paul H Brookes.

Lamb, B & Layzell, S (1994) Disabled in Britain: A Voice in Parliament Survey MPs and their responses to disability issues

Lamb, B & Layzell, S (1994) Disabled in Britain: A World Apart Study Hopes, needs and aspirations of people with disabilities

Lamb, B & Layzell, S (1995) Disabled in Britain: Counting on Community Care Survey Community care failures

Lamb, H.R. and Goertzel, V. (1971) "Discharged mental patients - are they really in the community?" Archives of General Psychiatry 24, pp.29-34.

Lambe, Loretto & Hogg, James (2000) Creative arts and people with profound and multiple learning disabilities Brighton: Pavilion. ISBN 1 841 96 020 9. £39.95.

Lambert, M. (1983) Understanding Social Networks Beverly Hill, CA: Sage Publications.

Landesman-Dwyer, S., Berkson, G. & Romer, D. (1979) Affiliation and friendship of mentally retarded residents in group homes American Journal of Mental Deficiency 83, 571-580.

Lavender, A. and Holloway, F. (eds) (1988) Community Care in Practice Chichester:Wiley.

Le Touze, S. and Pahl, J. (1992) Facilitating friendships for people with learning disabilities Mental Handicap Vol 29 pp 144-148.

Leacey D. Training skills for community life. Health Soc Serv J. 1984 Jun 28;94(4903):769.

Leach, S (1995) Client Skills & Abilities Matching Initial work on skills assessment and training needs skills assessment, training

Leach, S (1997) The Use of Assessment Tools to Aid Personal Development for People with Disabilities paper presentation on use of assessment tools assessment

Leach, S (1999) Job Analysis guidelines briefing undertaking a job analysis; Important Factors in Job analysis.

Leach, S (1999) Vocational Profile Development Guidelines briefing development of guidelines for vocational profiling vocational profiling

Leach, S. (2002) A Supported Employment Workbook: Using Individual Profiling and Job Matching London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers, 116 Pentonville Road, London N1 9JB tel. 020 7833 2307. ISBN 1 84310 052 5.

Leadbeater, Charles (1997) The Rise of the Social Entrepreneur London: Demos. ISBN 1 898309 53 1.

Leader, Alan (1998?) The Power To Change Brighton: Pavilion Publishing with MIND, the Community Support Network and Lambeth Citizen Advocacy Project. A resource pack and assessment tool designed to assist coluntary and community organisations working in the field of mental health to review the way they operate and enable them to develop community support networks. Uses a community development perspective. 130 pages.

Learning and Skills Council (2008) National Mental Health Strategy Refresh Coventry: Learning and Skills Council National Office.
http://readingroom.lsc.gov.uk/lsc/National/Mental_Health_Strategy_Refresh.pdf

Ledwith, Margaret (1997) Participating in transformation: towards a working model of community empowerment Venture Press, BASW Trading Ltd, Publications Dept, 16 Kent Street, Birmingham B5 6RD. ISBN: 1 873 878 48 6. £11.50. The ideas offered contribute to the critical analysis of prejudice and discrimination in society. The book addresses issues of effective action in the community which contribute to the overall process of change towards a more just and equal society.

Lee, John; McCrone, Paul & Ford, Richard (2002) Independent and Able to Cope. Evaluation of Working Together in London: An integrated mental health initiative London: King's Fund and the Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health.

Lee, Mellanie.; Storey, Keith.; Anderson, Jacki.; Goetz, Lori. & Zivolich, Steve. (1997) The effect of mentoring versus job coach instruction on integration in supported employment settings. JASH vol 22, No 3..

Leete E (1989) How I perceive and manage my illness Schizophrenia Bulletin 15, 197-200.

Leff, J. and Vaughn, C. (1985) Expressed Emotion in Families New York: The Guildford Press. Further information on Julian Leff at <http://www.iop.kcl.ac.uk/iop/Departments/PsychMed/SocPsych/whoswho.stm>

Leffler, A., Krannich, R.S. and Gillespie, D.L. (1986) "Contact, support and friction: three faces of networks in community life" Sociological Perspectives 29, pp.337-55.

Lenehan, C, Morrison and Stanley (?) Dignity of Risk London: The Council for Disabled Children Tel 020 7843 1900.

LePore, P. and Janicki, M. The wit to win: How to integrate older persons with developmental disabilities into community aging programs Available from the New York State Office for the Aging, 2 Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12224-0001. A guide for service providers in both aging and developmental disability networks about ways to help older adults with developmental disabilities find and use generic community programs for senior citizens.

Levitas R, Pantazis C, Fahmy E, Gordon D, Lloyd, E & Patsios D (2007) The Multidimensional Analysis of Social Exclusion: A Research Report for the Social Exclusion Task Force Bristol: Department of Sociology and School for Social Policy, Townsend Centre for the International Study of Poverty and Bristol Institute for Public Affairs, University of Bristol. Available at http://www.cabinetoffice.gov.uk/social_exclusion_task_force/ The purpose of this project is to: (1) review existing sources on multi-dimensional disadvantage or severe forms of social exclusion characterised as 'deep exclusion'; (2) recommend possibilities for secondary analysis of existing data sets to explore the dynamics of 'deep exclusion'; (3) identify any relevant gaps in the knowledge base; (4) recommend research strategies for filling such gaps. Appendix seven of the report contains the Bristol Social Exclusion Matrix (B-SEM) which is a matrix of domains and topic areas of potential importance to social exclusion research. The B-SEM details the coverage of these domains and topic areas in existing surveys and administrative data sets.

Lewis, D.; Johnson, D. & Mangenm T. (1998) Evaluating the multidimensional nature of supported employment Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities Vol 11, No 2.

Liberman, Robert Paul & Kopelowicz, Alex (2002) Rehab Rounds: teaching persons with severe mental disabilities to be their own case managers Psychiatric Services Psychiatric Services 2002;53 1377-1379

Liberman R, Kopelowicz L. (2002) Editorial: Recovery from schizophrenia: a challenge for the 21st century. International Review of Psychiatry 14: 245-255.

Liggett, H. (1988) Stars are not Born: An interpretive approach to the politics of disability Disability, Handicap & Society, Vol.3, No.3, pp263-275 article

Light, R (1995) Non-Discrimination in Employment article Introduces the primary issues under Part II of the DDA

Lindow, V. (1994) Self Help Alternatives to Mental Health Services London: MIND.

Lindsay, M (1998) Signposts for Success paper Good practice for NHS in providing services for people with learning disabilities

Lingwood, Louise (2005) Modernising day services Mental Health Today December pp33-5.

Lipsky, D.K. & Gartner, A. (1997) Inclusion and School Reform: Transforming America's Classrooms Grounded in historical perspective, the insight in this book covers a range of issues from program implementation classroom support to court decisions and financing.

Lister, Tim Survey of Supported Employment Services in England, Wales and Scotland £7.00 from NDT

Little, M. (1995) College success questionnaire. Development of an instrument for assessing students with mental health problems enrolling for college and to aid in the design of supported education programmes MSc Dissertation (unpublished).

LLLLL

Lockett H, Seymour L & Pozner A (2008) About Time London: Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health. See http://www.scmh.org.uk/news/2008_about_time.aspx

Logan, D. Planned Respect: an alternative to the management of people. Canadian Association for Community Living. Unpublished paper.

Lord, J. (1985) Creating responsive communities: reflections on a process of social change Toronto: Ontario Association for the Mentally Retarded.

Lord, J. and Pedlar, A. (1991) Life in the Community: Four Years After the Closure of an Institution. Mental Retardation 29, 4, 213-221.

Lorenz, S. (1999) Experiences of Inclusion: for children with Down's syndrome in the UK Down's Syndrome Assoc. report

Lovett, H. (1996) Learning to listen: positive approaches and people with difficult behaviour Jessica Kingsley.

Lowe K, Beyer S, Kilsby M, Felce D. (1991) Activities and engagement in day services for people with a mental handicap: a pilot study Cardiff: Mental Handicap in Wales: Applied Research Unit.

Lowe K, Beyer S, Kilsby M, Felce D. Activities and engagement in day services for people with a mental handicap. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1992 Dec;36 (Pt 6):489-503.

Lowe, K. & de Paiva, S. (1990) The evaluation of NIMROD: a community-based service for people with mental handicap. Clients' community and social contacts Cardiff: The Mental handicap in Wales applied research unit.

Lowe, K. and de Paiva, S. (1991) Clients' community and social contacts: results of a 5 year longitudinal study. Journal of Mental Deficiency Research 35, 308-323.

Ludlum, C.D. (1993) Tending the Candle: A Booklet for Circle Facilitators. Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.

Ludlum, Cathy (?) One candle power: Seven principles that enhance the lives of people with disabilities and their communities Revised by Cathy Ludlum and the Communitas team. Available for £12.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

Lunsky Y, Benson BA. Reliability of ratings of consumers with mental retardation and their staff on multiple measures of social support. Am J Ment Retard. 1997 Nov;102(3):280-4.

Lutfiyya, Z.M, et al (1988) Supported Employment: A Conceptual Overview report Early conceptualization of supported employment

Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (1988) Reflections on relationships between people with disabilities and typical people Syracuse University: Center on Human Policy.

Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (1990) Affectionate Bonds: What we can learn by listening to friends A qualitative study of friendships between people with and without disabilities, including how they met, characteristics of their friendships and implications. 87 pages. $5.00 from the Center on Human Policy.

Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (1991) "'A feeling of being connected': Friendships between people with and without learning difficulties" Disability, Handicap and Society 6(3) 233-245

Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (1991) Personal Relationships and Social Networks: Facilitating the Participation of Individuals with Disabilities includes an overview article, three articles which describe the experiences of people with disabilities who have nondisabled friends and are part of a network of people, and an annotated bibliography. 99 pages. $5.15 from the Center on Human Policy.

Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (1991) Tony Santi and the Bakery. The roles of facilitation, accommodation and interpretation Syracuse University: Center on Human Policy.

Lyle O'Brien C. and O'Brien, J. (eds) (1999) A little book about person centred planning Toronto: Inclusion Press. £8.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

MacDonald-Wilson, Kim and Whitman, Anne (1995) Encouraging disclosure of psychiatric disability: mental health consumer and service provider perspectives on what employers can do American Rehabilitation Spring 15-19.

Mackan, Dr Patrick Facilitators of Circles Centre for Integrated Education and Community, Frontier College, Toronto, Ontario

Malchiodi, Cathy A. (ed) (2002) Handbook of Art Therapy Guilford Press. ISBN 1-57230-809-5. 424 pages, £36.95.

Malin N.A. (1982) Symposium on changes of environment: Personal and social consequences: III. Group homes for mentally handicapped adults: Residents views on contacts and support. British Journal of Mental Subnormality 28, 29-34.

Malmberg L & Fenton, M (2001) Individual psychodynamic psychotherapy and psychoanalysis for schizophrenia and severe mental illness. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews, 2001, Issue 3, Art No: CD001360. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD001360. "No trials of a psychoanalytic approach were identified. Data are sparse for all comparisons involving a psychodynamic approach. There is no evidence of any positive effect of psychodynamic therapy and the possibility of adverse effects seems never to have been considered. The psychodynamic approach may be more acceptable to people than a more cognitive reality-adaptive therapy. Current data do not support the use of psychodynamic psychotherapy approaches for hospitalised people with schizophrenia. If psychoanalytic therapy is being used for people with schizophrenia there is an urgent need for trials. It is clear from the limited studies available that medication is an important part of any treatment for people with psychotic illness, and should be used in conjunction with any talking treatments."

Mank D, Cioffi A, Yovanoff P. Employment outcomes for people with severe disabilities: opportunities for improvement. Mental Retardation. 1998 Jun;36(3):205-16.

Mank, D. & Tilson, G. (1994) Business Partnerships Wehman, P. & Sherron-Targett, P. (1994) Community Based Vocational Curriculum book Development sin employment supports leading towards increased integration

Mank, D. (1994) The Underachievement of Supported Employment: A call for Reinvestment Journal of Disability Policy Studies Vol.5, No.2, pp2-24 article review of the status of the supported employment initiative and offer recommendations

Mank, D. (1995) Systems Change Strategies for Supported Employment: Lessons learned Univ. of Oregon paper Explore innovations in systems change, discuss problems and describe strategies

Mank, D. (1996) Evolving Roles for employers and support personnel in the employment of people with severe disabilities Journal of Vocational Rehabilitation Vol.6, pp83-88 article review of the experiences of participants in working with business community to expand opps. for people with disabilities

Mank, D. et al (1991) Quality Assurance in Supported Employment Vocational Rehabilitation January 1991, pp59-68 article Discusses state action to promote the quality of supported employment

Mank, D. et al (1996) Quality in Supported Employment: A new demonstration of the capabilities of people with severe disabilities Journal of the Assc. For Persons with Severe Handicaps 1996, pp 1-28 article description of a new demonstration of the capabilities of people with severe disabilities in the workplace employment

Mank, D. et al (1996) The Oregon Natural Supports Research Project Univ. of Oregon Outline Outline in OHPs of the Oregon Natural supports project

Mank, D. et al (1998) Quality in Supported Employment: A new demonstration of the capabilities of people with severe disabilities Journal of Vocational Rehabilitation Vol. 11, pp83-95 article description of a new demonstration of the capabilities of people with severe disabilities in the workplace

Mank, David, Cioffi, Andrea and Yovanoff, Paul (1999) Impact of Co-worker Involvement with Supported Employees on Wage and Integration Outcomes Mental Retardation Vol.37, No.5, pp383-394 article investigation into details assoc. with co-worker training and support and successful inclusive employment

Mank, David; Cioffi, Andrea and Yovanoff, Paul (1997) "Analysis of the typicalness of supported employment jobs, natural supports, and wage and integration outcomes" Mental Retardation Vol 35, No 3 pp 185-197.

Mank, David; Cioffi, Andrea and Yovanoff, Paul (1997) "Employment outcomes for people with severe disabilities: opportunities for improvement" Mental Retardation Vol 36, No 3 pp 205-216. Compares the supported employment placements of people with severe disabilities with those of people with mild disabilities.

Mank, David; Cioffi, Andrea and Yovanoff, Paul (1997) "Patterns of support for employees with severe disabilities" Mental Retardation Vol 35, No 6 pp 433-447. Examined the natural supports of 462 people in supported employment in 8 US states.

Manning, C. and White, P. (1995) Attitudes of employers to the mentally ill Psychiatric Bulletin September 541-543.

Mansell, J (1993) (Chair). Services for people with learning disabilities and challenging behaviour or mental health needs. London: Department of Health. HMSO.

Mansell J. Specialized group homes for persons with severe or profound mental retardation and serious problem behaviour in England. Res Dev Disabil. 1994 Sep-Oct;15(5):371-88.

Mansell J, Beadle-Brown J, Ashman B & Ockenden J (2009?) Person-Centred Active Support Brighton: Pavilion

Marks D (1999) Disability. Controversial debates and psychosocial perspectives London: Routledge.'

Marsh, P. and Fisher, M. (1992) Good Intentions: Developing Partnership in Social Services York: Joseph Rowntree Foundation in association with Community Care.

Marshall M, Crowther R, Almaraz-Serrano AM & Tyrer P (2001) Day hospital versus out-patient care for psychiatric disorders The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2001, Issue 2. Art No: CD003240. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD003240. " Marshall M, Crowther R, Almaraz-Serrano A, Creed F, Sledge W, Kluiters H, Roberts C, Hill E, & Wiersma D (2003) Day hospital versus admission for acute disorders The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2003, Issue 1. Art No: CD004026. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD004026. "Nine trials (involving 1568 people) met the inclusion criteria. Combined data suggested that, at the most pessimistic estimate, day hospital treatment was feasible for 23% of those currently admitted to inpatient care. Compared to controls, people randomised to day hospital care spent significantly more days in day hospital care and significantly fewer days in inpatient care. There was no significant difference in readmission rates between day hospital patients and controls. For patients judged suitable for day hospital care, individual patient data from three trials showed a significant time-treatment interaction, indicating a more rapid improvement in mental state, but not social functioning amongst patients treated in the day hospital. Four out of five trials found that day hospital care was cheaper than inpatient care (with cost reductions ranging from 20.9% to 36.9%.

Marshall M, Lockwood A. Assertive community treatment for people with severe mental disorders. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 1998, Issue 2. Art. No.: CD001089. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD001089. "Those receiving ACT were more likely to remain in contact with services than people receiving standard community care. People allocated to ACT were less likely to be admitted to hospital than those receiving standard community care and spent less time in hospital. In terms of clinical and social outcome, significant and robust differences between ACT and standard community care were found on i. accommodation status, ii. employment and iii.

patient satisfaction. There were no differences between ACT and control treatments on mental state or social functioning. ACT invariably reduced the cost of hospital care, but did not have a clear cut advantage over standard care when other costs were taken into account. ACT is a clinically effective approach to managing the care of severely mentally ill people in the community. ACT, if correctly targeted on high users of in-patient care, can substantially reduce the costs of hospital care whilst improving outcome and patient satisfaction. Policy makers, clinicians, and consumers should support the setting up of ACT teams."

Marshall M, Gray A, Lockwood A, Green R. Case management for people with severe mental disorders. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 1998, Issue 2. Art. No.: CD000050. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD000050. "Case management was compared against standard care on four main indices: (i) numbers remaining in contact with the psychiatric services; (ii) extent of psychiatric hospital admissions; (iii) clinical and social outcome; and (iv) costs. Case management ensures that more people remain in contact with psychiatric services (one extra person remains in contact for every 15 people who receive case management), but it also increases hospital admission rates. Present evidence suggests that case management also increases duration of hospital admissions, but this is not certain. Whilst there is some evidence that case management improves compliance, it does not produce clinically significant improvement in mental state, social functioning, or quality of life. There is no evidence that case management improves outcome on any other clinical or social variables. Present evidence suggests that case management increases health care costs, perhaps substantially, although this is not certain. In summary, therefore, case management is an intervention of questionable value, to the extent that it is doubtful whether it should be offered by community psychiatric services. It is hard to see how policy makers who subscribe to an evidence-based approach can justify retaining case management as 'the cornerstone' of community mental health care. Case management is compared to the main alternative approach (ACT) in a forthcoming Cochrane review.

Martin, A. and Parrott, R. (1989) Out on the town Community Living April 7-8.

Martin, J.E., Mithaug, D.E. (1989) Consumer Directed Placement article SE and supporting self determination in job seeking Martin, J.M., Rusch, F.R., Lagomarcino, T. and Chadsey-Rusch, J. (1986) "Comparison between non-handicapped and mentally retarded workers: Why they lose their jobs" Applied Research in Mental Retardation 7, 467-474.

Martin, N. et al (1999) Adults with Intellectual Disabilities and Challenging Behaviour in Supported Employment: Initial Findings Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities, Vol. 12, No.2, pp149-156 article Martinson, M.C. and Stone, James (1994) Community Living Options: Family Funded, Individually Owned, or Shared Monograph No 2. Chicago: RRT. National Survey of 400 agencies describing innovative to developing and funding community living options for aging and older adults with developmental disabilities.

Mason, B (1993) Towards positions of safe uncertainty Human Systems: The journal of systematic consultation and management Vol 4, 189-200.

Mason, J. (1998) Variation in the provision of community day care for people with learning disabilities Tizard Learning Disabilities Review Vol 3, Issue +2.

Mason, Micheline and Rieser, Richard Disability Equality in the Classroom: A Human Rights Issue

Mason, Micheline and Rieser, Richard (1995) Altogether Better: from 'special needs' to equality in education London: Charity Projects with Comic Relief.

- Mason, Micheline (2000) Incurably Human Working Press.
- Mather, Joy and Atkinson, Sue (2003) Learning Journeys: A handbook for tutors and managers in adult education working with people with mental health difficulties Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 1 86201 168 0. 48 pages, £12.95. Tracking the journey from mental health services into learning opportunities. Due out March 2003.
- McBrien, J. & Felce, D. (1998) Working with People who have Severe Learning Difficulty and Challenging Behaviour B.I.L.D. report
- McCabe, S.S. (1992) Myths About Mental Illness Burlington VT: CCC. 8 pages. $2.50 from CCC. Intended for the general public, especially landlords and employers. Clarifies myths about mental illness such as its cause, violence, ability to work and ability to live independently.
- McCallister, L. & Fischer C.S. (1978) A procedure for surveying personal networks Sociological methods and research 7, 131-148.
- McCaughrin, W.B., Ellis, W.K. Rusch, F.R. and Heal, L.W. (1993) "Cost-effectiveness of supported employment" Mental Retardation 31,1,41-48.
- McColl MA, Friedland J. The effects of age and disability on social support. Int J Rehabil Res. 1995 Dec;18(4):325-40.
- McConkey et al (1982) quoted in Lowe and de Paiva (1991) op cit. p309.
- McConkey, R. (1987) Who cares? Community involvement with handicapped people London: Souvenir Press.
- McConkey, R. (ed) (1996) Innovations in evaluating services for people with intellectual disabilities Chorley: Lisieux Hall Publications.
- McConkey, R. and McGinley P. (1992) Innovations in Employment Training and Work for people with learning difficulties Chorley, Lancs: Brothers of Charity Services, Lisieux Hall.
- McConkey, R., Naughton, M. & Nugent, U. (1983) Have we met? Community contacts of adults who are mentally handicapped Mental Handicap 11, 57-59.
- McConkey, R., Noonan-Walsh, P. & Conneally, S. (1993) Neighbours reactions to community services: contrasts before and after services open in their locality Mental Handicap Research 6 pp 131-141.
- McCord, W.T. (1983b) The outcome of normalisation: strengthened bonds between handicapped persons and their communities Education and Training of the Mentally Retarded 18(3) 153-7. 'People-changing' interventions attempt to make handicapped persons 'normal'. Normalisation evolves from a recognition that handicapped people are perceived as deviant and become disconnected from their communities, in some or all aspects of their lives. It is therefore suggested that the usefulness of any human service technology (e.g. programmes and staffing patterns) must be evaluated within the context of its potential for strengthening the bonds between handicapped and nonhandicapped persons.
- McDermott, A. (1993) Promoting 'ordinary life principles.' Nursing Standard 7, 30, 32-35.
- McDonald, R (1997) Person Centred Planning Univ. of New Jersey Outline Outline in OHPs of Person Centred Planning approach
- McDonald, R. et al (1998) Community Membership and Contribution: A guidebook on creating inclusive day services for people with developmental disabilities The Boggs Centre-UAP & The New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities The Boggs Centre-UAP & The New Jersey Division of... Report (draft) Guidebook on supporting 'changeover' of day services
- McEvoy, J.; Dagnan, D; Thomas, R. & Ashton, P. (1993) A pilot evaluation of a new approach to day services in Solihull Mental Handicap 21, 2, June, 54-58.
- McGaughey, M J, Kiernan, W.E McNally L.C Gilmore,D.S & Keith G.R (1995) Beyond the workshop; National trends in integrated and segregated day and employment services, JASH 20(4), 270-285
- McGaughey, M. & Mank, D. (1999) Empirical Evidence of Systems Change in Supported Employment Journal unknown. Article analysing state outcomes in implementing supported employment
- McGaughey, M. & Mank, D. (1999) The Cutting Edge: State Policy Innovation and Systems Change ? article describes the factors that influence state implementation of public policy
- McGill, P. and Cummings, R. (1990) An analysis of the representation of people with mental handicaps in a British newspaper. Mental Handicap Research 3(1) 60-9. Analysed 35 articles from The Guardian newspaper to identify some useful measures of the content of newspaper representation of people with a learning disability. Some descriptive information on such representation was provided, and subjects were frequently described as children or patients. Juxtapositions, particularly with people with mental health problems, occurred in 14 articles.
- McGivney, Veronica (2000) Working with excluded groups: Guidelines on good practice for providers and policy makers in working with groups under-represented in adult learning Leicester: NIACE. £7.95. The author proposes some transferable 'principles of engagement' in working with excluded groups.
- McGrath, Morag (1994) Alternative Day Opportunities for people with a learning disability - a Welsh audit Bangor, CSPRD.Available from CSPRD.
- McGrath, Morag (1995) Employment-focused day services for people with a learning disability in Wales. Part 1. An overview of provision Bangor: CSPRD
- McGrath, Morag (1995) Employment-focused day services for people with a learning disability in Wales. Part 2. Problems, achievements and potential Bangor: CSPRD
- McIntosh Barbara and Whittaker, Andrea (eds) (1998) Days of Change: A practical guide to developing better day opportunities with people with learning difficulties. London: King's Fund/National Development Team.
- McIntosh, Barbara (1999) Days of Hope Community Care No 1255 pp 24-25. 14 January 1999. Reports on pilot projects which have made social inclusion for people with learning disabilities a reality.
- McIntosh, Pamela A. & O.Neil, Jacqueline (?) Food, Fitness, Fun! Pavilion. pavpub@pavilion.co.uk. A training pack in weight management.
- McKnight J. (1987) "Regenerating Community" Social Policy Winter, 17 (3) 54-58.
- McKnight John L. (1992) "Redefining Community" Social Policy Fall 1992 pp56-62.
- McKnight, John & Kretzmann, J.P. (1993) Building Communities from the Inside Out: A path towards finding and mobilising a community's assets Illinois, USA: The Center for Urban Affairs of Policy Research. ACTA Publications 1-800-397-2282. $16.50.

McKnight, John (1995) The Careless Society: Community and It's Counterfeits Basic Books, Harper Collins Publishers.

McKnight, John L. (1996 or 1997) A Guide to Mapping and Mobilising the Economic Capacities of Local residents Info from PCSA

McKnight, John L. (1996) A guide to mapping consumer expenditures and mobilising community expenditure capacities

McKnight, John L. (1996) A Guide to Mapping local business assets and mobilising local business capacities

McKnight, John L. (1997) A guide to evaluating Asset-Based Community Development: Lessons, Challenges and Opportunities

McKnight, John L. (1998) A guide to creating a neighbourhood information exchange: Building communities by connecting local skills and knowledge

McKnight, John L. (1998) City-Sponsored community building: Savannah's Grants for Blocks Story

McKnight, John L. (1999) A guide to mapping and mobilising the associations in local neighbourhoods

McKnight, John L. (1999) Leading by stepping back: A guide for city officials on building neighbourhood capacity.

McKnight, John L. (1999) Newspapers and neighbourhoods: Strategies for achieving responsible coverage of local communities

McKnight, John L. and Kretzmann, John P. (1990) Mapping Community Capacity Center for Urban Affairs and Policy Research, Northwestern University.

McKnight, John L. and Kretzmann, John P. (1996 or 1997) A Guide to Mapping Capacity Inventory: Mobilising the Community Skills of Local residents Info from PCSA

McLaren, J. & Bryson S.E. (1987) Review of recent epidemiological studies of mental retardation: prevalence, associated disorders and etiology American journal of mental retardation 92, 243-254.

McLoughlin, C.S., et al (1987) Applicant Involvement article Needs of people with learning difficulties in job interview process

McLoughlin, C.S., Garner and Callahan (1987) Getting Employed, Staying Employed Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes. Article on Job development & training for people with severe handicaps.

McManus, J (1998) New Focus for Careers Service article Review of Gov't guidance for Careers on tackling exclusion

McNay, Athalene (1997) A place for everyone Convention Press.

McSherry, Wilfred and Ross, Linda (2002) Dilemmas of spiritual assessment: considerations for nursing practice Journal of Advanced Nursing 38(5), 479-488.

MENCAP (1999) Fully charged London: MENCAP.

Mencap (1999) Living in Fear London: Mencap. A survey of the extent of bullying and victimisation amongst a sample of 900 people with learning disabilities.

Mencap, Respond and Voice UK (2001) Behind Closed Doors. About sexual abuse of people with a learning disability, calls for changes in the law - including the rights of people with a learning disability to sexual Contact Mencap's Campaigns Department on 020 7696 6952 for the report. Contact Respond's Helpline for advice and training on 0845 606 1503. Respond provide counselling and psychotherapy to people with a learning disability who have been sexually abused, and those who go on to abuse others. Contact Voice UK on 01332 202 555 - Voice UK supports people with a learning disability (children included) who have experienced crime or abuse and their families and carers.

Mental Health Europe (2008) From Exclusion to Inclusion – The Way Forward to Promoting Social Inclusion of People with Mental Health Problems can be downloaded from the MHE website under: <http://www.mhe-sme.org/assets/files/From%20Exclusion%20to%20Inclusion-Final%20version.pdf>

Mental Health Foundation (2000) In Good Faith London: Mental Health Foundation Strategies for Living Project. This is a resource guide for mental and spiritual welfare, it is intended to provide information to those who may be looking for help, directions or resources that are relevant to spirituality and mental health. Covering support services based on religious traditions, psycho-spiritual therapies and holistic health practices, this pack also gives a selection of websites, suggested reading and a useful summary of the main religions in the UK. From the Mental Health Foundation 020 7535 7441 or www.mentalhealth.org.yk/pubsindx.htm

Mental Health Foundation (2001) Burnt out or burning bright? London: Mental Health Foundation. Research study into the effects of stress in the workplace based on discussions with directors, senior executives and human resources managers at companies. Supplemented with a literature review on stress at work. £15. 32 pages. ISBN 1 903645 10 7.

Mental Health Foundation (2002) Out at work London: Mental Health Foundation. £12.50. 33 pages. ISBN 1 903645 28X. Survey of 400 people with mental health problems. Examines their experiences in seeking work, the attitude of colleagues, support available within the workplace, impact of work on mental health and the ways in which people left or lost jobs.

Mental Health Foundation (2003 or earlier) Mental Health in the Workplace London: Mental Health Foundation.

Mental Health Foundation (2005) Up and Running: Exercise therapy and the treatment of mild or moderate depression in primary care London: Mental Health Foundation.

Mental Health Media ((2002) Electric Apple £19.95. CD Rom. People share strategies that have helped them manage mental distress – faith and exercise, art and activism.

Mental Health Media (2003?) More than Fun Order online at www.mhmedia.com £39.95. Video and booklet on good practice in LD and the arts. Part of Mencap's Arts Strategy Doing, Showing and Going.

Merchant, R & Gilbert P (2007) The modern workplace: surfing the wave or surviving the straightjacket Crucible pp39-46.

Mest, G.M. (1988) With a little help from my friends: Use of social support systems by persons with mental retardation. Journal of Social Issues 44, 117-125.

Meyer, J. (1986) The religious education of persons with mental retardation Religious Education 81(1) 134-9. Normalisation and mainstreaming has not been applied in religious settings as they have in school, work and residential contexts. It is asserted that segregating individuals with learning disabilities from normal contact with others in the religious community has served to foster the dehumanisation of the learning disabled population. Religious bodies should recognise people with learning disabilities as full human beings and foster complete participation in the activities and rites of the religious community. It is concluded that such efforts will benefit both disabled and nondisabled persons by emphasising similarities among all persons and contributing to the acceptance of their differences.

Meyer, L.H.; Peck, C.A.; & Brown, L. (eds) (1991) Critical issues in the lives of people with severe disabilities Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes.

Meyers, C.E. (1981) Normalisation, social integration and community service Mental Retardation 19, 295-6.

MIND (1997) A-Z of Employment 24pp. £3. ISBN 1-874690-63-4.

MIND (1998) Fair Deal at Work briefing Increasing Employment Opportunities for people with mental health problems

MIND (2000) Managing for Mental Health: The Mind employer's resource pack ISBN 0 1 874690 92 8. £14.99. 38 pages.

Keyes, C. (2002) The mental health continuum: from languishing to flourishing in life. Journal of Health and Social Behaviour. Jun: 43(2) 207-22.

Minkes, J. et al (1995) Having a Voice: Involving people with learning difficulties in research British Journal of Learning Disabilities Vol.23, pp94-97 article argues that traditional model of research should not be seen as the only acceptable approach to research

Mitchell, W. (1999) Leaving Special Schools: the next step and future aspirations Disability & Society, Vol. 14, No.6, pp753-769 article

Mithaug, D.E., et al (1988) How to Empower Consumer Needs book Ch.5- When Will Persons in Supported Employment need less Support

Mithaug, D.E., Martin, J.E., Husch, J.V., Agran, M. & Rusch, F.R. (1988) Consumer Directed Independence During Supported Employment book SE and supporting self determination

Mittler, P. (1988) The concept of normalisation as a principle of educational theory and practice. International Journal of Rehabilitation Research 11, 261-268. Throughout the world it is increasingly recognised that efforts should be made to ensure that young children with learning disabilities receive their education in integrated settings. This article reviews the obstacles to be overcome in implementing this principle and what parents, professionals and society can do to achieve this goal. It concludes by presenting ten guidelines for future development of policy and practice, based on studies and reports in different parts of the world.

MMMM

Molnar, Janice Faye (1997) They need my voice: Stories of person-centred planning and older adults with developmental disabilities The Community Membership Project, The Shriver Center University Affiliated Program, 200 Trapelo Road, Waltham, MA 02254 USA.

Moon, M.S. (1994) Making school and community recreation fun for everyone: Places and ways to integrate. Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co.

Morgan, William P. (1997) Physical Activity and Mental Health London: Taylor and Francis (tel 01256 813 000) Morgan is the Director of the sport psychology lab at the Dept of Kinesiology, Uni of Wisconsin. The book includes sections on research methods, what we know, mental health through prevention, exercise prescription, exercise adherence, drug therapy and exercise, the influence of physical exercise on depression, anxiety and self esteem, and the effects of excessive exercise. 288 pages. Available from Afterhurst, Hove. Prof Bill Morgan email is WMORGAN@mail.soemadison.wisc.edu

Morin, R.C. and Seidman, E. (1986) "A social network approach and the revolving door patient" Schizophrenia Bulletin 12,2, pp 262-73.

Morrison, E. and Finkelstein, V. (1993) Broken arts and cultural repair: the role of culture in the empowerment of disabled people. In Swain, J.; Finkelstein, V.; French, S. & Oliver, M. (eds) (1993) Disabling Barriers – Enabling Environments London: Sage.

Moses, L (1999) On The Tube Report Project to develop teaching materials on Travel on London Underground

Mount, B. (1992) Person-centred planning: Finding directions for change. A sourcebook of values, ideals, and methods to encourage person-centred development New York: Graphic Futures. £17.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

Mount, B. (1994) 'Benefits and limitations for personal futures planning' in Bradley, V.J., Ashbaugh, J.W. & Blaney C. (eds) (1994) Creating individual supports for people with developmental disabilities: A mandate for change at many levels Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co.

Mount, B. Beeman, P. and Ducharme, G. (1988) What Are We Learning about Circles of Support? Manchester CT, USA: Communitas Inc. Available from Communitas or Circles Network UK, Bristol.

Mount, B. Beeman, P. and Ducharme, G. (1988) What Are We Learning about Bridge Building? Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.

Mount, B. Beeman, P. and Ducharme, G. (1991) Person-centred development Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.

Mount, B., Ludlum, C., Beeman, P., Ducharme, G., De Marasse, R., Meadows, L., Kilroy, R. (1991) Dare To Dream: An analysis of the conditions leading to change for people with disabilities. Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.

Mount, B., Ludlum, C., Beeman, P., Ducharme, G., De Marasse, R., Meadows, L., Riley, E. (1990) Imperfect Change Manchester CT: Communitas Inc.

Mount, Beth (1995) Capacity Works: Finding windows for change using personal futures planning Manchester, CT: Communitas.

Mount, Beth (?) Life building: Opening windows to change using personal futures planning personal workbook £16.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

Mount, Beth and Zwernik, Kay (1989) It's never too early, It's never too late. A booklet about personal futures planning Minnesota Governor's Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities. (Pub No 421-88-109) Download from <http://www.mnddc.org/extra/publications.htm>

Mount, Beth & O'Brien, Connie Lyle (?) Building New Worlds: A sourcebook for students with disabilities in transition from high school to adult life £17 from Inclusion Distribution.

Mowbray CT, Moxley DP, Jasper CA & Howell LL (eds) (1997) Consumers as providers in psychiatric rehabilitation Colombia, MD: International Association of Psychosocial Rehabilitation Services.

Moynagh, Michael & Worsley, Richard Tomorrow: Using the future to understand the present London: LexiCon Editorial Services Ltd. http://www.tomorrowproject.net/pub/2_Website/The_Tomorrow_Project/-24.html

Mozingo D, Ackley GB, Bailey JS. Training quality job interviews with adults with developmental disabilities. Res Dev Disabil. 1994 Sep-Oct;15(5):389-410.

- Mueller, D.P. (1980) Social networks: a promising direction for research on the relationship of the social environment to psychiatric disorder. Social Science and Medicine 14, 147-161.
- Murphy, G., Estien, D. & Clare I. (1996) Services for people with mild intellectual disabilities and challenging behaviour: service users views Journal of Applied Research in Intellectual Disabilities 9, pp 256-283.
- Murphy, S. and Rogan P. (Spring 1992) "Closing the sheltered workshop: a case study of agency change" OSERS in Print 29-33.
- Murphy, S. and Rogan, P. (1994) Developing natural supports in the workplace: A practitioner's guide Augustine, FL: Training Resource Network, Inc.
- Murphy, S.T. and Rogan P.M. (1995) Closing the shop: Conversion from sheltered to integrated work Baltimore MD: Paul H Brookes Publishing Co.
- Murray J, Bellringer S & Easter A (2006) Evaluation of Capital Volunteering: Interim Report on the first 60 participants London: Institute of Psychiatry
- Murray, Pippa and Penman, Jill (eds) Let our children be: a collection of stories We want all our children to belong in their local communities and to have ordinary lives. Our disabled children are teaching us how to be their allies. This 106 page book is a collection of stories about our lives. £5.00 plus 50p postage and packing from "Parents with Attitude", 44 Cowlshaw Road, Sheffield S11 8XF.
- Myers F., Ager, A., Kerr, P.; and Myles, S. (1998) Outside looking in? Studies of the community integration of people with learning disabilities Disability and Society Vol 13 pp 389-413.
- National Action Plans on Social Inclusion – see <http://www.york.ac.uk/inst/spru/research/summs/naps.html>
- National Institute on Aging, National Institute of Health, US Department of Health and Human Services Resource Directory for Older People National Institute on Aging Information Centre, PO Box 8057, Gaithersburg, MD 20898-8057. Free, 274 pages.
- National Institute on Disability and Related Research (1992) Strategies to secure and maintain employment for people with long term mental illness: Consensus Statement 1,3, September.
- National Service Framework Workforce Action Team (2001) The Capable Practitioner. London: The Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health.
- National Social Inclusion Programme, CSIP (2007) Capabilities for Inclusive Practice Department of Health. Available at http://www.socialinclusion.org.uk/publications/DHcapabilities_05.pdf
- NDT (1992) Survey of supported employment services in England, Scotland and Wales University of Manchester, Hester Adrian Research Centre, NDT.
- NDT (1997) Supported Employment Quality Assurance Evaluation Pack Pack SE evaluation pack and development tool
- Nehring J, Hill R & Poole L (1993) Work, Empowerment and Community: Opportunities for People with Long-term Mental Health Problems. London: RDP Publications.
- Nelson, G., Hall, G.B., Squire, D., and Walsh-Bowers, R.T. (1992) Social network transactions of psychiatric patients. Social Science and Medicine 34, 4, 433-455.
- Nerney, T. (1998) The Poverty of Human Services: An introduction Inst. On Disability-Univ. of New Hampshire paper Individuals with disabilities and the failing human services system
- New Jersey S.E. Interagency Workgroup (1992) Supported Employment in New Jersey: Definitions for Service Implementation report Operational definitions for S.E. implementation
- New Jersey Vocational Rehabilitation Services (1994) Standards to vend S.E. services to the New Jersey Div. Of Vocational Rehabilitation Services(NJDVRS) NJVDRS guidelines S.E. quality standards for implementation
- Newbigging, K. (2001) Promoting social inclusion Mental Health Review Vol 6, Issue 3.
- Newnes, C. (1994) A commentary on "obstacles in the professional human service culture to implementation of social role valorisation and community integration of clients." Care in Place 1(1) 57-64.
- Newton, Colin & Wilson, Derek (1999) Circles of Friends Dunstable: Folens
- Newton, J.; Olson D. and Horner, R. (1995) Factors contributing to the stability of social relationships between individuals with mental retardation and other community members. Mental Retardation. Vol 33 p 383-393.
- Newton, J.S. & Horner, R.H. (1993) Using a social guide to improve social relationships of people with severe disabilities Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps 18 pp 36-45.
- Newton, J.S.; Horner, R.H.; Ard, W.R. LeBaron, N. & Sappington, G. (1994) A conceptual model for improving the social life of individuals with mental retardation. Mental Retardation Vol 32 No 6, pp 393-402.
- Nicholls, Vicky (2002) Taken Seriously London: Mental Health Foundation. ISBN 1 90 3645 29 8 Price £20. 66 pages. Based on interviews with 27 mental health service users in Somerset. Research conducted by people with personal experience of using mental health services. People can be seen as psychotic or spiritual depending on the interpretation of their experiences. Available via <http://www.mentalhealth.org.uk>
- Nietupski, J, Hamre-Nietupski, S, DiLeo, D (1997) Employer Perceptions of Workers with Disabilities booklet Marketing research to develop a targeted job development approach
- Nisbet J. (ed) (1992) Natural supports in school, at work and in the community for people with severe disabilities Baltimore: Paul H Brookes Publishing Co.
- Nisbet, J. and Hagner, D. (2000) Part of the Community: Strategies for Including Everyone 320 pages. In this groundbreaking book, the editors show you how they've changed their community to better support and enhance the lives of individuals with disabilities. Retail price $29.95.
- NNNN
- Norbeck, J.S., Lindsey, A.M. & Carrieri, V.L. (1981) The development of an instrument to measure social support. Nursing Research 30, 264-269.
- Norris, M. (1984) Integration of Special Hospital Patients into the Community. Aldershot: Gower.
- North West Training and Development Team (?) Essential Lifestyle Planning £21.90 from Inclusion Distribution.
- Novak, J. et al (1999) Initiatives influencing the emergence of results-based funding of supported employment services ? article describes results based funding in S.E. agencies
- Novak, J. et al (1999) Paying for Success: Results-based approaches to funding supported employment ? article analysis of issues and concerns around implementation of results-based funding

O'Brien, J. (1987) 'A guide to lifestyle planning: Using the activities catalog to integrate services and natural support systems' in Wilcox, B.W. and Bellamy, G.T. (eds) (1987) A Comprehensive Guide to the Activities Catalog: An alternative curriculum for youth and adults with severe disabilities Baltimore: Paul H Brookes.

O'Brien, J. and Lyle O'Brien, C. (1991) "Members of each other: perspectives on social supports for people with severe disabilities" in Nisbet, J. (ed) Natural Supports Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes

O'Brien, J. and Lyle O'Brien, C. (1996) Members of each other: building community in company with people with developmental disabilities Toronto: Inclusion Press

O'Brien, J. and Lyle O'Brien, C. (1999) The origins of person centred planning: a community of practice perspective. Paper prepared for the Center on Human Policy, Syracuse University.

O'Brien, J. and Lyle O'Brien, C. (2000) The politics of person-centred planning. Paper prepared for the Center on Human Policy, Syracuse University.

O'Brien, John (1983) Community Support Systems for People with Severe Mental Disabilities London: King's Fund (briefing paper for workshop "Planning Local Psychiatric Services")

O'Brien, John and Lovett, Herbert (1992) Finding a way toward everyday lives: the contribution of person centred planning Harrisburg: Pennsylvania Office of Mental Retardation (available from the Research and Training Center on Community Living, Center on Human Policy, Syracuse University)

O'Brien, John et al (1997) Person centred planning has arrived – or has it? Mental Retardation pp 480 – 484.

O'Brien, John, Pearpoint Jack & Kahn Lynda (2009) The PATH and MAPS Handbook: Person Centered Ways to Build Community Toronto: Inclusion Press

O'Bryan, A.; Simons, K.; Beyer, S. & Grove, B. for the Policy Consortium for Supported Employment (2000) A Framework For Supported Employment York: Joseph Rowntree Foundation.

O'Connell, M. (1988) Getting Connected: How to find out about groups and organisations in your neighbourhood Center for Urban Affairs and Policy Research, Northwestern University

O'Connell, M. (1988) The gift of hospitality: Opening the doors of community life to people with disabilities Evanston: IL: The Community Life Project.

O'Connell, M. (1990) Community Building in Logan Square The Community Life Project, a project of the Neighbourhood Innovations Network, Center for Urban Affairs and Policy Research, Northwestern University, 2040 Sheridan Road, Evanston, IL 60208, USA.

O'Connor, S. (1993) "I'm not Indian anymore": The challenge of providing culturally sensitive services to American Indians. In Racino, Walker, O'Connor and Taylor. ibid. pages 313 - 331.

O'Brien & O'Brien (1989) Circles of Support article Circles of Support: practical examples and conditions for positive change

O'Brien, J & O'Brien, C.I (199?) Building Better Communities book People with disabilities and their allies:Lessons from the USA

O'Brien, J. and Tyne, A. (1981) The Principle of Normalisation: A foundation for effective services London: Community and Mental Handicap Educational and Research Association.

O'Brien, John (1989) Designing Policies in Support of Inclusive Community: Questions for Decision Makers Asks policymakers to examine the effects of funding priorities and service policy decisions on the capacity of communities to include people with disabilities. 10 pages. $1.95 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John (1989) Signs of Community Building Summarises a visit with people involved in community building activities in Pennsylvania. 7 pages. $1.80 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John (1989) What's worth working for? Leadership for Better Quality Human Services Looks at leadership practices that contribute to organisational capacity to support people, build alliances and incorporate skilled assistance into ordinary settings. 24 pages. $2.45 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John (1990) Working On... A Survey of Emerging Issues in Supported Employment for People with Severe Disabilities Common themes of groups in seven US states concerned with improving the quality of supported employment. 34 pages. $2.75 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John (1992) Getting the Job Done: Learning to Expand the Social Resources Available to People with Severe Disabilities at Work Ideas on how everyone involved can work together to support people with severe disabilities at work. 7 pages. $1.80 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John and Forest, Marsha., with Snow, Judith, Pearpoint, Jack and Hasbury, David Action for Inclusion Inclusion Press. This book concentrates on how to improve schools by welcoming children who have special needs into mainstream classrooms. £7.00 from Inclusion Distribution.

O'Brien, John and O'Brien, Connie Lyle (1993) Unlikely Alliances: Friendships and People with Developmental Disabilities A reflection in the nature of friendship, on four of its dimensions, and on the meanings of friendship for people with and without developmental disabilities and the communities they inhabit and create together. 33 pages. $2.80 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John & O'Brien, Connie Lyle (?) Celebrating the ordinary: The emergence of Options in Community Living as a thoughtful organisation. £11.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

O'Brien, John and O'Brien, Connie Lyle (eds) (1992) Remembering the soul of our work: stories by the staff of Options in Community Living, Madison WI From Options. Staff at Options for Community Living tell stories of the joys and frustrations of their work and offers lessons about culture and leadership styles. £9.95 from VIA.

O'Brien, John and O'Brien, Connie Lyle (undated) Unfolding Capacity: people with disabilities and their allies building better communities together Syracuse University, Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, John., O'Brien, Connie Lyle., and Schwartz, David (eds) (1990) What can we count on to make and keep people safe? A variety of perspectives on creating effective safeguards for people with developmental disabilities, including an analysis of contrasting approaches, strategies for increasing people's safety, and options for action. 40 pages. $2.95 from the Center on Human Policy.

O'Brien, J. & O'Brien, Connie Lyle (eds) Implementing person-centred planning (£12.50 from Inclusion Distribution.

O'Bryan, A & Duffy, S (1993) Supported Employment in Hampshire report Guidance on SE strategy developing in Hampshire

O'Bryan, Anne and O'Brien, John (1995) Supported Employment Quality Assurance (SEQA) Manchester: National Development Team

Oliver, M. & Zarb, G. (1989) The Politics of Disability: A New Approach Disability, Handicap & Society, Vol.4, No.3, pp221-239 article

- Oliver, M. (1992) Changing the Social Relations of Research Production Disability, Handicap & Society, Vol.7, No.2, pp101-114 article
- Olshansky, S. (1966) Passing: road to normalisation for ex-mental patients Mental Hygiene 50(1) 86-8. Using the word 'normalisation' differently than we do these days, it advocates that those people who have had a mental health problem and are able to hide this from others should attempt to 'pass' as not mentally ill.
- Olson, D., Cioffi, A., Yovanoff, P., and Mank, D. (2000). Gender differences in supported employment. Mental Retardation, 38(2), 89-96.
- Onyett, S. R. and Borrill, C. (2003). Effective Teamworking and Leadership in Mental Health-Training Pack. London: Leadership Centre
- Onyett, S. R. (2000). Understanding relationships in context as a core competence for psychiatric rehabilitation. Psychiatric Rehabilitation Skills, 4, 282-299. A commissioned article.
- Onyett, S. R. (1999). Community mental health team working as a socially valued enterprise. Journal of Mental Health, 8, 3, 245-251.
- Onyett, S. R. , Pillinger, T. and Muijen, M. (1997) Job satisfaction and burnout among members of community mental health teams. Journal of Mental Health, 6, 1, 55-66.
- Onyett, S. R., Heppleston, T. and Muijen, M. (1995) Making Community Mental Health Teams Work. London. Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health.
- OOOO
- Open University (1978) The Socialisation process in relation to race Open University Module E361, Race, Children & Cities, Block 5, Part 2: The Acquisition of Racial Atti article study of social relations
- Open University (1980) Personal Construct Theory: Constructive Alternativism Open University Module E201, Personality & Learning, Block 7, Part 1, section 2 article study of social relations
- Open University (1994) Open Teaching Toolkit - Supporting Students with Mental Health Difficulties.
- Open University (1994) Supporting students with mental health difficulties: Guidelines for tutorial and counselling staff Open University.
- Open University (1996) Training the trainers workshop No 19. Mental Health: Helping not hindering. Open University.
- Orme, K (1992) The Americans with Disabilities Act 1990 report Study outlining the main points of the Act
- Osburn, J. (1988) Welcome to the club: Report of an external evaluation of the associaion integration project conducted for education for community initiatives. Unpublished manuscript, advertised by CCC (Reidy's bibliography)
- Ottenbacher, Kenneth A. & Cusick, Anne (1993) Discriminative versus evaluative assessment: some observations on goal attainment scaling American Journal of Occupational Therapy Vol 47, April 1993, p349-354.
- Spencer L & Pahl R (2006) Rethinking Friendship: Hidden Solidarities Today Princeton: Princeton University Press
- Pancsofar, Ernie (1994) Community Connections Resource Guide A manual on supporting people in the community, including sections on getting to know individuals, getting to know the community, making connections, developing relationships, helping individuals experience valued adult roles, and principles of learning. $25.00 from Communitas. The surname appears elsewhere as Panscofar.
- Pannell, J., Simons, K. & Macadam, M. (1999 or later) Baguettes and bicycles: the impact of work opportunities on the lives of people with learning difficulties in France and the UK. Bristol: Norah Fry Research Centre, University of Bristol.
- Pannell, Jenny & Simons, Ken (2003 or earlier) Paid work and housing Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. £14.95. 77 pages. ISBN 1 84196 007 1.
- Parish, Alex (1998) Volunteers and mental health befriending London: The National Centre for Volunteering. ISBN 0 897708 18 1. 97 pages £12.
- Parker, V. (1999) Developing a Code of Practice for disability co-ordinators Skill Journal, 1999 ? Pp19-26 article developing policy and practice for disability co-ordinators
- Parr, S (1999) Working Towards the Millenium Soundtrack, summer 1999 N.D.T. article
- Pascaris, Alysia (1991) "Social recreation: a blind spot in rehabilitation?" Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal Vol 15, No 1, 43-54.
- Past Tense (2017) The Mental Patients Union 1973. History of some of the earliest patient-led campaign groups in UK mental health.
- Patterson, D. & Osborn, K. () Keys to Successful Transitions Indiana Dept. of ED brochure examples of successful transition strategies
- Patterson, D. et al (1999) Family Guide to Transition Planning Indiana Inst. On Disability & Community report guidelines on transition planning
- Pavilion (perhaps) (2000) Social Inclusion for the most vulnerable Brighton: Pavilion. ISBN 1 841 960 330. £15
- Pealer, Jack and Landis, Sandra (1990) What we have noticed as we have tried to assist people one person at a time Chillicothe, Ohio: Ohio Safeguards.
- Pearpoint J., Forest, M. and Snow, J. (1993) The Inclusion Papers: strategies to make inclusion work Toronto: Inclusion Press
- Pearpoint, Jack (1990) From Behind the Piano: The building of Judith Snow's unique circle of friends This story about Judith Snow and her Joshua Committee demonstrates that love and determination will convert insurmountable barriers into conquerable challenges. Published by Inclusion Press. Available from Inclusion distribution £7.00.
- Pearpoint, Jack, O'Brien, John and Forest, Marsha (1993) PATH: A workbook for planning positive possible futures and planning alternative tomorrows with hope for schools, organisations, business and families. Second edition. Toronto: Inclusion Press.
- Pearpoint, Jack (?) Hints for graphic facilitators £12.50 from Inclusion Distribution
- Pedlar, A. (1990) Normalisation and integration: a look at the Swedish experience. Mental Retardation 28(5) 275-82. Swedish sites were visited to examine the lives of people with learning disabilities. The objectives of functional and physical integration articulated by Nirje (1980) seem to have been met through accessible and comprehensive services at the community level. However, social integration, involving meaningful interaction and association with other individuals and groups, presents an ongoing challenge.

Pekkala E & Merinder, L (2002) Psychoeducation for schizophrenia The Cchrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2002, Issue 2. Art No: CD002831. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD002831. "Schizophrenia can be a severe and chronic illness characterised by lack of insight and poor compliance with treatment. Psychoeducational approaches have been developed to increase patients' knowledge of, and insight into, their illness and treatment. Ten studies are included in this review. All studies of group education included family members. Compliance with medication was significantly improved in a single study using brief group intervention (at one year) but other studies showed equivocal or skewed data. Any kind of psychoeducational intervention significantly decreased relapse or readmission rates at 9 to 18 months follow up compared to standard care. Several of the secondary outcomes (knowledge gain, mental state, global level of functioning, expressed emotion in family members) were measured using scales that are difficult to interpret. Generally, however, findings were consistent with the possibility that psychoeducation has a positive effect on a person's wellbeing. No impact was found on insight, medication related attitudes or on overall satisfaction with services of patients or relatives but these findings rested on very few studies. Evidence from trials suggests that psychoeducational approaches are useful as a part of the treatment programme for people with schizophrenia and related illnesses. The fact that the interventions are brief and inexpensive should make them attractive to managers and policy makers."

Pelletier, J.R., Rogers, E.S. and Thurer, S. (1985) Barriers to the provision of mental health services to individuals with severe psychiatric disabilities. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Pengra, L.M. (2000) Your Values, My Values: Multicultural Services in Developmental Disabilities 272 pages. Through case stories of people with developmental disabilities, the book outlines culturally responsive methods of supporting self-advocacy, community inclusion and interpreting challenging behavior. Retail price $29.00.

People First (1999) Circles of Support briefing Discussing aspects of Circles of Support

People First (1999) People First: Information and Training Brochure briefing Information on a self advocacy group

Perkins, R (1998) An Act to Follow? article Project providing SE for people with mental health problems

Perkins, R. (1995) Whose community is it anyway? Doubly disadvantaged groups in rehabilitation and community care Clinical Psychology Forum August 1995.

Perkins, R. et al (1997) Access to Employment: A Supported Employment project to enable mental health service users to obtain jobs within mental health teams Journal of Mental Health Vol.6, No.3, pp307-318 article

Perkins, R.E. (1998) An Act to Follow? A Life in the Day, February 1998 Pavilion article

Perkins R, Evenson E & Davidson B (2000) Increasing access to employment within mental health services for people who have experienced mental health problems. Unpublished report.

Perkins, Rachel; Buckfield, Richard and Choy, Daisy (1997) Access to employment: A supported employment project to enable mental health service users to obtain jobs within mental health teams Journal of Mental Health Vol 6 No 3 pp 307 - 318 Discussion on importance of employment for people who experience serious mental health problems See also articles by Ben Davidson and Catherine Jackson.

Perry, J. & Felce, D. (1994) Outcomes of ordinary housing services in Wales: objective indicators Mental Handicap Research 7, pp286-311.

Perske, R. (1980) New Life in the neighbourhood: how persons with retardation and other disabilities can make a good community better Nashville, TN: Abingdon Press.

Perske, Robert and Perske M. (1988) Circles of Friends: People with disabilities and their friends enrich the lives of one another Nashville TN, Abingdon Press. ISBN 068 7083907. £9.95 from VIA.

Perske, Robert Deadly Innocence Nashville: Abingdon Press.

Perske, Robert (?) Hope for the families £10.50 from Inclusion Distribution

Pettifer, C. & Mansell, J. (1993) Engagement in meaningful activity in day centres Mental Handicap Research Vol 6, No 4.

Pfadt, Albert & Holburn, C.Steve (1996) Community-based support services update: Community based supports for people with challenging behaviours The Habilitative Mental Healthcare Newsletter 15(1) 8-11.

Pfeiffer, D. (1996) We Won't Go Back: the ADA on the grass roots level Disability & Society, Vol.11, No.2, pp271-284 article

Phillips, T (1997) Changeover article conversion of day services, transition curve

Phillips, T (1997) Street Level Bureaucrats article Disability legislation - a key area of legislation for supported employment

Philpott, T. and Ward, L. (eds) Values and Visions: changing ideas in services for people with learning difficulties Butterworth Heinemann.

Pierce, T.B. Luckasson, R. and Smith, D.D. (1990) Surveying unstructured time of adults with mental retardation living in two community settings: a search for normalisation. Exceptionality 1(2) 123-134. Investigated whether 40 randomly selected mentally retarded individuals differed in the amount of time spent in the community, the people with whom unstructured activities were performed and the identity of the choice maker. Time spent in unstructured activity was divided into four subsets: performed by self, with a peer, with staff and with family.

Pilisuk, M. and Parks, S. (1986) The Healing Web: Social Networks and Human survival Hanover, NH: University Press of New England.

Pilkington, E. (1991) Pastime with good company Search 10 August.

Pimm, P (1995) Vocational Assessment and young people with Cerebral Palsy article vocational assessment to help determine employment potential and guidance

Pimm, P (1997) Cerebral Palsy and Employment article Cerebral Palsy: issues that impact on employment

Pinder, R. (1997) A Reply to Tom Shakespeare and Nicholas Watson Disability & Society, Vol.12, No.2, pp301-305 article

Pinfold, Vanessa (2000) 'Building up safe havens...all around the world': users' experiences of living in the community with mental health problems Health and Place 6 pp201-212.

Pitcock, F. and Potts, M (1988) Neighbourhood attitudes to people with a mental handicap: a comparative study British Journal of Mental Subnormality 34(1) 35-46. 50 women from five different neighbourhoods were surveyed. Subjects living near a large institution expressed negative attitudes to community care. Positive attitudes were expressed around the longest established group home in terms of being willing to have handicapped neighbours.

Poel, M. (1993) Delineating personal support networks. Social Networks 15, 1, 49-70.

Popperwell, I (2006) Political or parental? Are financial subsidies an appropriate part of socially inclusive mental health services? A Life in the Day May/June 2006.

Powell, C. (2003) The Delphi technique: myths and realities Journal of Advanced Nursing Vol 41, No 4, pp376-382.

Power, P.W. and Marinelli, R.P. (1974) Normalisation and the sheltered workshop: a review and proposals for change Rehabilitation Literature 35(3) 66-72. Recounts some of the ways in which sheltered workshops harm rather than help disabled clients: (a) an atmosphere of deviancy rather than normality; (b) reduced expectancies which evoke reduced performance; (c) dull, routine, and trivial job tasks which stifle motivation; (d) location of workshops far from the community's mainstream of life; (e) a production orientation which conflicts with rehabilitation goals; and (f) substandard remuneration.

Pozner, A. and Hammond, J. (1993) An Evaluation of Supported Employment Initiatives for Disabled People. Sheffield: Employment Department Research Series No 17, HMSO.

Pozner, Adam; Hammond, Judith and Ng, Mee Ling (2000) Working together: expanding work opportunities through partnerships for people with mental health problems Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. £25 for 80 A4 pages. ISBN 1 84196 0357. Has some examples of volunteering and employment.

Pozner, Adam; Ng, Mee Ling; Hammond, Judith; and Shepherd, Geoff (1996?) Working It Out: Creating work opportunities for people with mental health problems Brighton: Pavilion Publishing, in association with The Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health and OUTSET Consultancy Service. 160 pages. Topics include service models, funding sources, how to assess local need, development strategies and guidelines for good practice.

PPPP

Pratt, M., Luszcz M. & Brown, M. (1980) Measuring dimensions of the quality of care in small community residences American Journal of Mental Deficiency 85, pp 188 – 194.

Priestley, M. (2000) Disability Politics and Community Care JKP book shows how involving people with disabilities in the design and production of their own welfare will break down disabling barriers

Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 16, 2.

Puddicombe, Bill Days Day services are caught in a trap between the reformists, who believe that the segregated day centre still has an active role, and the growing impetus of employment services outside the day centre. Puddicombe suggests that a more creative response to each person offers a way out. £2.50 from VIA.

Puddifoot, J.E. (1995) Dimensions of Community Identity Journal of Community and Applied Social Psychology 5, 357-370.

Putnam, Robert D. (2000) Bowling Alone: The collapse and revival of American community New York: Simon & Schuster.

QQQQ

Quality New Jersey Inc. (1995) The 1995 New Jersey Quality Achievement Award outline guidelines for quality achievement award presented annually to NJ orgs recognised for excelling in quality management

Racino, Julie Ann., Walker, Pamela., O'Connor, Susan and Taylor, Steven J., (eds) (1993) Housing, Support and Community: Choices and Strategies for Adults with Disabilities ISBN 1-55766-090-5. Current strategies and unique ways of thinking about supporting people to live in their own homes and participate in community life. Order from Paul H. Brookes.

Ramcharan, P. et al (eds) (2000) Empowerment in Everyday Life JKP book focus on what empowerment for people with learning disabilities might look like and how to develop practice

Raynes, N.; Wright, K.; Shiell, A. & Pettipher, C. (1994) The cost and quality of community residential care London: David Fulton Publishers.

Real Jobs Initiative (1991) Real Jobs Report of a conference for supported employment agencies sponsored by the Real Jobs Initiative - July 1991 - a partnership between the NDT, the Joseph Rowntree Foundation and Training in Systematic Instruction. Available from NDT £4.50.

Reed, K.L. (1984). Models of practice in occupational therapy. Baltimore: Williams & Wilkins. I believe that this is the classic text explaining Reed's model of occupational performance.

Rees, Mair (1998) Drawing on difference ISBN 0 415 15479 0. 280 pages.

Reid, D., Green, C. & Parsons, M. (1998) A comparison of supported work versus center-based program services on selected outcomes for individuals with multiple severe disabilities JASH Vol 23, No 1.

Reidy, D. (1989) Integrating people with disabilities into voluntary associations: the possibilities and limitations. Unpublished manuscript, Education for Community Initiatives, Holyoke, MA.

Reidy, D. (1991) Bibliography on Personal Integration of Persons with Disabilities into Community Life. Holyoke, M.A.: Education for community initiatives. 3 pages $1.50 from CCC.

Reidy, D. (1992) "Shattering Illusions of Difference". Resources 4 (2), 3 - 6. $2 from CCC. Explores culture, attitudinal, and service practice barriers to social integration for persons with psychiatric disabilities and presents recommendations for facilitating change.

Reiter, S. and Levi, A.M. (1980) Factors affecting social integration of noninstitutionalised mentally retarded adults. American Journal of Mental Deficiency 85, 1, 25-30.

Repper, J. and Brooker C. (1997) Difficulties in the measurement of outcome in people who have serious mental health problems Journal of Advanced Nursing 27, 75-82.

Repper, Julie (2000) 'Social Inclusion.' Chapter in Thompson T. and Matthias P. (eds) Mental Health and Disorder, 3rd edition London: Bailliere Tindall.

Repper, Julie & Perkins, Rachel (2003) Social Inclusion and Recovery: A model for mental health practice London: Balliere Tindall.

Repper, Julie, Sayce, Liz, Strong, S.; Wilmott, J. and Haines M. (1997) Tall stories from the back yard: national survey of local NIMBY opposition to community mental health facilities London: Mind Publications. £6.

Rhodes, L et al (1990) Supported Employment Implementation: Shifting from Program Monitoring to Quality Improvement Journal of Disability Policy Studies Vol.1, No.2, pp2-18 article Guidelines for developing state quality assurance systems in S.E.

Richardson, A. and Ritchie, J. (1989) Developing Friendships: enabling people with learning difficulties to make and maintain friends London: Policy Studies Institute in association with Social and Community Planning Research.

Rickell, S (1994) Working Through Barriers report Discrimination in job seeking for people with disabilities in Wiltshire

Ridgeway, A (1998) Transition to Adult Services-a personal perspective paper positive approaches to transition planning

Ridgway, P. (1987) Avoiding Zoning Battles Intergovernmental Health Policy Project, Meeting on Zoning Issues, (Washington DC), Boston MA: Boston University, Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation, Community Residential Rehabilitation Project. 9 pages. $3.00 from CCC. Questions the success of high profile approaches to siting residential programs in achieving community integration for clients. Proposes community development approaches which minimise the use of residential facilities.

Ries, A. and Trout, J. (1989) Closing the Shop: Conversion from Sheltered to Integrated Work Baltimore: Paul Brookes Publishers.

Ritchie, P (1996) Breaking the Mould seminar paper service development, inclusion and self determination

Ritchie, Pete, Jones, Chris and Broderick, Laura (undated) Ways to Work: Converting Day Services Edinburgh: SHS. ISBN 1 899751 05 X. Ways To Work offers some advice and encouragement to people who want to convert their day services from a service-controlled model based on segregation to a person-centred model based on inclusion. Based on their belief that the way day services are set up makes it more or less impossible to give people the help they need to live valued lives within their communities, this is not a criticism of the staff, or the managers, or the people and their families who use and value the service. It is a criticism of the model. This book is designed to help you begin to think about some of the issues around conversion as they relate to your service. It should help you to think about why conversion is needed, what makes it difficult, how things could be different, and how the process of change could be managed. £12.50 from SHS.

Ritchie, Pete; Sanderson, Helen; Kilbane, J. & Routledge, Martin (2003) People, Plans and Practicalities: achieving change through person centred planning Edinburgh, SHS Ltd.

RNIB Seminar Papers (1999) Supported Employment: The Millennium Challenge seminar SEP: review of issues, concerns and future

Roberts, S (1991) Learning to Lead - (COIC) (1991 learning pack Learning about effective leadership behaviour.

Roberts, S. (1989) Learning to Listen COIC. learning pack learning about effective listening practice listening skills

Robinson, C. and Williams, V. (1998) In their own right: the impact of the 1995 Carers Act: Preliminary findings. Bristol: Norah Fry Research Centre, University of Bristol.

Robson, C. (2000) Real World Research Oxford: Blackwell Publishers Ltd. Advice and support in carrying out real world research

Roehner A. et al (1974) Assessing the national recreation study Journal of Leisurability 1(4) 34-41. Critiques a report entitled Recreation Services for the Handicapped by P. Witt by presenting the viewpoint of the Canadian National Institute on Mental Retardation (NIMR). It is stated that the report describes past and present problems and failures without analysing them or providing proposals for the future.

Roehner Institute (1995) Inclusion of Individuals with Disabilities in Post-Secondary Education: A Review of the Literature This review critically examines the educational, research and program literature in Canada and the US on the inclusion of adults with intellectual disabilities in colleges and vocational training. It identified factors that contribute to integration and looks at participation levels, accessibility and model programmes. 37 pages.

Roehner Institute (1989) Leisure Connections: Enabling people with a disability lead richer lives in the community This workbook helps those who are supporting people with disabilities to find enriching, meaningful leisure activities and connect with others in the community. It outlines and enjoyable, stimulating, eight-step process for support groups to work and play through together. 58 pages.

Roehner Institute (1989) The Pursuit of Leisure: Enriching the lives of people who have a disability

Roehner Institute (1990) Making Friends: Developing relationships between people with a disability and other members of the community Exploring key elements of friendship, this book examines conditions that facilitate the development of relationships, identified key barriers that need to be overcome and outlines practical options.

Roehner Institute (1993) Community Living and Intellectual Disability in Canada, 1980-1992: An Annotated Bibliography Annotated references to over 1200 books, articles and reports on issues affecting people with an intellectual disability. The aim of these resources is to show how people with an intellectual disability can be more effectively supported as participating members of their communities. 277 pages.

Roehner Institute (1993) Literacy in Motion: A Guide to Inclusive Literacy Education This practical guide to the inclusion of persons with intellectual and other disabilities in community literacy programmes provides a variety of practical suggestions and strategies drawn from successful inclusive practices. 31 pages.

Roehner Institute (1996) Building Bridges: Inclusive Post-Secondary Education for People with Intellectual Disabilities Educational programming and practices in this study enable adults with disabilities to participate and learn in regular classes in the environment of a community college, vocational training college, or university. Systems of support for instructors and students and the means of overcoming key obstacles are also presented. 119 pages.

Roehner Institute (1996) Disability, community and Society: Exploring the Links This explores the terrain of disability from a human rights perspective. It chronicles the historical shift from the medical and charity model of institutionalising persons with disabilities to the rights-based perspective that has emerged over the past two decades. This book examines inclusive education, employment, technology, healthcare, relationships, abuse, etc. 218 pages.

Roehner Institute (1996) Everybody's Business: Self-Employment Issues and Opportunities for People with a Disability Here are some success stories that tell you what you need to know about everything from principles of community economic development as a driving force behind self-employment to decision making, to different aspects of running a small business. Includes a training manual. 101 pages.

Roehner Institute (1996) Information as a Tool for Social Change: Developing the Capacity for Community-Based Information. Here is a guide for community-based organisations to develop the capacity to collect, organise and share information and develop networks for information exchange regionally, nationally and internationally. 42 pages.

Roeher Institute (1997) Community-Based Research A guide for involving the community and community-based organisations in the research process as a critical step towards their involvement in shaping public policy affecting people with disabilities. 48 pages.

Roeher Institute (1998) Employees who are Parents of Children with Disabilities: A Guide for Employers. All employers have a vested interest in ensuring that they have committed and productive employees. This guide outlines what employers can do to be more accommodating and inclusive of the needs of parents who have children with disabilities. 20 pages.

Roeher Institute (1998) Labour Force Inclusion of Parents caring for Children with Disabilities Parents of children with disabilities are finding it increasingly difficult to meet the demands of the workplace while raising and supporting their children. This research study looks at the issues they face when seeking inclusion in the labour force.

Roeher Institute, Downsview, Ontario (1997) Community Development and Social change: Strategies and Actions for Human Rights and People with Disabilities This guide outlines the steps for bringing together communities, organisations, families and individuals to work together for a planned process of change.

Roeleveld, N.; Ziekhuis, G.A. & Gabreels, F. (1997) The prevalence of mental retardation: a critical review of recent literature Developmental medicine and child neurology 39, 125-132.

Rogan, P. (1999) Conversion Task-Force Recommendations for Moving to Person-Centred Funding The IN-APSE News, 1999, p4 article features of a person centred funding mechanism

Rogan, P. and Murphy S. (1991) "Supported Employment and Vocational Rehabilitation: Merger or misadventure? Journal of Rehabilitation 57(2), 39-45.

Rogan, P. et al 1999 Workplace Supports in Practice? Indiana Uni. article study of ways workplace supports are implemented in four S.E. orgs. S.E., workplace supports Rogan, Pat (1993) Toward Integrated Employment for All Describes the development of services in a part of New Hampshire, including discussion of system change strategies, practices being used to support people in jobs and current issues and dilemmas. 24 pages. $2.70 from the Center on Human Policy.

Rogers NB, Hawkins BA, Eklund SJ. The nature of leisure in the lives of older adults with intellectual disability. J Intellect Disabil Res. 1998 Apr;42 (Pt 2):122-30.

Rollnick, S. (1991) Motivational Interviewing: Preparing people for change London: Guilford Press.

Rollnick, S. & Miller, WR (1995) What is motivational interviewing? Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapy 23, 325-334.

Romer D, Heller T. Social adaptation of mentally retarded adults in community settings: a social-ecological approach. Appl Res Ment Retard. 1983;4(4):303-14.

Rose, G. (1982) Deciphering Sociological research MacMillan book Factors of importance in sociological research: link between theory and empirical evidence and the presence of certain key components

Rose, S. (ed) (1992) Case Management: An overview and assessment. White Plains, NY: Longman Inc.

Rosen, J. and Burchard, S. (1990) Community activities and social support networks: a social comparison of adults with and adults without mental retardation. Education and Training in Mental Retardation Vol 25 pp 193-204.

Rowe, D, & Rudkin, A. (1999) A systematic review of the qualitative evidence for the use of lifestyle planning in people with learning disabilities Journal of Learning Disabilities for Nursing, Health and Social Care, Vol3, No.3, pp148-158 article

Royal College of Psychiatrists (2002) Employment and Psychiatric Disability,

RRRR

RRTC Consortium on Aging and DD Peer Companion model implementing community integration for older persons with developmental disabilities Available from the Institute on Life-Span Development and Gerontology, The University of Akron, 179 Simmons Hall, Akron OH 44325-4307.

Rubin, Judith (1998) Art Therapy: An introduction ISBN 0 87630 897 3. 325 pages, £21.50.

Ruddy R & Milnes D (2003) Art therapy for schizophrenia or schizophrenia-like illnesses. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2003 Issue 1, Art No: CD003728. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD003728. "Art therapy allows exploration of the patient's inner world in a non-threatening way through a therapeutic relationship and the use of art materials. It was mainly developed in adult psychiatric units and was designed for use as an adjunctive treatment with people in whom verbal psychotherapy would be impossible. The search identified 57 reports but only two studies (total n=137) met the inclusion criteria. The use of art therapy for serious mental illnesses should continue to be under evaluation as its benefits, or harms, are unclear.

Ruffner, R.H. (1986) The last frontier: Jobs and mentally ill persons. Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 9, 35-42.

Rungie, Mike (ed) (in press) The wounding of elderly people: An introduction to social role valorisation and ageing Adelaide.

Rusch, F.R. and Hughes, C. (1989) Overview of Supported Employment Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis Vol 22, No 4, pp 351 - 363

Russell, J. (1995) Leisure and recreation services. In Malin, N. Services for people with learning disabilities London: Routledge.

Russell, O., Simons, K.; Lauruol, J. & Foster, R. (1996) Quantifying the needs and looking towards the future: a survey of the health and social care needs of people with learning difficulties living in Bristol and District Bristol: Norah Fry Research Centre, University of Bristol.

Ruttiman, A. and Forest, M. (1986) With a little help from my friends: The integration facilitator at work Entourage 1, (3) pp 24-33. See under E for Entourage.

Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health (1999) Keeping Faith: the provision of community mental health services within a multi-faith context. London: Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health. This report looks at how the strong religious beliefs of the different ethnic communities in the multi-cultural borough of Newham are often not taken into account by community mental health services. Keeping Faith highlights how the taboo mental health staff have around the discussion of spiritual beliefs alienates many Asian and African-Caribbean people. £4.50.

Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health (2001) Forward in Faith: an experiment in building bridges between ethnic communities and mental health services in East London London: Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health. This report gives a fascinating account of the challenges of building bridges between faith communities and mental health services. The report charts the establishment and progress of the London Borough of Newham' department of spiritual, religious and cultural care which developed from the research described in our 1997 report 'Keeping Faith' £7.

Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health (2001) On Your Doorstep: Community organisations and mental health London: Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health. This groundbreaking report looks at the links between community development projects and mental health. It specifically explores how community projects can contribute to engagement with people with mental health problems. It examines the practical experience of two major community development projects and significantly enhances our understanding of how communities can underpin individuals' mental health. £12.

Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health (2001) User's Voices A review of user focused monitoring. Wholly user-controlled and carried out by teams of local users, these projects sought views on community and hospital care. Over 500 users participated in the research. The report gives a detailed account of the method and looks at CPA, medication, crises, user involvement, advocacy and complaints. £15 (£7.50 for users).

Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health (2002) Breaking the Circles of Fear London: Sainsbury Centre for Mental Health. How to improve opportunities for African and African Caribbean adults with mental health problems. ISBN 1 870480 55 4.

Saloviita, T. (2000) Supported Employment as a Paradigm Shift and a Cause of Legitimation Crisis Disability & Society Vol. 15, No. 1, pp87-98 article Difficulties in introducing a new service paradigm (S.E.) in Finland

Sanderson, H.; Kennedy, J.; Ritchie, P. and Goodwin, G. (1997) People, plans and possibilities: exploring person centred planning Edinburgh: SHS Ltd.

Sandford, Tom (Sept/Oct 1997) Nursing wounds OpenMind No 87 page 7.

Sandow, D. et al (1990) Assuring Quality in Supported Employment Journal of Rehabilitation Administration February 1990, pp20-25 article Examine a quality assurance method that promotes quality in S.E. through voluntary standards.

Sandy, P. et al (1998) Developing Community Transition Councils and Interagency teams Indiana Dept. Of Ed. report description of community councils: nucleus for community action in improving outcomes for students exiting schools.

Sang B & O'Brien J (1984) Advocacy: the UK and American experiences London: King's Fund.

Santelli, B.; Poyadue, F.S. & Young, J.L. (2001) The Parent to Parent Handbook: Connecting Families of Children with Special Needs 390 pages. Parents who have been there show you how these valuable Parent to Parent programs work and can help you, as well as the steps to start your own group. $29.95.

Sarason, I.G. Levine, H.M., Basham, R.B. & Sarason B.R. (1983) Assessing social support: The Social Support Questionnaire Journal of Personality and Social Psychology 44, 127-139.

Saxby, H., Thomas, M., Felce, D. and de Kock, U. (1986) The use of shops, cafes and public houses by severely and profoundly mentally handicapped adults. British Journal of Mental Subnormality 32, 69 - 81.

Sayce, L & Bates, P. (2001) Disability Rights and Mental Health Mental Health Practice Vol 4, No 5. pp 8- 11.

Sayce, L. and Bates, P. (2000) The New Disability Rights Agenda Learning Disability Practice Vol 3 issue 3, p6-9.

Sayce, Liz (2000) From Psychiatric Patient to Citizen: overcoming discrimination and social exclusion Basingstoke: MacMillan. ISBN 0 333 698 90 8

Sayce, Liz and Morris, David (?) Outsiders coming in - achieving social inclusion for people with mental health problems London: MIND Publications. ISBN 1 874690 90 1. £4. 42 pages. Practical proposals for action which could be pursued by mental health primary care services with a number of partners.

Schaaf, L. et al (1999) Interviewing, Selecting and Hiring Personal Care assistants and Employment Specialists Indiana Dept. of Ed. report Guide focusing on how individual with disability takes charge of the recruitment process

Schalock, R., Harper, R. & Genung, T. (1981) Community integration of mentally retarded adults: community placement and program success American Journal of Mental Deficiency 85, pp478-488.

Schalock, R.L. and Lilley, M.A. (1986) Placement from community-based mental retardation programmes: how well do clients do after 8 to 10 years? American Journal of Mental Deficiency 90, 6, 669-676.

Schaefer, Nicola (?) Yes! She knows she's here £6.90 from Inclusion Distribution.

Schleien, S., Tipton Ray, and Green F. (1997) Community Recreation & People with Disabilities: Strategies for Inclusion Written by authors committed to ensuring the inclusion of people with disabilities in community recreation, this practical book equips readers to design, implement and evaluate recreation programs.

Schneider, Justine (1992) Can friendships be fostered? Community Living Vol 5 No 4 pp 14-15, April 1992. Evaluates a friendship scheme to support people resettled from hospital. Can real friendships be created by volunteers?

Schneider, Justine (1998) Work interventions in mental health care: Some arguments and recent evidence Journal of Mental Health Vol 7, Issue 1, pp 81-94.

Schneider, J.; Simons, K. & Everatt, G. (2001) Impact of the National Minimum Wage on Disabled People Disability and Society Vol 16, No 5, p 723-747.

Schnibbe, H. & Mancuso, L. (1990) National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors. Position Statement on Employment of Persons with Severe Psychiatric Disabilities Alexandria, VA: NASMHPD. Free from CCC.

Schoenfeld, P., Dott, J.H., ven der Velden, E.H. and Ruhf,L. (1986) "Long term outcome of network therapy" Hospital and Community Psychiatry Vol 37, pp 373-76.

Schofield, H. (2002) Support where it's needed Volunteering Number 74, December 2001/January 2002. Pages 14-15.

Schon, D.A. (1987) Educating the Reflective Practitioner Jossey Brass book

Schwartz, D. (ed) (1991) The other side of the river: The conceptual/social revolution in developmental disabilities Cambridge MA: Brookline.

- Scott, J (1998) Social Inclusion & Govt's Agenda for Mental Health report Richmond Fellowship Managers Conference report
- Scottish Further Education Unit (1994) Mental health matters: Guidelines for supporting students with mental health difficulties SFEU.
- Scottish Human Services Trust (SHS) annual report SHS 1996 report Philosophy and review of SHS education, empowerment
- SCOVO (?) Too Many Pages: SCOVO's guide to involving users to make services better. It is for anyone wishing to develop a more 'user led' service. It focuses on methods of user participation and tips for making information accessible. The guide has been produced in a user-friendly format with plenty of visuals. Reduced from £15 to £7.50. Contact SCOVO on 029 20492443. E-mail: enquiries@scovo.org.uk
- Searl, Julia (1996) Community Integration Policy and Practice Abstracts A compilation of recent journal articles relevant to community integration for people with developmental disabilities and includes topics of education, employment, policy, communication and supported living. 29 pages. $3.85 from the Center for Human Policy.
- Secker, J.; Grove, B & Seebohm, P. (2001) Challenging barriers to employment, training and education for mental health service users: The service user's perspective Journal of Mental Health (10) 4, 395-404.
- Secker J, Spandler H, Hacking S, Kent L & Shenton (2007) Mental health, social inclusion and arts: developing the evidence base London: Department of Health
- Seebohm P & Grove B (2006) Leading by Example: Making the NHS an exemplar employer of people with mental health problems London: SCM
- Seebohm P, Gilchrist A, Morris D (2008) Connect and Include: An exploratory study of community development and mental health London: Community Development Foundation.
- Seed, P. (1988) Day Care at the Crossroads Tunbridge Wells: Costello.
- Segal, S.P., Baumohl, J. and Moyles, E.W. (1980) Neighbourhood types and community reaction to the mentally ill: A paradox of intensity Journal of Health and Social Behaviour 21 (4) 345-359.
- Self Advocacy AAMR 1998 briefing Self advocacy and learning disability self advocacy, learning disability
- Seltzer, Krauss, and Janicki (1994) Life course perspectives on adulthood and old age. Amer. Assoc. on Mental Retardation publication
- Seyfang, G. (2001) Spending time, building communities: evaluating time banks and mutual volunteering as a tool for tackling social exclusion Voluntary Action: The Journal of the Institute of Volunteering Research Vol 4, No 1, Winter 2001.
- Shakespeare, T. & Watson, N. (1997) Defending the Social Model Disability & Society, Vol. 12, No.2, pp293-300 article
- Shakespeare, T. (1993) Disabled People's Self Organisation: A New Social Movement? Disability, Handicap & Society, Vol.8, No.3, pp249-264 article
- Sharac, J.S., Yoder, B. and Sullivan, A. (1995) Consumers and supported education mentors. Book chapter. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.
- Shattock, Geoff (1999) Wake up to work: friendship and faith in the workplace
- Shaw, L. (1990) Each belongs - Integrated education in Canada Bristol: The Centre for Studies in Inclusive Education.
- Shearer, Ann (1986) Building Community - people with mental handicaps, their families and friends London, CMH. £9.50 from VIA.
- Shepherd, L (1992) So you want to hire a consumer: Employing people with Psychiatric disabilities as staff members in mental health agencies Sacramento, CA: Protection and Advocacy, Inc. 5 pages. $1.50 from CCC.
- Sherman PS & Porter R (1991) Mental health consumers as case management aides Hospital and Community Psychiatry 42, 494-498.
- Shields, David Lyle Light and Bredemeier, Brenda Jo Light (1995) Character Development and Physical Activity
- Shimitras, Leah; Fossey, Ellie & Harvey, Carol (2003) Time use of people living with schizophrenia in a North London catchment area British Journal of Occupational Therapy 66(2) pp 46-54.
- Shores R. (1987) Overview of research on social interaction: A historical and personal perspective Behavioural Disorders 12, 233-241.
- Shultz, B. (1995) "My heart chose freedom: The story of Lucy Rider's second life". In Taylor, Bogdan and Lutfiyya pages 155-174.
- Sibbet, D. (1981) I see what you mean! An introduction to group graphics San Francisco: author.
- Signalong Group (2004) Signalong for Sport: At the Leisure Centre Rochester: The Signalong Group. ISBN 1 902317 42 4. £22.25 plus p+p.
- Silberfeld, M. (1978) Psychological Symptoms and Social Supports. Social Psychiatry 13, 11 -17.
- Simmons, T. and Flexner, R. (1992) Business and rehabilitation factors in the development of supported employment programmes for adults with developmental disabilities" Journal of Rehabilitation 58,1,35-42.
- Simon, M. (1990) Making a difference: Ex-patients as staff Resources 2 (1) 9-10.
- Simons, K. & Watson, D. (1999) New Directions? Day services for people with learning disabilities in the 1990s Bristol: Norah Fry Research Centre
- Simons, K. (1998) Home, work and inclusion: the social policy implications of supported living and employment for people with learning disabilities York: Joseph Rowntree Foundation. Tel 01904 430 033. £11.95.
- Sinson, J. (1995) Care in the community for young people with learning disabilities: the client's voice London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers.
- Sinson, J.C. (1993) Group Homes and Community Integration of Developmentally Disabled People: Micro-Institutionalisation? London: Jessica Kingsley. Chapter one contains the somewhat disturbing results of a UK study into community attitudes to mental handicap. Chapters 4 and 5 show that the majority of group homes are not much different from life in a large institution.
- Sinson, J.C. (1994) Normalisation and community integration of adults with severe mental handicap relocated to group homes. Journal of developmental and physical disabilities 6(3) 255-270. This paper explores the negative factors which contribute to micro-institutionalisation in group homes. An expanded example from a private sector group home for 12 people relocated from a psychiatric hospital and obtained paid unskilled employment in the local community, provides a suggested antidote.

Skill (1998) Disability Equality in Volunteering London: Skill, National Bureau for students with disabilities. £10. Tel 0207 450 0620.

Skill (2000) Students with mental health difficulties: Your questions answered London: Skill. This book helps education professionals become more aware of what mental health difficulties are and what issues may be particularly relevant to people with mental health difficulties who enter education or training. Updated 2000. 20 pages. £6.50.

Skill (2002) Into Higher Education 2003 London: Skill. If you have a disability and are planning to start an HE course, then this is for you.

Skill (2002) Enhancing quality of life resource pack London: Skill. This is one of the outputs from a 3 year project run by Skill and the University of Cambridge. Helps people working with people who have PMLD during periods of transition. Contains a self development guide, video, a guide to support managers, a briefing paper for policy makers, a literature review, and a manual for monitoring review and evaluation. £20.

Skill and Scottish Further Education Unit (1994) Expanding the Boundaries: Readings in Mental Health and Education Skills and learning intelligence for the South West) moving towards inclusion: A picture of disadvantage in the south west swslim@exeter.ac.uk or 01392 264850.

Skills for School Leavers with Learning Difficulties Margaret, K (COIC) 1991 learning pack School Leavers core skills development pack school leavers, core skills Skriner, G.S. and Hutchinson, D.S. (1994) Exercise training and perceptual responses in adults with severe mental illness. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Skriner, G.S. and Hutchinson, D.S. (1994) Psychiatric disorders and Exercise. Book chapter. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Skriner, G.S. and Hutchinson, D.S. (1994) The impact of exercise training on mood changes in adults with psychiatric disability. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Skriner, G.S. Unger, K.V., Hutchinson, D.S. and Faigenbaum, A.D. (1992) Effects of Exercise Training on Young Adults with Psychiatric Disabilities. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Small Dan and Michelle Sudar (1995) "Islands of Brilliance" Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 18(30) 37-50

Smull, Michael and Harrison, S. (1992) Supporting People with Severe Reputations in the Community Alexandria, VA: National Association of State Mental Retardation Program Directors.

Snell, M.E.; Janney R. et al (2000) Social relationships and peer support: teacher's guides to inclusive practices An easy-to-read guide offering effective strategies and programs that foster positive social relationships through assessment, development and teaching skills.

Snow, J. Dreaming, speaking and creating: What I know about community Toronto: Centre for Integrated Education and Community.

Snow, Judith (1994) What's really worth doing and how to do it: A book for people who love someone labelled disabled (possibly yourself) This book invites us to realise our dreams by joining in the dance of life - how we can join in the journey to be taken out of an existence dominated by disability and into community. Published by Inclusion Press. Available from Inclusion Distribution £7.00.

Social Care Institute of Excellence (2007) Practice guide 10: Community-based day activities and supports for people with learning disabilities Available at <http://www.scie.org.uk/publications/practiceguides/practiceguide10/>

Social Exclusion Unit (2004) Mental Health and Social Exclusion London: Office of the Deputy Prime Minister

Social Market Foundation (2008) Disconnected Citizens, I think which suggests that engagement can sometimes be bad for your health/well-being if it leads to stress, frustration, etc.

Social Services Inspectorate (1991) Getting the Message Across Guide to developing & communicating policies, Assessment principles & procedures.

Social Services Inspectorate (2001) Making it work: Inspection of welfare to work for disabled people London: Department of Health.

Social Services Year Book Pearson Education. Tel 0207 447 2000.

Soler, M.I., Shotton, A.C. and Bell, J.R. (1993) Glass Walls: Confidentiality Provisions and Interagency Collaborations The Youth Law Center, 114 Sansome Street, Suite 950, San Francisco, CA 94104, USA. Tel (415) 543-3379.

Sone, K. (1992) Unearthing hidden illness Community Care 14 January 1992.

Sowers JA, Powers L. Enhancing the participation and independence of students with severe physical and multiple disabilities in performing community activities. Ment Retard. 1995 Aug;33(4):209-20.

Spaniol, S.E. (1990) Exhibiting art by people with mental illness: Issues, Process and Principles. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Spaniol, S.E. (1990) Organising exhibitions of art by people with mental illness: a step-by-step manual. Available from CPR.

Specht, D.I. and Nagy, M. (1986) Social Supports Research Project: Report of Findings Holyoke, MA: Western Massachusetts Training Consortium.

Specht, H. (1986) "Social support, social networks, social exchange and social work practice" Social Service Review 60, pp.218-40.

Sperry, Len (2001) Spirituality in clinical practice: incorporating the spiritual dimension in psychotherapy and counselling. ISBN 1 58391 067 0. 224 pages. £14.50. Includes assessment methods and spiritual measures.

Srebnik, D. (ed) (1990) Building Supportive Communities: the abstracted proceedings of the 7th Annual American Psychological Association North Eastern Regional Community Psychology Conference October 20 - 21st 1990. Burlington VT: CCC. 52 pages. $7.50 from CCC. A Conference on Community Integration of people with serious disabilities.

SSSS

St Marks. Signposts www.stlukes.org.au/resources. There are many sets of cards for sale here.

Stacey, Ralph (1996) Strategic Management & Organisational Dynamics (2nd ed.) London: Pitman Publishing ISBN: 0-273-61375-8

- Stainback, S., Stainback, W. and Forest, M. (eds) (1989) Educating all students in the mainstream of regular education Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co.
- Stanley, B. & Roy, A. (1988) Evaluating the quality of life of people with mental handicaps: a social validation study Mental Handicap Research 1 pp 197-210.
- Status Supported Employment Agency (1996) Reconstructing & Constructing Jobs case study Job accommodations
- Status Supported Employment Agency (1998) Alpha & Beta Testing case study difficulties of people with learning difficulties finding employment
- Steele, D. (1992) Haringey's successful partnership. Community Living April.
- Stein, L.I. and Test, M.A. (eds) (1978) Alternatives to mental hospital treatment New York, NY: Plenum Press.
- Stein, L.I., Diamond, R.J. and Factor, R.M. (1990) A System Approach to the Care of Persons with Schizophrenia in Herz, M.I., Keith, S.T. and Docherty, J.P. (eds) (1990) Handbook of Schizophrenia, Volume 4: Psychosocial Treatment of Schizophrenia BV Elsevier Science Publishers.
- Stevenson, O. and Parsloe, P. (1993) Community Care and Empowerment. York: Joseph Rowntree Foundation.
- Stewart-Brown, Sarah (1998) Emotional wellbeing and its relation to health British Medical Journal 12 December 1998, Vol 317 pages 1608-9.
- Stirling, Elspeth (1996) Social Role Valorisation: Making a difference to the lives of older people? Chapter 20 of Woods, R.T. (ed) Handbook of the Clinical Psychology of Ageing John Wiley and Sons. Pages 389 - 422
- Stone, E. & Priestley, M. (1996) Parasites, pawns and partners: disability research and the role of non-disabled researchers British Journal of Sociology Vol.47, No.4, pp699-716 article critical analysis of research projects in light of the principles of emancipatory research
- Stoneking, B. (1992) Consumers as an alternative labour pool Presented at the Western Regional Training Institute and Conference on Housing and Supports in Portland, OR. Sacramento, CA: Community Support Program Project. 5 pages. $1.50 from CCC.
- Strong, Gwynneth & Shield, Ann (2001) When life's not fair: SCOVO's guide to lobbying and campaigning Cardiff: SCOVO. Tel 029 2049 2443. £7.50. How lobbying and campaigning can be used by people with learning disabilities.
- Stroud, Marion & Sutton, Evelyn (1988) Expanding options for older adults with developmental disabilities: a practical guide to achieving community access Baltimore : Paul H. Brookes Pub. Co.
- Strully, J. and Bartholomew-Lorimer, K. (1988) "Social Integration and Friendships" pp 65-76 in Pueschel, S.M. (ed) The young person with Down syndrome: Transition from adolescence to adulthood Baltimore, MD: Paul H Brookes.
- Strully, J.L. & Strully, C.F. (1989) Friendship as an Educational Goal Book Friendship and integration
- Stumpf SH. Pathways to success: training for independent living. Monogr Am Assoc Ment Retard. 1990;(15):1-111.
- Sullivan et al (1993) Choose-Get-Keep: A psychiatric rehabilitation approach to supported education Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal 17, 1, 55-68
- Supported Employment Implementation: Shifting from Program Monitoring to Quality Improvement Journal of Disability Policy Studies Vol.1, No.2, pp2-18 article Guidelines for developing state quality assurance systems in S.E.
- Sussman, Sam (1997) "The community's response to mentally ill people can be improved" British Medical Journal Vol 314 15/2/97.
- Sutcliffe, Jeannie & Jacobsen, Yola (1998) All things being equal? A practical guide to widening participation for adults with learning difficulties in continuing education Leicester: NIACE. Previous research shows that people with profound learning disabilities and black people miss out on learning. Case studies, checklists and resources to address this.
- Sutcliffe, J. & Simons, K. (1993 or 1995) Self Advocacy and Adults with Learning Difficulties Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 1 87294 127 3. 128 pages, £7.95. People with learning difficulties say what self advocacy means to them.
- Sutcliffe, J. (1992) Integration for Adults with learning difficulties Leicester: NIACE. ISBN 1 87294 118 4, 112 pages, £7.95.
- Sutcliffe, J. (1993) Adults with Learning Difficulties: Education for Choice and Empowerment N.I.A.C.E book
- Sutton, Evelyn et al (i.e. Factor, Hawkins, Heller, and Seltzer) (1993) Older adults with developmental disabilities. Baltimore: Brookes Pub. Co. The researchers, consultants, administrators, and consumers whose work makes up the content of this book provide a unique contribution to the body of knowledge about adults with developmental disabilities who are living into the third age. Their research sheds new light, raises critical issues, and offers guidance to planners and policymakers as well as service providers in effecting the most appropriate services. They present new and reliable information about a range of age-related physical changes, social status, leisure and living arrangement options, alternatives to work, and the dynamics of important later-life transitions. // The empowerment of people with developmental disabilities is also highlighted in the research and experience reported in this volume. Foreword by Matthew P. Janicki. Sect. I Health and Medical Issues / Barbara A. Hawkins 1 Ch. 1 Maintaining Optimal Functioning / Susan J. Eklund, William L. Martz p3. Ch. 2 Health Issues / Deborah J. Anderson p29 Ch. 3 Health Care Issues / Marilyn Adlin 49 Ch. 4 Psychotropic Medication Use among Older Adults with Mental Retardation / Deborah J. Anderson, Barbara Polister 61 Sect. II Lifestyles and Transitions / Alan R. Factor 77 Ch. 5 Social Inclusion of Older Adults with Mental Retardation / Deborah J. Anderson 79 Ch. 6 Realities of Retirement and Pre-Retirement Planning / Evelyn Sutton, Harvey L. Sterns, Lisa S. Schwartz Park 95 Ch. 7 Support Systems, Well-Being, and Placement Decision-Making Among Older Parents and Their Adult Children with Developmental Disabilities / Tamar Heller, Alan R. Factor 107 Ch. 8 Social Supports and Expectations of Family Involvement after Out-of-Home Placement / Gary B. Seltzer, Audrey Begun, Randy Magan, Charlene M. Luchterhand 123 Ch. 9 Leisure Participation and Life Satisfaction of Older Adults with Mental Retardation and Down Syndrome / Barbara A. Hawkins 141 Ch. 10 Psychological Adjustment in Midlife for Persons with Mental Retardation / Gary B. Seltzer 157 Sect. III Community Living Options / Tamar Heller 185 Ch. 11 A National Survey of Community Living Options / Melton C. Martinson, James A. Stone 187 Ch. 12 Federal Legislation and Long-Term Funding Streams that Support Community Living Options / Melton C. Martinson, James A. Stone 199 Ch. 13 Small-Scale Community Living Options Serving Three or Fewer Older Adults with Developmental Disabilities / Melton C. Martinson, James A. Stone 223 Sect. IV Service Trends / Gary B. Seltzer 237 Ch. 14 Cross Training within the Aging and Developmental Disabilities Services Systems / Phyllis Kultgen, Robert Rominger 239 Ch. 15 Translating Policy into Practice / Alan R. Factor 257 Ch. 16 Strategies that Close the Gap Between Research, Planning, and Self-Advocacy / Esther Lee Pederson, Marci Chaikin, Dianne Koehler, Arthur Campbell, Maureen Arcand 277 Ch. 17 A Multicultural Context / Mariellen Laucht Kuehn, Pamela Imm-Thomas 327 Appendix The Research and Training Consortium Process / Esther Lee Pederson 345 Index 371.

Swain, J.; Finkelstein, V.; French, S. & Oliver, M. (eds) (1993) Disabling Barriers – Enabling Environments London: Sage.

Swinton, John (2001) Spirituality and mental health care Jessica Kingsley Publishers. ISBN 1 85302 8045.

Swinton, John (2002) A Space to Listen: Meeting the spiritual needs of people with learning disabilities London: Mental Health Foundation. London: Mental Health Foundation. £15. ISBN 0 901944 90 4. Spirituality as that which gives meaning to life. About enabling people to attend a place of worship and also about care staff becoming open to supporting people to explore spiritual issues. £15 or download a summary from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Swinton, J. (2002) A space to listen Learning Disability Practice Vol 5(2), p6-7, March 2002.

Swinton, John with Powrie, Elaine (2004) Why Are We Here?: Meeting the spiritual needs of people with learning disabilities

Swinton, John, edited by Hazel Morgan (2004) No box to tick: A booklet for carers on meeting the spiritual and religious needs of people with learning disabilities London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. Download from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Swinton, John, Powrie, Elaine, and Morgan, Hazel (2004) What is important to you? A booklet for people with learning disabilities London: Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities. £2 or download from www.learningdisabilities.org.uk

Szivos, S.E. and Griffiths, E. (1990) Consciousness raising and social identity theory: a challenge to normalisation. Clinical Psychology Forum August 1990.

Szivos, S.E. and Griffiths, E. Group processes involved in coming to terms with a mentally retarded identity Mental Retardation 29(6) 333-341. A growing body of research has documented the existence of the problem of stigma among people with mental retardation. Normalisation-based services often seem to collude with the current consensus, which indicates that the best way to cope with stigma is by 'passing' as normal. In the present paper we deal with an alternative method for dealing with stigma, namely, group therapy based on the two paradigms of loss and consciousness raising. In talking about their experience with retardation and stigma, seven group members passed through six stages: denial, statement, recognition, exploration, meaning and acceptance.

Szivos, S.E. and Travers, E. (1988) Consciousness raising among mentally handicapped people: a critique of the implications of normalisation. Human Relations 41(9) 641-53. Consciousness raising involves not only making bearers of a stigmatised identity aware of the inequitable distribution of social rewards, but also an exploration of the meaning of that identity on a personal level. We present reasons why consciousness raising is of benefit to handicapped clients, based around 5 theoretical positions: (a) self acceptance and self esteem; (b) cognitive dissonance; (c) realistic attributions and goal-setting, (d) coming through the 'loss spiral' and (e) social identity theory and inter-group comparisons. We also discuss possible drawbacks to consciousness raising.

Tanzman, B. (1993) "Researching the Preferences for Housing and Supports: An Overview of Consumer Preference Surveys" Hospital and Community Psychiatry 44(5) 450-455. $3.00 from CCC.

Tanzman, B.H. and Wilson, S.F. (1989) Vermont State Hospital Cohort Study Instrument. 15 pages. $12 from CCC. Features questions about services, housing, reasons for hospital admission, and social support network. Administered successfully by consumer interviewers, it is designed to be used in face to face interviews.

Tashie, Carol., Shapiro-Barnard, Susan., Dillon, Ann Donoghue., Schuh, Mary., Jorgenson, Cheryl., Nisbet, Jan. (1993) Changes in Latitudes, Changes in Attitudes: The Role of the Inclusion Facilitator Institute on Disability/University Affiliated Program, University of New Hampshire.

Tashie C, Shapiro-Barnard S & Rossetti Z (2006) Seeing the charade: What we need to do and undo to make friendships happen Nottingham: Inclusive Solutions

Taylor, Ben (2007) Day Services Outcomes Framework London: National Social Inclusion Programme. Available at <http://www.socialinclusion.org.uk/home/index.php?subid=50#whatsnew31> or http://www.socialinclusion.org.uk/work_areas/index.php?subid=96

Taylor, P. & Gunn, J. (1999) Homicides by people with mental illness British Journal of Psychiatry No 174.

Taylor, R.D.W. and Huxley, P.J. (1984) Social Networks and Support in Social Work. Social Work Education 3, 2, 25-29.

Taylor, S.J., Racino, J.A., Knoll, J.A. and Lutfiyya Z (1987) The nonrestrictive environment: On community integration for people with the most severe disabilities Syracuse, NY: Human Policy Press.

Taylor, Steven J., and Bogdan, Robert (1989) "On Accepting Relationships Between People with Mental Retardation and Nondisabled People: Towards an Understanding of Acceptance" in Disability, Handicap and Society 4(1) 21-26. Outlines the sociology of acceptance, a theoretical framework for understanding relationships between people with mental retardation and typical people. 16 pages. $3.05 from the Center on Human Policy.

Taylor, Steven J., Biklen D. and Knoll, J. (eds) (1987) Community Integration for people with severe disabilities New York, Teachers College Press.

Taylor, Steven J., Bogdan, Robert and Racino, Julie Ann (eds) (1991) Life in the Community: Case Studies of Organisations Supporting People with Disabilities ISBN 1-55766-072-7. This book highlights successful community organisations that are positive examples of community integration for people with developmental disabilities. Order from Paul H. Brookes.

Taylor, Steven J., Bogdan, Robert., and Lutfiyya, Zana Marie (eds) (1995) The Variety of Community Experience: Qualitative Studies of Family and Community Life. ISBN 1-55766-191-X. Filled with practical case studies, this book ethnographically highlights examples of community life for individuals with developmental disabilities. Order from Paul H. Brookes.

Telles, L. and Carling, P.J. (1986) "Psycho-social alternatives to institution based psychiatric care: Implications for academic training: A report of a conference at ESALEN Institute." Psycho-social Rehabilitation Journal 10 (1), 60 - 65. $2 from CCC. The group developed a series of 14 strategies to improve relationships between higher education and local Mental Health Programmes, increase staff skills, and increase the relevance of research.

Tessler, R., Bernstein, A., Rosen, B and Golman, H. (1982) The Chronically mentally ill in community support systems Hospital and Community Psychiatry 33 (3) 208-211.

Tharyan P & Adams CE (2005) Electroconvulsive therapy for schizophrenia. The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 2005, Issue 2. Art No CD000076. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD000076.pub2. "This review pools data from 26 studies that included 798 participants in receipt of this treatment. The evidence in this review suggests that ECT, combined with treatment with antipsychotic drugs, may be considered an option for people with schizophrenia, particularly when rapid global improvement and reduction of symptoms is desired. This is also the case for those with schizophrenia who show limited response to medication alone. Even though this initial beneficial effect may not last beyond the short term, there is no clear evidence to refute its use for people with schizophrenia.

The Cabinet Office 1993 Unlocking Potential A partnership guide to working with people with disabilities

The Community Care Movement in Mental Health Services International Social Work Vol.43, No.1, pp33-48 article Critical review of community care movement in the UK and US community care, mental health

The Disability Employment Guidelines KickStart 1998 booklet Guidelines on good practice for employers in recruiting/employing people with disabilities good practice , employers

The University of New Jersey (1994) New Jersey Integrated Employment Initiative Iniv. Of New Jersey guide guidelines in developing integrated employment opportunities

Thoma, C (1999) Supporting People's Voices in Career Planning article self determination in supported employment

Thomas C (2007) Sociologies of disability and illness: Contested ideas in Disability Studies and Medical Sociology Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan.

Thomas, G. (1997) Inclusive schools for an inclusive society British Journal of Special Education 24 (3).

Thomas, J & Mackie, N (1990) Supported Training in Employment (STIE) article An outline of an approach to employment for people with learning & training difficulties Thornburgh, Ginny and Davie, Ann Rose (?) From barriers to bridges: A community action guide for congregations Available for AAMR.

Thornicroft, G. and Breakey, W.R. (1991) "The COSTAR Programme 1: improving social networks of long-term mentally ill" British Journal of Psychiatry 159, pp245-9.

Thornicroft G (2006) Actions speak louder London: Mental Health Foundation.

Thornicroft, G (2006) Shunned: Discrimination against people with mental illness Oxford: OUP

Thurgood, J. (1999) The Employment Implications of the Disability Discrimination Act (1995) and a suggested format for developing reasonable adjustments British Journal of Occupational Therapy, Vol.62, No.7, pp290-294 article

Tizard Centre A report on out of area placements Too far to go available from http://www.kent.ac.uk/tizard/research/research_projects/index.htm

Tolsdorf, C. (1976) Social networks, support and coping: an exploratory study. Family Process 15, 407 - 417.

Tomlinson, J (1996) Inclusive Learning briefing report of a speech by Pr.Tomlinson on the FEFC's report

Tomlinson, J. (1996) The Findings and recommendations of the FEFC Learning Difficulties and/or Disabilities Committee's Report: Inclusive Learning Skill, Tough, Sue & Hingsburger, Dave (?) The long journey home: transition planning for deinstitutionalisation of people with developmental disabilities £8.20 from Inclusion Distribution.

Towell, David (1998 or 1999?) Social inclusion and community care Managing Community Care Special issue. Pavilion Publishing (Brighton) Ltd.

Towell, David (ed) (1988) An ordinary life in practice: developing comprehensive community-based services for people with learning disabilities London: King Edward's Hospital Fund for Children.

Towell, David and Beardshaw, V. (1991) Enabling Community Integration London: King's Fund.

Tracy, E.M. & Abell, N. (1994) Social network map: Some further refinements on administration Social Work Research 18, pp 56-60.

Tracy, E.M. & Whittaker, J.K. (1990) The Social Network Map: Assessing social support in clinical practice Families in Society 71 pp 461-470.

Training & Employment Network (1999) The Learning & Skills ("post 16") Review:Response from TEN review Response to Govt's review on post 16 funding

Training the Trainers CETU 1988 learning pack Guidelines to help build people's confidence in training others training

Traustadottir, R (1990) Employment, Equality & Gender article Paper addressing the specific employment barriers for women with disabilities

Traustadottir, R (1999) The Importance of Social Relations in the Workplace article SE compared to segregated work in Iceland

Traustadottir, R. (1991) The meaning of care in the lives of mothers of children with disabilities. In Taylor, Bogdan and Racino ibid pages 185 - 194.

Traustadottir, R., Lutfiyya, Z.M. and Shultz. B. (1993) Community living: A multicultural perspective. In Hayden and Aberly ibid pages 405-426.

Traustadottir, Rannveig (1991) Supported Employment: Issues and Resources includes and overview article; three articles which offer different perspectives on employment: a consumer perspective; and an annotated bibliography. 65 pages. $3.95 from the Center on Human Policy.

Traustadottir, Rannveig (1991) Supports for Community Living: A Case Study A qualitative study which examines in detail the supports provided to one individual with severe disabilities and the role this support plays in enabling him to become a part of community life. 44 pages. $3.45 from the Center on Human Policy.

Trembley, Lo-Ann and David (?) Emmaus Eyes: Worship with the mentally challenged Available from AAMR.

TRN (2003) Jobs for people with mental illness, Accommodating Employees and Job Applicants with Psychiatric Disabilities This video is an excellent introduction for staff, people with disabilities, and employers on how to accommodate workers with disabilities. Using scenarios from everyday workplaces, it explains common psychiatric disabilities and what kinds of accommodations are required and gives examples of those that are not. $69.95 US from TRN. <http://www.trninc.com/accommodatepsy.htm>

TTTT

TUC (1999) Government Review of Industrial Injury Benefits briefing report on the review of DSS Industrial Injury Scheme Industrial injury

Turner, E. et al (1999) Personal Assistance Services: A Vital Workplace Support ? article report on experiences and issues around use of personal supports in workplace

Turner, S. (1996) Promoting Healthy Lifestyles for People with Learning Disabilities: A Survey of Provider Organisations Brit. Journal of Learning Disabilities, Vol.24, pp138-144 article

Tutt, N. (1985) The unintended consequences of integration Educational and Child Psychology 2(3) 30-38. Discusses the way in which the concept of integration is increasingly being usurped in practice by the focus on identification of special educational needs. The widespread identification process leads to increased pressure for rejection rather than integration of children with special needs.

Tymchuk, A.J. (ed) (2001) The Forgotten Generation: The Status and Challenges of Adults with Mild Cognitive Limitations. 416 pages. Examines the challenges faced by adults with mild cognitive limitations and provides recommendations to prevent these individuals from falling through the cracks in the community. Retail price $32.95

Tynan, A. (1997) Adventures in Disability Tynan book

Tyrer, P, Coid J, Simmonds, S, Joseph P & Marriott, S (1998) Community Mental Health Teams (CMHTs) for people with severe mental illnesses and disordered personality The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews 1998 Issue 4, Art No: CD000270. DOI: 10.1002/14651858.CD000270. "CMHT management is not inferior to non-team standard care in any important respects and is superior in promoting greater acceptance of treatment. It may also be superior in reducing hospital admission and avoiding death by suicide."

Unger, D.G. and Powell, D.R. (1980) "Supporting families under stress: The role of social networks" Family Relations 29, 566-74.

Unger, K. (1991) Providing services to students with psychological disabilities: Clarifying campus roles. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Unger, K. V. (1990) Serving students with psychiatric disabilities. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

Unger, K. V. (1991) Serving students with psychological disabilities on campus - Clarifying the DSS Counselor's Role. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Unger, K. V. (1993) Creating supported education programs utilizing existing community resources. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR. Unger has published at least 10 times on supported education.

Unger, K.V. (1990) Protecting the right to higher education for persons with psychiatric disabilities. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

Unger, K.V. (1990) Supported education - an idea whose time has come. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

Unger, K.V. (1990) Supported post secondary education for people with mental illness. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

Unger, K.V. (1991) Supported education for people with psychiatric disabilities: Issues and Implications. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR.

Unger, K.V., Anthony, W.A., Sciarappa, K. and Rogers, E.S. (1991) A supported education programme for young adults with long-term mental illness. Hospital and Community Psychiatry 42, 8, 838 - 842.

Unger, K.V., Danley, K.S. Kohn, L. and Hutchinson, D. (1987) Rehabilitation through education: A university-based continuing education program for young adults with psychiatric disabilities on a University campus. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

University of York SPRU (for ED) (1998) Raising Employment Levels of People with Disabilities report Working paper for EU wide policy on employment of people with disabilities

Unum Limited, Institute for employment studies (2001) Towards a better understanding of sickness absence costs Dorking: Unum.

UUUU

Valuing People Support Team (2006) 'I can get a job' This is an accessible guide to help people start thinking about paid work. It can be downloaded or ordered from <http://www.valuingpeople.gov.uk/EmploymentGuides.htm>

Valuing People Support Team (2006) I want to work This is an accessible guide about how people can think about combining benefits with work or coming off benefits. It can be downloaded or ordered from <http://www.valuingpeople.gov.uk/EmploymentGuides.htm>

Valuing People Support Team (2006) Valued in Public is a guide for public bodies about how to employ people with a learning disability. There is also an accessible summary. It can be downloaded or ordered from <http://www.valuingpeople.gov.uk/EmploymentGuides.htm>

van Doorn, A (1999) Reforming Disability Benefits article critique of Govt. Green Pape on benefit reform

van Rijn, H (1996) Changeover Evaluation Report: Holland report report on changeover from day services to SE

Vandercook, T., Wolff, S. and York, J. (1989) Learning Together ... Stories and Strategies Minneapolis, MN: Institute on Community Integration, University of Minnesota

Vandercook, T.; York,J.; & Forest, M. (1989) The McGill action planning system (MAPS): A strategy for building the vision Journal of the Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps 14, 205-215.

Villa, R. & Thousand, J. (1995) Creating an inclusive school Paul H Brookes publishing.

Villa, R. & Thousand, J. (1999) Restructuring for Caring and Effective Education: Piecing the Puzzle Together. An exploration of the foundations and evolution of inclusive education reflecting the sweeping, extensive changes in special and general education.

Visser, J. (1999) Placing Value on Inclusion Times Educational Supplement, Oct.29th 1998, p3 article Volunteer Centre of Toronto (2001) Ready and Able: Including volunteers with disabilities Volunteer Centre of Toronto, 344 Bloor Street West, Suite 217, Toronto ON M5S 3A7, Canada.

Volunteering England (2008) Volunteering & Health – What impact does it really have?' A systematic review available from <http://www.volunteering.org.uk/hsc>

VPST Valuing People and Post 16 education. See <http://www.valuingpeople.gov.uk/EducationPapers.htm>

VVVV

Wade, B. & Moore, M. (1993) Experiencing Special Education O.U.P. book

Walker, A. & Walker, C. (1998) Age or disability? Age-based disparities in service provision for older people with intellectual disabilities in Great Britain Journal of Intellectual and Developmental Disability Vol 23, No 1.

Walker, A.; Walker, C.; Ryan, T. (1996) Older people with learning difficulties leaving institutional care: a case of double jeopardy Ageing and Society Vol 16 No 2 125-150. Official definitions of need in old age have been seen in narrow terms, in comparison to the principled approach to service provision for younger people with learning disabilities. Normalisation should be applied to services for older people.

Walker, Alan; Walker, Carol (1998) Normalisation and 'normal' ageing: the social construction of dependency among older people with learning difficulties Disability and Society Vol 13 No 1 pp 125-142. February 1998. What is the meaning of normalisation in older age? The concept of normalisation is flawed when applied to older people. The alternative is social integration for both older people and people with learning disabilities.

Walker, P. (1994) "Promoting integrated recreation and leisure opportunities for adults" in Moon 1994.

Walker, P. and Salon R (1987) Supporting people in the community: a case study of the residential support program - Centennial Development Services, Weld County, Colorado. Syracuse, NY: Centre on Human Policy, Syracuse University.

Walker, Pam (1990) Resources on Integrated Recreation/Leisure Opportunities for Children and Teens with Developmental Disabilities includes an overview article, four reprints, a sample recreation policy statement on mainstreaming, an annotated bibliography, and a list of selected organisations promoting innovative policy and practice in recreation integration. 45 pages. $3.25 from the Center on Human Policy.

Walker, Perry; Lewis, Julie; Lingayah, Sanjiv; and Somner, Florian (2000) Prove it!: Measuring the effect of neighbourhood renewal on local people London: New Economics Foundation. ISBN 1 899407 28 6.

Wallace, C. J. (1984) "Community and interpersonal functioning in the course of schizophrenic disorders" Schizophrenia Bulletin 10,2, pp.233-57.

Walsh PN, Lynch C, deLacey E. Supported employment for Irish adults with intellectual disability: the OPEN ROAD experience. Int J Rehabil Res. 1994 Mar;17(1):15-24.

Walsh, D., Sharac, J., Danley, K.S. and Unger, K. (1991) The Campus Support Project: An innovative supported education program model. Published article. Publisher unknown. Available from CPR

Nancy Wansborough and Philip Cooper (1980) Open Employment After Mental Illness, Tavistock Publications

Ward, Gary (1997) Making headlines: mental health and the national press Health Education Authority. This report highlights the role of the national press and asks journalists and editors to work with users and health professionals to uncover the wealth of positive stories about mental health that are not currently making the headlines.

Warnock, Baroness (2005) Impact: Special Educational Needs - a New Look The paper raises some serious questions and challenges about SEN (and education generally) and goes much further than the polarised 'special versus mainstream' media debate. This is No 11 in a series of policy discussions published by the Philosophy of Education Society of Great Britain. Contact Liz Clements, King's College, London (Department of Educational and Professional Studies), Waterloo Bridge Annex, Waterloo Bridge Road, London SE1 9NH.

Warr, P. (1987) Work, Unemployment and Mental Health Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Watson, Owen, Aubrey, & Ellis (1998) Integrating Disabled Employees: Case Studies report Case studies of use of ATW and reasonable adjustment by employers

Weetman, Robert has articles on inclusion and social justice at www.isja.co.uk also see <http://capacitythinking.blogspot.com/>

Wehman, P. (ed?) (1996) Life Beyond the Classroom: Transition Strategies for Young People with Disabilities A fresh look at transition, outlining creative and practical techniques to ensure careful transition planning and foster support from business and community.

Wehman, P. and Kregel, J. (eds) (1989) Supported Employment for Persons with Disabilities: Focus on Excellence Baltimore: Paul H Brookes.

Wehman, P., Revell, W.G., & Kregel, J. (1997) Supported employment: A decade of rapid growth. In Wehman, P., Kregel, J. & West, M. (eds) Promises fulfilled: Assessing the effectiveness of national efforts to improve supported employment outcomes Richmond, Virginia Commonwealth University, Rehabilitation, Research and Training Center on Supported Employment.

Wehman, Paul (ed) (2001?) Supported Employment in Business: Expanding the Capacity of Workers with Disabilities This definitive reference book covers all the cutting edge issues of supported employment in 322 pages. 31 nationally known contributors address topics ranging from funding to job development to intervention techniques. Contents (1) SE: New Directions for the New Millennium (2) Greater Success through New Partnerships: The Business Connection (3) Situational Assessment: Toward Career Planning (4) Creating Business Alliances for Supported Employment (5) A Business Approach to Finding and Restructuring Supported Employment (6) Facilitating Job Site Training and Supports: The Evolving Role of the Job Coach (7) Supported Employment and Natural Supports (8) Corporate Supports and Mentoring in the Workplace (9) SE for People with Psychiatric Disabilities (10) SE for Individuals with Physical Disabilities (11) Traumatic Brain Injury and Return to Work (12) Organizational Change from Sheltered to Integrated Employment (13) Systemic Change for Supported Employment: Old Lessons and New Possibilities (14) Social Security Work Incentives: Issues in Implementation (15) Supporting the Transition from School to Work and Adult Life (16) Self-Employment as the Logical Descendant of Supported Employment (17) Funding Supported Employment (18) The Economics of Running Supported Employment Programs (19) Federal Employment Programs for Persons with Disabilities. Available from TRN, PO Box 439, St. Augustine, FL 32084 USA.

Weinman, B. and Kleiner, R.J. (1987) The impact of community living and community member intervention on the adjustment of the chronic psychotic patient in Stein and Test 1978.

Wells R, Jinnet K, Alexander J, Lichtenstein, R, Liu D & Zazzali JL (2006) Team leadership and patient outcomes in US psychiatric treatment settings Social Science & Medicine 62 (2006) 1840-1852.

Welsh Office (1999) Social services: building for the future: A White Paper for Wales London: HMSO. Emphasises the role of social services in fostering social inclusion and providing support towards independence.

Wenger, G.C. (1993) Support Network Variation and Informal Participation in Community Care. Bangor: Centre for Social Policy Research and Development, University of Wales.

- Wenger, G.C. (1994) Understanding Support Networks and Community Care Aldershot: Avebury.
- Wenger, G.C. and Scott, A. (1994) Change and stability in support network type: findings from the Bangor longitudinal study. Paper prepared for the XIII World Congress of Sociology. Bangor: Centre for Social Policy Research and Development, University of Wales.
- Wertheimer, Alison (1996) Changing Days King's Fund/National Development Team. This is the book produced for the project of the same name. The project is managed by Barbara McIntosh at the Kings Fund and is running jointly with the National Development Team. The book describes a number of initiatives where day centres are replaced by community integration alternatives.
- Wertheimer, Alison (1986) Images of Possibility Key issues from US services, including how do we involve ordinary citizens in learning disability services?. £2.95 from VIA.
- Wertheimer, Alison (1995) Circles of Support - Building inclusive communities Bristol: Circles Network.
- Wertheimer, Alison (1997) Images of Possibility: Creating learning opportunities for adults with mental health difficulties Leicester: National Institute for Adult Continuing Education.
- Wertheimer, Alison (1997) Inclusive education: A framework for change. National and international perspectives. Centre for Studies on Inclusive Education.
- Wertheimer, Alison Changing Lives: Supported Employment and People with Learning Disabilities £7.00 from NDT.
- Wertheimer, Alison Real Jobs Initiative (1990-1992) An evaluation. £4.00 from NDT.
- West, M., Kregel, J., Hernandez, A., & Hock, T. (1997). Everybody's doing it: A national survey of the use of natural supports in supported employment. Focus on Autism and Other Developmental Disabilities, 12, 175-181. A survey of 385 supported employment provider agencies on their use of natural supports. Findings - natural supports are good but hard!
- Westwood Jayne. (2003) The Impact of Adult Education for Mental Health Service Users The British Journal of Occupational Therapy, Volume 66, Number 11, 1 November 2003, pp. 505-510(6) Occupational therapists working in mental health are increasingly using adult education as a resource. This paper explores the experience of attending an adult education course from the perspective of the mental health service user. Twelve service users were recruited from the Education Link Team. A qualitative design using a semi-structured interview was chosen to explore the benefits, barriers, drawbacks, enabling factors and impact on mental health for individuals who attend college. The results indicated that attending college improved confidence, self-esteem, socialisation and motivation. The service users gained knowledge and skills, had an increased purpose to the day and experienced improvements in depression, anxiety and psychosis. The fact that the course was discrete and the support of the health staff enabled the service users to attend college. The biggest barrier was difficulty in getting to the college. The drawbacks included difficult relations with others, work issues and anxiety. Areas for future study are given.
- Wetherow, David (ed) (1992) The Whole Community Catalogue. Published by Gunnars & Campbell Publishers Inc. Available from Inclusion Distribution £9.00.
- Whitaker, P., Barratt, P., Joy, H., Potter M. and Thomas G. (1998) Children with autism and peer group support: Using circles of friends British Journal of Special Education Vol 25, No 2 pp 60-65.
- White, Gillian (2006) Talking about spirituality in healthcare practice London: Jessica Kingsley
- Wilcox, B. and Bellamy, G.T. (eds) (1987) A Comprehensive Guide to the Activities Catalog Baltimore: Paul H Brookes.
- Wilkie, Moya (2001) Into volunteering: positive experiences of disabled people London: Skill, National bureau for students with disabilities. £6.50 from Skill tel 0207 450 0620.
- Wilkinson, R.G. (1996) Unhealthy societies: the afflictions of inequality London: Routledge.
- Willer, B. and Corrigan, J.D. (1994) Whatever it takes: a model for community based services. Brain Injury 8 (7) 647-659. Proposes a model for community based programmes for individuals with acquired brain injury that extends the rehabilitation model. The Whatever It Takes model emphasises a practical approach to achieving community integration. The principles of the Whatever It Takes model relate to the unique features of acquired brain injury in each individual, the importance of environment in teaching skills, the need for a holistic approach to community integration, and the primary importance of respect for the individual.
- Williams, R. (1990) "Shifting the emphasis: volunteering by people with a learning difficulty" in McConkey and McGinley
- Willingen, Marieke van (2000) differential benefits of volunteering across the lifecourse Journal of Gerontology, Social Sciences 556 (5) 5303-5318.
- Willingham, D (1999) Employment Link Team: Reprovision feedback report SE strategy issues in Hartlepool SE, development
- Willmott, P. (1986) Social Networks, Informal Care and Public Policy London: Policy Studies Institute.
- Willmott, P. (1987) Friendship Networks and Social Support PSIU Research Report No 666. London: Policy Studies Institute.
- Wison C and Goldie I (2006) Arts, Creativity and Mental Health Glasgow: Mental Health Foundation.
- Wilson, S.F. (1992) "Community Support and Integration: New directions for client outcome research." In Rose S. (1992). 18 pages. $5 from CCC.
- Wilson, Derek & Newton, Colin (2006) Circles of Adults Nottingham: Inclusive Solutions.
- Wingham, Gaynor (2002) Inter-disciplinary supervision Care and Health Issue 25, Nov 27-Dec 10 2002, pp 30-31.
- Wolfensberger, W. & Thomas, S. (1983). PASSING: Programme Analysis of Service Systems Implementation of Normalisation Goals. Toronto. National Institute of Mental Retardation.
- Wolfensberger, W. (1972) The Principle of Normalisation in Human Services Toronto: National Institute of Mental Retardation. Has a chapter called 'Societal integration as a corollary of normalisation.'
- Wolfensberger, W. (1980) The definition of normalisation: update, problems, disagreements and misunderstandings In Flynn, R.J. and Nitch, K.E. (eds) (1980) Normalisation, Social Integration and Community Services Baltimore: University Park Press. Pp 179-195.
- Wolfensberger, W. (1988a) Common assets of mentally retarded people that are commonly not acknowledged Mental Retardation 26(2) 63-70. Contends that the professional and agency domain has tended to view mentally retarded persons from a deficit orientation, yet among such people as a group, one encounters virtues, gifts and prosocial dispositions called 'assets'. 15 such common assets (e.g. natural spontaneity, trusting nature, unfettered enjoyment of life) are delineated. Reasons why human service workers have difficulties recognising these assets are discussed.

Wolfensberger, W. (1988b) Reply to All people have personal assets Mental Retardation Replies to Berkson's comments on Wolfensberger 1988a by arguing that people with learning disabilities are likely to be better off if their needs are met outside the human service system by people acting voluntarily.

Wolfensberger, W. and Glenn L. (1975) Programme Analysis of Service Systems. Downsview, Ontario, USA: National Institute on Mental Retardation.

Wolfensberger, W. (1992) A guideline on protecting and health and lives of patients in hospitals, especially if the patient is a member of a societally devalued class Syracuse, New York: Training institute for human service planning, leadership and change agency (Syracuse University).

Wolff, G., Pathare, S., Craig, T., and Leff, J. (1996) Community attitudes to mental illness. British Journal of Psychiatry 168, 183-190.

Wolff, G., Pathare, S., Craig, T., and Leff, J. (1996) Community knowledge of mental illness and reaction to mentally ill people. British Journal of Psychiatry 168, 191-198

Wolff, G., Pathare, S., Craig, T., and Leff, J. (1996) Public education for community care. A new approach. British Journal of Psychiatry 168, 441-447.

Wolff, G., Pathare, S., Craig, T., and Leff, J. (1996) Who's in the lion's den? The community's perception of community care for the mentally ill Psychiatric Bulletin 20, 68-71.

Wood, Lisa; Giles-Corti, Giles & Bulsara, Max (2005) The pet connection: Pets as a conduit for social capital? Social Science & Medicine Volume 61, Issue 6, September 2005, Pages 1159-1173. Pet ownership was found to be positively associated with some forms of social contact and interaction, and with perceptions of neighbourhood friendliness. After adjustment for demographic variables, pet owners scored higher on social capital and civic engagement scales. The results suggest that pet ownership provides potential opportunities for interactions between neighbours and that further research in this area is warranted. Social capital is another potential mechanism by which pets exert an influence on human health.

Woodside, H. & Luis, F. (1997) Supported Volunteering Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal 21, 70-74.

Woodward, M & Wood, H (1998) Whose Problem is it ? booklet Disability Awareness guidelines

Woodward, M & Wood, H 1998 Whose Problem is it ? booklet Disability Awareness guidelines disability awareness

Woolcock, M (1998) Social capital and economic development: towards a theoretical synthesis and policy framework Theory and Society 27(2) pp151-208. Extensive review of the history of the concept of social capital.

Working with Unemployed People ED:Careers & Occupational Info. Centre(COIC) 1987 handbook learning & teaching activities for unemployed people finding employment, CV, presentation

Workwise Quarterly Report Gritton, P - SE Hampshire 1998 report review of SE service performance SE, development

Worsley, J. (1990) Learning to Win (COIC) learning pack Teaching negotiating skills negotiating skills

Wright, Sarah (2001) Is anybody there? London: Mental Health Foundation. This report on friendship and mental health, based on a survey of 543 people, looks at the experiences of people with mental health problems and those who support friends with mental health problems. It illustrates the importance of personal relationships, in particular friendships, and contains recommendations for government and policy makers, media and educational campaigns, mental and other health professionals. £10. 56 pages. ISBN 1 903646 09 3.

WWWW

Yates, E for RLSB & RNIB (1998) Supported Employment: Towards a National View report SEP: review of issues and recommendations for improvement

Yates, J. (1980) Program design sessions Available from Jack Yates, 68 North Main Street, Carver MA 02320.

Yip, Kam-Shing (2000) The Community Care Movement in Mental Health Services International Social Work Vol.43, No. 1, pp33-48 article Critical review of community care movement in the UK and US

Young Foundation report (2008) on Neighbourliness: which links empowerment and happiness

YYYY

Zadek, S. & Scott-Parker, S (2000) Enabling Business: Working with Disability Employer's Forum on Disability report (draft) The case for including people with disabilities in the workforce

Zarb, G. (1992) On the Road to Damascus: first steps towards changing the relations of disability research production Disability, Handicap & Society Vol.7, No.2, pp125-138 article Discusses the differences between the participatory and emancipatory research strategies

Zetlin, A.G., & Murtaugh, M. (1988) Friendship patterns of mildly learning handicapped and nonhandicapped high school students. American Journal on Mental Retardation, 92, 447-454.

Ziegler, H. (1989) Changing Lives, Changing Communities Melbourne, Australia: Wesley Central Mission.

Zigler, E. and Muenchow, S. (1980) Mainstreaming: the proof is in the implementation Annual Progress in Child Psychiatry and Child Development 574-9. Warns that mainstreaming, or the practice of educating handicapped people in the 'least restrictive environment' must be carefully monitored, as it can amount to the trading of inferior care for no care at all.

Zipple, A.M., Carling, P.J. and McDonald, J. (1987) "A rehabilitation response to the call for Asylum" Schizophrenia Bulletin 13(4) 539-546. $2.00 from CCC. Summarises research which concludes that community alternatives are superior to institutional care and asserts that a stronger commitment to community integration is effective for people with intensive needs.

Zoppa, E. (1982) Normalisation, social integration and community services Education and Training in Mental Retardation ?? 153-156.

ZZZZ

Journals

Journal of Religion, Disability and Health. Edited by Rev Bill Gaventa. Four issues per year. Individual subscription £36. Published by the Haworth Press Inc, 10 Alice St, Binghamton, NY 13904-1580, USA. Email getinfo@haworthpressinc.com

Journal of Mental Health, Religion and Culture. Editors Simon Dein (University College, London Medical School), Kate Miriam Lowenthal (Royal Holloway University, London), Dr Christopher Alan Lewis (University of Ulster, Magee College, Northern Ireland).

Inclusion International Secretary General: Mr John O'Gorman, Secretary General, Inclusion International, c/o International Disability Centre, 13D chemin du Levant, F-01210 Ferney-Voltaire, France.

The International Journal of Mental Health Promotion is published by Pavilion.

Voluntary Action is the journal of the Institute for Volunteering Research. £30 from the Institute for Volunteering Research, Regent's Wharf, 8 all All Saints Street, London N1 9RL. Tel 020 7520 8900.

Emails, Websites and Addresses inclusion@majordomo.srv.ualberta.ca

<http://www.inclusiondaily.com/QuotesofDay.htm>

News@InclusionDaily.com

<http://www.InclusionDaily.com>

inclusionuk@egroups.com

AAMR Religion and Spirituality Division, C/o The Boggs Center-UAP, PO Box 2688, 335 George Street, Third Floor. New Brunswick, NJ 08903, USA. Contact Bill Gaventa gaventwi@umdni.edu

Abingdon Press, 201 8th Avenue, Nashville, TN 37202.

Afterhurst Publishers Ltd, 27 Church Road, Hove, East Sussex BN3 2FA. Tel 01273 207 411. Fax 01273 205 612. Email afterhurst@psypress.co.uk

Allen, Shea and Associates, 1040 Main Street, Suite 20B, Napa, CA 94559. Tel (707) 258-1326. Email ASA@NAPANAT.NET

ANCOR. American Network of Community Options and Resources, 4200 Evergreen Ln #315, Annandale, VA 22003, Tel (703) 642-6614. Produce a list of books and papers on various aspects of community living.

Arc. The Arc of the US. PO Box 1047, Arlington, Texas 76004. Tel 817/261-6003. Email thearc@metronet.com Produce a list of supported living resources.

Center on Human Policy, Syracuse University, School of Education, 805 South Crouse Avenue, Syracuse NY 13244-2280. Tel 1-800-894-0826. Fax (315) 443-4338. Email: thechp@sued.syr.edu WWW: <http://web.syr.edu/~thechp>

Centre for Analysis of Social Exclusion, London School of Economics. There's not much on mental health or learning difficulties but there are a couple of briefings/ papers / reports which might be relevant (e.g. defining social exclusion). <http://sticerd.lse.ac.uk/case/> Understanding social inclusion briefing: <http://sticerd.lse.ac.uk/dps/case/cb/CASEbrief23.pdf> The dynamics of being disabled report: <http://sticerd.lse.ac.uk/dps/case/cp/CASEpaper36.pdf>

Circles Network UK, Pamwell House, 160 Pennywell Road, Upper Easton, Bristol BS6 0TX. Tel 0117 939 3917 Fax 0117 939 3918 Email Mandy@circles.demon.co.uk Citizen Advocacy, Information and Training, Unit 2K, Leroy House, 436 Essex Road, London N1 3QP Tel 0171 359 8289 Fax 0171 704 2227.

CMH. Campaign for People with Mental Handicap, 12 Maddox Street, London W1R 9PL.

Colleen Wieck, Minnesota Developmental Disability Council, 300 Centennial Building, 658 Cedar Street, St Paul, MN 55155. Tel 612-349-2560.

Comedia Publishing Group, 9 Poland Street, London W1V 3DG.

Communitas Communicator, 730 Main Street, Manchester, Connecticut, 06045. Tel 860-645-3178. Communitas, Inc, PO Box 374, Manchester, CT 06040 Tel 203-645-6976 Assists people to network, provides educational materials, conducts seminars and stimulates creative projects concerning the full participation of people with disabilities in community life.

Canadian Association for Community Living, c/o Kinsmen Building, York University, 4700 Keele Street, Downsview, Ontario, M3J 1P3. Tel 416-661-9611.

CCC. The Center for Community Change through Housing and Support, Institute for Program Development, Trinity College of Vermont, 208 Colchester Avenue, Burlington, Vermont 05401. Tel (802) 658-0000. Fax (802) 863-6110.

CPR. The Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation, Sargent College of Allied Health Professions, Boston University, 930 Commonwealth Ave, Boston MA 02215. Fax 617/353-9209. Phone 617/353-3549. Website <http://web.bu.edu/SARPSYCH>

CSPRD. Centre for Social Policy Research and Development, School of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Wales, Bangor, Gwynedd LL57 2DG. Tel 01248 351151. Fax 01248 362029. Email CSPRD@UK.AC.BANGOR.

Education for Community Initiatives, 56 Suffolk Street, Suite 500, Holyoke, MA 01040.

Expectations Unlimited, PO Box 665, Niwot, CO 80544. Tel 303-652-2727. They have a great resource catalogue.

Further Education Development Agency, Citadel Place, Tinworth Street, London SE11 5EH. Tel 0171 962 1280.

Graphic Futures, 25 West 81st Street, 16-B, New York NY 10024.

Health education Authority, Hamilton House, Mabledon Place, London WC1H 9TX

Human Policy Press, Box 127, University station, Syracuse, New York 13210. Tel 315-443-2761.

Human Services Research Institute, 2336 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, MA 02140. Tel 617-876-0426. Fax 617-492-7401. Email HSRI@HSRI.ORG

Inclusion Distribution, 29 Heron Drive, Poynton, Stockport, SK12 1QR Tel 01625 859146. Email 10041.525@compuserve.com

Inclusion Times, 110 Saratoga Springs, NY 12866 USA. Tel 518-587-8770 Fax 518-587-8771.

Institute of Psychiatry, De Crespigny Park, London SE5 8AF Tel 0171 703 5411. Professor Julian Leff Email sjjujpl@iop.bpmf.ac.uk

Institute on Community Integration, University of Minnesota, 109 Pattee Hall, 150 Pillsbury Drive, S.E., Minneapolis, MN 55455 Tel (612) 4512. Fax (612) 624-9344.

Institute on Disability, University of New Hampshire, Morrill Hall, Durham, NH 03824. Tel 603-862-4320.

John L McKnight is Director of the Institute for Policy Research and professor of communications studies and urban affairs at Northwestern University, 2040 Sheridan Road, Evanston IL 60208-4100, USA. Tel (708) 491 7767. See article by O'Connell.

King's Fund Centre

Mentalhealthdata.org.uk

Mental Health Media, 356 Holloway Road, London N7 6PA. Tel 020 7700 8171.

Minnesota. Governor's Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities, 300 Centennial Building, 658 Cedar Street, St Paul, Minnesota 55101..

National Association of State Directors of Developmental Disabilities Services, 113 Oronoco Street, Alexandria, VA 22314. Tel (703) 683-4202.

National Development Team, Unit 10, Hill View Business Park, Old Ipswich Road, Claydon, Ipswich IP6 0AJ. Tel 01473 836 440.

National Institute of Art and Disabilities, 551 23rd Street, Richmond, CA 94804, (510) 620-0290. NIAD's website is <http://www.niadart.org>

Neighbours, Inc, 34-33 Blomingdale Drive, Somerville, NJ 08876. Tel/fax 908-359-2281. Email: CompuServe 75601,611. Executive Directors Kenn Jupp and Patti Scott.

Ohio Safeguards, PO Box 1943, Chillicothe, OH 45601.

Options in Community Living, 22 North Second Street, Madison, WI 53704. Tel 608-249-1585.

Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co., PO Box 10624, Baltimore MD 21285-0624, Tel 1-800-638-3775. Or 410 337-9580.

PCSA Contact Catherine Duchesne at Personal Communities. The web page is at <http://compusmart.ab.ca/pcsa>

PPDD. Program for Persons with Developmental Disabilities, 3611 N Saginaw, Midland, MI 48640. Tel (517) 835-2621.

Realizations, PO Box 1430, Station B, London ON N6A 5M2.

Responsive Systems Associates, John O'Brien and Connie Lyle O'Brien, 58 Willowick Drive, Lithonia, Georgia 30038.

Roeher Institute, Information Services, Kinsmen Building, York University, 4700 Keele Street, Toronto, Ontario M3J 1P3. Phone (416) 661 9611. Email: info@roehar.ca International orders for Roeher publications to c/o International Disability Foundation, 9, avenue de Joli-Mont, CH1209, Geneva, Switzerland. The Roeher Institute in Toronto have over 14,000 books on disability issues. In 1998 they published a CD-Rom collection of books and articles on disability rights. They run an information centre.

RRT. Rehabilitation Research and Training Center on Aging with Mental Retardation, The University of Illinois at Chicago, 1640 West Roosevelt Rd, Chicago IL 60608. Tel (312) 413-1520.

Souvenir Press, Human Horizon Series, 43 Great Russell Street, London WC1B 3PA. Fax 0171 580 5064.

Supported Community Living, 220 West Main Street, Midland, MI 48640. Tel (517) 631-4439.

TASH. The Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps. 29 West Susquehanna Avenue, Suite 210, Baltimore MD 21204. Tel (410) 828-8274.

Training Resource Network (President is Dale DiLeo), TRN: Publishers of resources for the community inclusion of people with disabilities. Web: <http://www.trninc.com> Phone: 904-824-7121 Fax: 904-823-3554

Values Incorporated, 59b Rollo Road, Hextable, Kent BR8 7RD. Tel 01322 614659. Fax 01322 614659. Email 101467,1346@compuserve.com

VIA. Values into Action. (Formerly Campaign for People with Mental Handicaps). Oxford House, Derbyshire Street, London E2 6HG.

Writers Press, 5278 Chinden Blvd. Boise, Idaho 83714. Telephone (208) 327-0566 FAX (208) 327-3477. E-mail at writers@cyberhighway.net Our philosophy, which is reflected in all of our books, is to show children how to help themselves and others, emphasise the importance of friendship and understanding between all people, and teach perseverance through adversity.

Videos

Building Social Networks Staff have an invaluable role to play in supporting people with learning difficulties to make new and varied contacts within their community. This video shows how staff can facilitate user's relationships with people who are outside the usual network of service provision. 50 minute video; trainer's guidance notes (20 pages); photocopyable handouts, activity charts and questionnaires, OHP acetates. £125 plus VAT from Pavilion Publishing tel 01273 623 222.

Community Integration: An interview with Paul Carling - Thirty minute interview discussing the meaning of community integration, the supportive housing approach and their implications for all Mental Health Services. Produced by White Light Communications. Colour. $100 from CCC.

Creating Flexible Supports: Thirty minute colour video. $100 from CCC. Laurie Curtis & Sinikka McCabe are interviewed by Susan Wilson Besio. Describes the array of supports which are needed in communities, presents innovative examples of these supports, and provides a wealth of practical suggestions for implementing supported housing.

Friends and Family For primary care, social work and mental health workers to use with carers, clients and relatives groups. Useful strategies and practical tools for keeping communication going, caring day by day and coping with mental health crises. VHS video and booklet, 35 minutes, Mental Health Media. 2001. £39.95 or £24.95 if your organisation has ten or less full time employees.

Going to Work Brighton: Pavilion Publishing. Accessible video illustrates opportunities for employment for people with learning disabilities.

Miller's MAP Children, parents, neighbours and professional make inclusion happen. Team facilitation and graphics in making action Plans. Produced by Expectations Unlimited and Inclusion Press. Available from Inclusion Distribution £35.

Myths about Madness For people in frontline services. Looks at the common misconceptions which lead to discrimination against people with mental health problems. People who have used mental health services talk about the impact of discrimination. Others talk about how discrimination arises. Also covers initiatives that challenge stigma and discrimination. VHS video and training notes, 20 minutes, Mental Health Media. 1998. £74.95 or £44.95 if your organisation has ten or less full time employees.

Shafik's MAP A new MAPS training video. Shafik's MAP is an excellent resource for anyone involved in an holistic assessment of any individual. Produced by Inclusion Press and Parashoot. Available from Inclusion Distribution £35.

Pearpoint, Jack and Forest, Marsha PATH Video from Inclusion Press, 24 Thome Cres, Toronto, ONT, Canada M6H 2S5. Tel 416 658 5363. Fax 416 658 5067

Friendship: It's about time Produced by Vision TV and available from Inclusion Press. 27 minute video of Jack Pearpoint, Judith Snow and Marsha Forest talking about their friendship.

Dream Catchers Produced by the Institute on Disability, New Hampshire. New 16 minute video about dreams and circles of friends. Beautiful images, personal stories, images of the future. Available from Inclusion Press.

Friends of...Clubs Produced by the Oregon Dept of Education and University of Oregon. A beautiful 15 minute story about creating community partnerships. Friends, friends, friends - the spark of life. Available from Inclusion Press.

Together We're Better: A staff development kit for inclusion Forest, Marsha, Pearpoint, Jack and Snow, Judith. A set of 3 videos includes 2.5 hours in which Inclusion strategies, MAPS, PATH and Circles are introduced. Available from Inclusion Press US$185 plus shipping.

A New Way of Thinking (1988) Institute on Community Integration. 23 minutes. Features 5 individuals with developmental disabilities and how the new support paradigm affects their lives. It examines family support, supports for inclusive education and recreation, supported employment and supported community living.

Supported Community Living: The Midland Experience PPDD. 25 minutes. Describes the evolution of the widely recognised supported living services in Midland, Michigan.

Regular Lives 1988. Narrated by Martin Sheen. Scenes from school, work and home demonstrate that people with learning disabilities can live 'regular lives'. £47.50 from VIA.

Working Partners - a guide to the employment of people with mental health problems Produced by Mental Health Media.

Cultivating Community: Landmarks of the journey produced by the Centre for Aging Persons with Developmental Disabilities, Institute for the Study of Developmental Disabilities at Indiana Inclusion Resources List provided by 'Kids'

• Resources for children to read

Name/Details of Resource	Name of Author/Contact	ISBN Number – if applicable
Kids NDD Publications Accessible Play Environments: Getting Started DDA Briefing All of Us Inclusion Checklist for Settings Inclusion Framework for Local Authorities	Email pip@kids.org.uk Tel 020 7359 3073	Word document only Word document only 09526295 3 4 09526295 4 2
Pick and Mix – a selection of inclusive games	Di Murray From York Publishing Service Tel 01904 431213	0952629577
* Dave and the tooth fairy	Vernet Allet Wilkins via DEE booksales@diseed.org.uk - ask for a catalogue	1870516-13-3
* Letang & Julie Save the Day	Beverly Naidoo via DEE - booksales@diseed.org.uk - ask for a	05821255-8

University, The University affiliated Program of Indiana. Cheques payable to Indiana University. Tapes are $30.00 plus 15% postage and packing ($3.00 minimum). Send orders to Institute for the Study of Developmental Disabilities, Attention: Publications Department. 2853 East Tenth Street, Bloomington, IN 47408-2601 USA. Ask for UK style VHS, not US style. Tape runs for 22.22 minutes. In "Cultivating Community: Landmarks of the Journey" you will meet Mary, Jim, Ernie, Frank, Joe and Betty as they search for their community. This video describes the community building process as experienced by these six older adults with disabilities. With support from community builders, the individuals are shown discovering their interests and abilities, getting connected to activities and organisations in the community, taking on valued roles, and exploring social relationships.

Other Resources

<http://www.relationshipsfoundation.org/>

<http://www.collegeofdirectsupport.com/>

www.mike-green.org

<http://shift.org.uk/sport/sports-network.html>

Mental Health first aid at www.mhfa.com.au

Small Business and Self-Employment Service for People with Disabilities Looking for information, counseling and referrals about self-employment and small business ownership opportunities for people with disabilities? The Small Business and Self-Employment Service of the US Department of Labor Office of Disability Employment Policy offers assistance. Some of the benefits of self-employment or small business include working at home, control of your work schedule and the independence of making your own decisions. For more information:

<http://www.jan.wvu.edu/sbses/index.htm>

<http://www.inclusion-international.org/en/>

Sept 05

	catalogue
* Letang's New Friend	"	058212154x
*Trouble for Letang & Julie	"	058212156-6
Show Time	Alex Clarke via DEE	1-900928-28-0
*Seal Surfer	Michael Forman via DEE – out of print	0-09-972451-0
*Are We There Yet?	Verna Wilkins via info@letterboxlibrary.com
*Dad and Me in the Morning	Patricia Lakin via letterbox library	0807514195
*Mama Zooms	Jane Cowan – Fletcher via letter box library	059045775-6
Don't Call me Special	Pat Thomas	0-7641-2118-9
*Sleep - Overs	Jacqueline Wilson via www.books@transworld.co.uk/jacquelinewilson	038560181-6
*Friends at School	Rochdale Bunnett via letterbox library	1-88773401-5
*Play with Me – gives classmates a better understanding of children with autism	Isabel Cottinelli Telmo Via National Autism Society Tel 020 8498 7844 or email nas@nas.org.uk	1-899280-48-0
Deaf and Deaf Culture – many books and posters for children and young people For example *Lets Sign - *Lets Sign Early Years - *Washing Day a story with BSL signs and English - *Songs in Sign for Children- *Abbie & Zak's introduction to British Sign Language –	www.forestbooks.com Tel 01594 833 858 email; forest@forestbooks.com	Order a catalogue from forest Books
Deaf Friendly Nurseries & Pre Schools	A guide – The National Deaf Children's Society Email helpline@ndcs.org.uk helpline 0808 800 8880 (voice and text)	0 904691 64 0
*Young Children's Rights Poster Set	Save the Children - £6.00 set of 4 A2 posters	orders@international.com or Tel 01752202301 or ask for a catalogue
Making Connections Developing inclusive leisure in policy and practice	www.jrf.org.uk/bookshops or York Publishing Service Tel 01904 430033	1859351999
Disabled People in Britain & Discrimination	Colin Barnes	1-85065-127-2
UN Article – Children's Rights & Children's Play		0-9519013-11
Inclusion Poster set – (4 posters)	Playwork Partnerships email team@playwork.co.uk	01242 544 043
Many resources	Save the Children	Ask for a catalogue **
Index for Inclusion – Developing learning, participation and play in early years and childcare	Tony Booth and Mel Ainscow	inclusion.org.uk Tel 0117 328 4007
Making the Case for Play – Building Policies and Strategies for School – aged children	Issy Cole – Hamilton and Tim Gill Published by National Children's Bureau 020 7843 6000 www.ncb.org.uk	190099033-4
Thompson 'Can Do' play activities series	Games for 4 – 9 years by Dynamix Games for 10 – 14 years olds	186152-838-8 1-86152-839-6

Various Publications from	www.deafsign.com 01642 580505
Various Publications from	Tamarind Limited 020 8866 8808 – Tamarindbooks.co.uk email: catalogues@tamarindbooks.com
Education, Equality and Human Rights	Mike Cole	0-7507-0877-8
Changing our School, Promoting Positive Behaviour	Highfield school, Plymouth	From DEE
Creating Circle of Fiends	Colin Newton & Derek Wilson published by Inclusive Solutions Via DEE
UN Article	Children's Rights & Children's Play	0-9519013-1-1
Every Child UNICEF	The rights of children in words and pictures via DEE
On the right - KC the Bear – a game board for children's rights	Tel 01904 466220
The New Charter for Children's Play	Children's Play Council Email cpc@ncb.org.uk	1-899783-22-9
Take Ten for Play and Take Ten More – for Playwork level 2 & 3	Furzeham Graphics Tel 01803 857656 Email; ralph@stobart.co.uk
Makaton Pocket book of symbols	Via Forest Books
Videos
Makaton Nursery Rhymes Video	Sung by Dave Benson via Forest Books or WH Smith
Channel 4 learning	Count me in (Part 1 = The Big Picture; part ii = The Teachers; www.learning.channel4.com
Playwork Take one	Cheltenham & Gloucester College of Higher Education: www.playwork.co.uk
Including All Children	Parents For Inclusion: www.parentsforinclusion.org or Tel 02077357735
Inclusion Now – Magazines 4 times a year	Collaborated by DEE, Parents for Inclusion & The Alliance for Inclusive Education Via DEE
Kidscape	Bullying issues Tel 020 7730 3300

Peter Bates.

Tel 0410 439 677